The policy of the Coos Bay Times will be Republican in politics, with the independence of which President Roosevelt is the leading exponent.

Official Paper of Coos County.

PRESSING THE PRESS.

OUT HERE, AT THIS REMOTE sen-terminal of Coos Bay, the impression is taking ground that Brer' Harriman is rushing his press-bureau to distraction. He is in the spot-light with unflinching and extraordinary conspicuousness; and also, perhaps, a purpose peculiarly his own. We admit his claim to a certain limit of public interest and record; but we think the thing is being overdone by a heavy (and inspired) ratio. His every act, and word, and so far as may be, his every thought, is carried hot to the wires of the land and transmitted to the uttermost corners of the earth; each paltry pain, and grimace of pain; every laugh and frown and "kingly" humor of the man, is sent hurtling over the press wires, and columns of common-place matters are dished up for the delectation of the breakfasting and dining masses of the country, every 12 hours. It is getting a bit notable and somewhat ridiculous; and may verge on the latitude of a joke if it is not abated. Mr. Harriman is an important business figure in the commerce of the United States and should be given respectfully and rational prominence in the news of the hour; but he is not so blamed essential as to warrant the surflet now bearing on us. It begins to look as if he were contemplating a run for the Presidency! (He will never be all he ought to be until he bulds into this city.)

DIES OF TUBERCULOSIS.

S. H. Brown of Catching Inlet, Succumbs After Long Illness. S. H. Brown, a rancher on Catching Inlet, about seven miles from Marshfield, was buried yesterday afternoon. Brown had been ill for a long time from tuberculosis and succumbed late Saturday. He was about fifty years old and leaves a wife and five or six small children in rather destitute circumstances. The family came here from Washington two or three years ago.

NORTH BEND NEWS

Mrs. Kate Rood of North Bend Heights, ill at her home. A. P. May of Marshfield, transacted business here yesterday. Mr. and Mrs. R. Hunter are ill of the grippe at their home here. Miss Amanda Peterson of North Inlet, is visiting relatives here. Mrs. M. G. Cleaver, who has been ill the past few days, is now improving. J. V. Hodson of North Bend Heights has been quite ill the past week. Dale Mynatt will leave shortly for Seattle and expects to go from there to Alaska. Mrs. Oscar Ohman of North Inlet, is shopping and visiting relatives here today. C. A. Nollner, one of the tally men of the Simpson Lumber Company mills, is ill at his home here. Mrs. E. E. Hayes and daughter, Flossie, who have been spending a short time with relatives in Coquille, returned home yesterday. Miss Brona Jennings, a former teacher in the Eastside schools, is quite ill at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Schooler of Jennings Lodge.

WITH THE TOAST AND TEA

GOOD EVENING. The groves were God's first temples. Ere man learned To hew the shaft and lay the architrave And spread the roof above them—ere he framed The lofty vault to gather and roll back The round of anthems—in the darkling wood, Amidst the cool and silence, he knelt down And offered to the Mightiest solemn thanks and supplications. BRYANT.

WHEREIN THERE IS NO TRUST.

There is no trust in laughter; There is no combine here In mirth and merrymaking; No one has cornered cheer. No one has formed a merger To boost the price of ure; The price of real good nature Is not a costly one. There is no trust in twinkles To glisten in your eyes; No Harriman or Morgan Can e're monopolize The sunbeams in the morning That dance from skies above; Though they may corner railroads, They can not corner love. There is no trust in smiling; Go laughing on your way; The price of mirth and laughter Is one that all can pay. With twinkling eye, go loving, A joke for foes or friends; There is no trust in laughter; Right there the combine ends. ANON.

That taxes will increase every year seems to be as certain as death.

A man cannot convince you that he is cultured the first time he meets you, but many of them attempt it.

The empty back seat of a big automobile is one of the things that add to the discontent of the man on foot.

Look at ten Coos Bay women these days and the way seven of them wear their hair will make you laugh.

It is hoped that the increased tariff on lemons may act as a restraint on Harriman handling any more to Coos Bay.

NOT A CANDIDATE.

Editor Times: In your issue of April 5, in speaking of a probable change in the office of United States commissioner at this place, you state that it is said that J. M. Upton and myself are candidates for the appointment. Replying to this report of which I had not heard only through your paper, I wish to state that I have not been, am not now and will not be a candidate for the office mentioned. I would not accept the office if tendered me, which in view of the fact that I am not a candidate is not at all likely to occur. C. A. SEHLBREDE.

BAD SEASON FOR COLDS.

Colds and grip were quite prevalent last winter and Chamberlain's Cough Remedy was in great demand and performed some remarkable cures. Mrs. Mary J. Robinson of Cameron, W. Va., says: "Last winter I was taken with one of the awfullest colds I ever had in my life. I could not speak above a whisper and was very hoarse. I was afraid it was going to be pneumonia. I took one bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and in three days was lots better and could talk. I did not take but the one bottle and it cured me. I now tell everybody about Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and the good it did me." For sale by JOHN PREUSS.

Mr. F. G. Fritts, Oneonta, N. Y., writes: "My little girl was greatly benefited by taking Foley's Orino Laxative, and I think it is the best remedy for constipation and liver trouble." Foley's Orino Laxative is best for women and children, as it is mild, pleasant and effective, and is a splendid spring medicine, as it cleanses the system and clears the complexion.—RED CROSS PHARMACY, JOHN PREUSS, Prop.

How One Doctor Successfully Treats Pneumonia.

"In treating pneumonia," says Dr. W. J. Smith, of Sanders, Ala., "the only remedy I use for the lungs is Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. While of course I would treat other symptoms with different medicines, I have used this remedy many times in my medical practice and have yet failed to find a case where it has not controlled the trouble. I have used it myself as has also my wife for coughs and colds repeatedly, and I most willingly and cheerfully recommend it as superior to any other cough remedy to my knowledge." For sale by JOHN PREUSS.
