now filling the remainder of the triangle between Broadway and the bay south of Mill Slough, will soon be ready to fill in the low ground north of Mill Slough.

Boy Very Ill.—Phillip Lee, the young son of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Lee, who was injured in the bicycle collision with Carl Lattin, has suffered a relapse and is critically ill.

Has Appendicitis.—Mr. Rosenthal, a Berkeley real estate man who has been stopping at the Chandler, suffered a severe attack of appendicitis today.

Good Halibut Catch.—Peter Olson yesterday made one of the biggest catches of halibut of the season, bringing in more than a dozen that averaged over 120 pounds each. The indications are that larger catches will be made in the banks off the Bay this year than in any previous season.

Reception Tonight.—The farewell reception to be given tonight by the Ladies of the Catholic Church at the A. H. Powers home for the Rev. Father Donnelly, promises to be largely attended. It is a public affair, all friends of the retiring pastor regardless of sect being invited to attend.

Traveled Far Alone.—Miss Elsie Hagermeister arrived here Monday on the M. F. Plant from Germany to join her father who has charge of the Odd Fellow's block. Although unable to speak or understand a word of English, she did not encounter any difficulties on the long journey. She is an expert German stenographer.

Sends Best Wishes.—A wireless from Captain Parsons of the Alliance, late yesterday to Agent H. W. Skinner stated that they were having a fine trip up. He said that Charley Lee, who is en route to visit his mother and sister at Fairbury, Neb., was enjoying the trip and sent regards to his Marshfield friends.

Mission at North Bend.—The Rev. Father W. L. Polk, who has been conducting a mission at Bandon, will return from the Coquille Valley tomorrow and start the mission exercises at North Bend Friday evening. Rev. Father Curley, who has been in the Valley for the past ten days will return with him. The mission at North Bend will close Sunday evening.

Puts in Show Window.—George Goodrum is having a plate glass front and side put in his tog shop. When completed, it will give his store one of the best show windows in the city.

Meeting Friday Night.—The meeting at the Chamber of Commerce Friday night to discuss the Coos Bay-Boise Railroad project, will be largely attended by North Bend and Marshfield business men who are anxious to get the line started. Besides the report of the joint committee of the two Chambers of Commerce, a number of communications regarding the project will be read.

NORTH BEND NEWS

Mrs. R. W. Simpson is reported quite ill at her home.

The Wilhelmina arrived in late last evening from Bandon with a good cargo of freight.

Miss Dorothy Watson of Coos City, leaves today for a visit with her friend, Miss Ollie Richards of Sumner.

A raft of hemlock logs arrived at the Porter mill yesterday from the Vaughn & McDonald camp on Daniel's Creek.

Arthur Kerr came over to the Bay City mill to take back a pony which his sister Bessie will use for daily trips to business college in Coquille.

Dr. R. G. Gale and wife came down this morning from their Coos River home and will spend a day or so at the Eugene O'Connell home in Kittiville. They plan to move down permanently next week. Dr. Gale having fully recovered his health and now being able to resume his practice.

Owing to the similarity in the sounds of "F" and "S" over the telephone, the name of the chief engineer of the Sash and Door Factory who expired suddenly of apoplexy was given in The Times as "Sees" instead of "Fees." The funeral of Mr. Fees which was held yesterday afternoon was largely attended.

John Johnson, the San Francisco sailor who was taken from the Murr rooming house the other day suffering from lockjaw, was reported slightly improved at Mercy hospital today. Johnson does not want to take food and this making his recovery less rapid than it might otherwise be. The cause of his trouble is not known.

The North Bend Box Factory has not reopened yet owing to inability to secure a sufficient number of the old crew. Mr. Nicholas wants to get as many of the old hands as possible, the experienced men being able to do better work than a green force. It was stated this morning that the factory might not open until next Monday morning, but that it would resume operations then sure.

Mrs. James Blomquist who lives near the Montana avenue bridge and who knows Mrs. Breta Stone, the North Bend woman who has been strangely missing since Friday, says that she saw Mrs. Stone start across the bridge Friday afternoon. The bridge crosses Pony Inlet, and Mrs. Stone evidently made a mistake in the road to Marshfield. There are some openings in the bridge and Mrs. Stone might have accidentally fallen through one of them, her eyesight not being very good. Mrs. Stone had been living with her daughter Mrs. Tyberg here but another daughter, Mrs. James Thomas, resides at Porter.

At a meeting of the Coos Bay Yacht Club at the office of Dr. Bartle last evening, Anson Rogers of Coos River was elected vice-commander in place of Neal Banks who has gone to Eureka for the summer. The membership roll has increased to thirty-two. A penant was adopted, the color scheme being blue next to the halyard with a red tip and white bar between. In the blue will be the letter "C" and in the red the letter "B." The club is now figuring on the houseboat, a deal being practically closed for one near Ferndale which will be about midway between North Bend and Marshfield. The next meeting of the club will be held in Marshfield two weeks from last night.
