

BIG PAINTING OF ALASKA DOME

PANORAMA 150x40 FEET SHOWING LIFE IN FAR NORTH ON EXHIBITION AT SEATTLE FAIR—WONDERFUL ELECTRICAL EFFECTS PRODUCED.

SEATTLE, Wash., June 3.—The finest example of exploitation by means of the panorama is exemplified in the exhibit of the territory of Alaska at the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition. The enormous painting has been executed under direction of the United States Government and is the work of Messrs. Gates and Morango of New York. The scenes and local coloring occupied more than a year in gathering.

The panorama is 150 by 40 feet in dimensions, and its perspective and general coloring are startlingly perfect. It shows mining operations being conducted in all branches, and the scenes of hydraulic and placer gold workings, fishing, lumbering, hunting and agriculture and every instructive feature of the territory are brought close at hand.

The fore ground leading to the edge of the painting is made up of real earth and rocks, and where this gives way to the canvas, a diminutive miners cabin is built. The lighting effects are skillfully arranged, and fourteen clusters are lights show the panorama to the best advantage. These are controlled by mechanism so arranged, that the four effects of dawn, noon, sunset and night are produced. Each of these periods are of five minutes duration, and the passing of early morn into midday, then to twilight and this followed by the wondrous coloring of far northern mid-night, is beautiful and charming in the extreme.

Dead Letter Exhibit.

In the Postoffice Exhibit of the United States government at the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition are a dozen or so cases devoted to the Dead Letter Office, and here are to be seen the most curious objects in all the thousands upon thousands that have been misaddressed, insufficiently stamped, or, as in many cases, not directed at all.

Here are several hundred revolvers, derringers, pump guns, dueling pistols and all calibre small arms. Knives, stilettos, machetes and dirks are piled in heaps. Several infernal machines are on show. Knickknacks, photos, curios, and hundreds of such articles are displayed. A petrified plum pudding and a loaf of bread some 40 years old are in ironical proximity to a dozen or more sets of false teeth, while slung-shots repose suggestively close to unclaimed watches and jewelry.

A watch in battered sections explains its condition by a placard informing the curious that a train ran over the time-piece. A scalp of feminine hair suggests the wild west in its days of savagery. A mail bag, inscribed in Egyptian and bearing the date of 1,280 tells the story of how a valuable relic of an early postal service was carelessly lost in the twentieth century; and the postage due stamps—amounting to $1.20—that were on a package, which when opened, contained the body of a dead infant, give clue to a police mystery that was never solved.

AT THE THEATRE.

Mrs. Rose Courten-Read, the Portland contralto who will appear at the Chaminade Club concert at the Masonic, Friday evening, June 4, recently gave a recital at Baker City. Concerning her appearance there, the Baker City Herald says: "Another success was added to the long list already to the credit of the Alpha Literary Club, in the song recital given by Mrs. Walter Reed at Baker theatre. Mrs. Reed's singing is of a quality well-known to western lovers of music and little may be said which has not been repeated oftentimes, of her beautiful contralto voice, its wonderful range and marvelous qualities. It is safe to say that never before has Mrs. Reed given so successful a recital for it is a well-known fact that any singer depends to a large extent upon her accompanist. Mrs. Thomas Carrick Burke played the accompaniments and the skill with which she performs upon the piano is beyond description. The audience was one of the most appreciative ever gathered in Baker and floral tribute such as might be the envy of any queen were bestowed."

TRIES TO SELL VICTIM'S TEETH

LENNOX, Iowa, June 3.—Because he tried to sell a set of false teeth belonging to James Terry, who was supposed to have been the victim of a bad runaway, Richard Carr, a stranger, faced a charge that he slugged Terry, robbed him and left him at the mercy of the runaway team.

Carr was seen riding with Terry shortly before the accident. Terry had overtaken Carr on the road and the latter had asked and been allowed to ride. Terry is still in a bad condition.
