CALHOUN JURY DISAGREES ON FIRST BRIBERY CHARGE TRIAL

Dismissed Standing Ten For Acquittal and Two For Conviction.

TRIAL ON ANOTHER INDICTMENT MONDAY

Defense Tries to Oust Prosecutor Heney From the Next Trial.

(By Associated Press.) SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., June 21. The jury in the case of Patrick Calhoun, president of the United Railways, who was charged with bribery, yesterday reported a disagreement. The vote stood ten for acquittal and two for conviction. The jury was dismissed. At request of the attorneys for Patrick Calhoun, president of the United Railroads, whose first trial ended yesterday in a disagreement, one of the remaining indictments against him was set for trial next Monday. The indictment selected was the one alleging the offer of a bribe to former Superintendent John J. Furey and is similar to the one upon which Abraham Ruef was sentenced to fourteen years in the penitentiary. It was announced that the defense will move to set aside the indictment on the ground that Prosecutor Heney is disqualified because he retains the appointment as assistant to the attorney general of the United States.

SPRINGS LEAK NEAR THE BAR

Tug Roscoe Narrowly Escapes Serious Difficulty With Tow Saturday.

The tug Roscoe coming from the Sinaloa with the schooner Hugh Hogan in tow late Saturday sprung a leak in her boilers as she neared Coos Bay and for a time it was feared that she might have serious trouble. That the tug and her tow did not get in serious trouble was probably due to the fact that she halted at a safe distance outside to prepare for the trip in. During this brief stop, the leak in her boilers was discovered and the schooner taken far enough to anchor safely. Then the Roscoe came in under light steam. As soon as she got in, arrangements were made whereby Capt. Magee towed the Hugh Hogan in with the Columbia.

Yesterday, the boilers of the Roscoe were given an overhauling at North Bend and the leak repaired so that she was able to start on the return trip without further delay. Another schooner is lying in the northern port waiting for the Roscoe to tow her out.

Other Vessels In. The Nann Smith is due in this afternoon from Bay Point and will load with lumber at the C. A. Smith mill. The Mayfair arrived in yesterday and is loading at the C. A. Smith mill.

COQUILLE 3; MARSHFIELD 5

Visitors and Home Fans Given a Surprise in Result of Sunday's Game.

By a score of five to three, Marshfield defeated Coquille yesterday and surprised the home fans about as much as they did the visitors. The game was a fairly good one from start to finish.

The feature of the game was the playing of "Mickey" McKeown. Four hits out of four times to bat—three of them absolutely clean—and two stellar catches in center, his only chances, were his record. As Marshfield got only four hits off Gardiner, "Mickey's" performance stood out all the more in the game. Gardiner got fourteen strike outs but several wild pitches cost him the game. Among the fans, some attributed the passed balls more to Catcher Flanagan than to Gardiner. While Flanagan was able to get his mitt against some of them, most of them were beyond his reach and could hardly be counted as errors against him.

Meller, a new twirler that Manager Burkhardt picked up in the North last week, showed up well in the latter part of the game. During the last few innings, he appeared to round into shape and pitched better and fielded himself better than he showed up early in the game.

Coquille scored its only runs in the fourth and fifth innings. In the fourth, Kelley was up and flew out to Thompson. Porterfield singled and went to third on a hit by Flanagan. Porterfield and Flanagan scored on Meller's error on a hit by Gardiner who landed safe on first. Collier got a base on balls and Gardiner was caught trying to steal home. Howell got first on Merchant's fumbling a grounder but was later caught on second by Meller. In the fifth, Johnson singled and Lorenz followed with a safe one, pushing Johnson around to third. Meller failed to connect with an easy one from McBride and Johnson scored. Kelley got to first on an error by Thompson but Lorenz was caught at the plate. Porterfield went out and Flanagan fanned.

Marshfield scored in the fourth, fifth and eighth. In the fourth, McKeown started with a single and stole second. Nicholls struck out. Thompson walked and so did Meller. Merchant sacrificed, bringing McKeown in. Thompson scored on a passed ball or rather a wild throw by Gardiner and McDonald struck out. In the fifth, McCutcheon went out, Johnson to Lorenz. Troch walked. Monohan was thrown out at first by Porterfield. McKeown hit safe, bringing Troch in. Nicholls reached first on Kelley's error and McKeown was caught trying to steal third.

In the eighth, McKeown hit safe over first. The play was close and Gardiner spiked McKeown while trying to cover the first bag. Cowan took McKeown's place and stole second, scoring on a wild third strike which landed Nicholls safe on first. Gardiner attempted to cover the home plate and grew irate at some action of Cowan's in coming home. In fact, Mr. Gardiner became so angry that he wanted to fight but Marshal Carter wouldn't stand for the latter. However, he got pretty wild and Nicholls scored easily on a passed ball. Thompson and Meller struck out and Merchant hit an easy grass cutter to Kelley.

The long hit of the day was made by Flanagan in the seventh but availed him nothing. Kelley and Porterfield had gone out on easy ones into Meller's hands. Then Flanagan landed it away out in left field. On

BOURNE IS WITH PRESIDENT TAFT

Oregon Senators Among Supporters of Executive's Plans For a Corporation Tax to Provide Nation's Revenue.

(By Associated Press.) WASHINGTON, D. C., June 21.—Senator Bourne is among the republicans who gave unconditional support to President Taft in his efforts to obtain an income tax amendment to the constitution and amendment to the tariff bill imposing a tax on the net earnings of corporations. Speaking today of the movement Senator Bourne said "This is the psychological moment for the adoption of a great reform in revenue raising and corporation control and the proposed provision properly drawn must insure publicity to the government, at least as to all corporation earnings and thus eliminate any future possibility of concealed equity. Corporations would be popularized and the tendencies toward socialism would be minimized."

RAPID WORK ON THE SURVEY

Irving Chandler Returns From a Visit at Headquarters in Camas Valley.

Irving Chandler returned today from a few days visit at the camp of Chief Engineer Haines in Camas Valley. Mr. Chandler says they are doing excellent work and getting over the ground rapidly. The work will soon begin on the final survey, the preliminary work having practically been completed through the pass. There is no question now but that they will have the one per cent grade.

Chief Engineer Haines expects to be able to return here about the first of the month for a conference with the officers and directors of the road relative to the survey for the balance of the line, which will be easy aside, perhaps from securing right of way at reasonable terms.

Messrs. Butler, Grimes and Painter of the surveying party expect to come in to spend the Fourth of July at their homes in Marshfield.

KILLING TODAY AT PORTLAND

Contractor Shoots Employee Suspected of Estranging Wife.

(By Associated Press.) PORTLAND, Ore., June 21.—Richard T. Dickerson, a grade and stone contractor, today fired five bullets into the body of Henry Garrett, one of his employes, because he suspected the latter of having brought about the estrangement between himself and his wife, who left him three weeks ago and went to live with her parents, preparatory to suing for a divorce. They were divorced once before but were remarried early this year. Dickerson met Garrett in front of his barn and chided him about having been with Mrs. Dickerson yesterday. Garrett laughed at Dickerson, who became enraged, drew a revolver from which he fired five shots into Garrett's body. Dickerson telephoned the authorities and drove into town and surrendered to the sheriff.

FIRST FOURTH ACCIDENT HERE

Jack Hanlon Has Box of Toy Pistol Caps Explode in His Pocket.

"Jack" Hanlon, the ten-year-old son of the proprietor of the Coos hotel was the victim of the first Fourth of July accident on Coos Bay. That he was not seriously injured is due probably to his cool-headedness at a trying moment.

With some companions about the same age, he started his celebration of the nation's natal day a couple of weeks early. Yesterday he had a toy pistol and a box of caps and was firing at a rate that would have made the Minute men at Bunker Hill jealous. Suddenly Jack heard a popping near his rear hip pocket where he was carrying his box of fresh caps. He reached around to get more for his gun and then something exploded. His hand felt as though he had stuck it into a red hot fire and the paste board box and overalls were soon burning.

The rest of the story was probably best told by Jack to his mother when he reached home. He said, "Mamma: I didn't want my new overalls to burn so I pulled them off and with the other boys we soon had the fire tramped out." Jack's hand was pretty badly burned and blistered but the injury is not a serious one.

Physicians say the young woman is in a critical condition.

CHINAMAN WANTED FOR MURDER OF MISS SIGEL IS CAPTURED

C. A. SMITH ON REFORESTRATION

Lumberman Tells of His General Plans For Work in This Section.

The reforestation plans of C. A. Smith Lumber and Manufacturing Company for their big holdings in this section will probably be announced in detail next month when Mr. Smith comes to Coos Bay to confer with Messrs. Lafon and Lagerstrom, the forestry experts, who are now inspecting the lands and familiarizing themselves with conditions here. The plans of the company are attracting national attention in lumber and timber circles as the work will probably be carried on a greater scale here than has been attempted any place by a private concern heretofore.

The Oregon Conservation Association whose object is the conservation of the natural resources of the state has just issued in a pamphlet form a letter from C. A. Smith in which he tells of his hopes for the work. In it, he says:

"We are in receipt of your favor of the 6th, addressed to our Oregon branch. They very properly forwarded the same to this office and we are very glad to be advised that there is a movement on foot for the conservation of the Oregon resources. We are vitally interested in the State of Oregon and would like to be represented in this movement with you. If a membership in your association is possible we should like to make application. In any case, we want the public-spirited citizens in the state of Oregon to know that we are heartily with you in the conservation movement. We have mills at Marshfield, Oregon, and Bay Point, California, although our head office is still located here at Minneapolis. We personally hold about three hundred thousand acres of timber land in your state and nearly the same amount in other states. Our first Western manufacturing plant, however, was at Marshfield, and therefore we are more actively engaged in this business in Oregon than in any other state with the exception of Minnesota. Our timber will all be cut here within the next two years, and after that time all our energies will be centered on the Pacific Coast. It was never possible for us to conserve our timber in Minnesota, owing to the methods of taxation here. The taxes on standing timber have the last number of years been so exorbitant that it was necessary for the lumbermen to remove all the growth from the land in order to get anything out of it. This having been the case, several years ago we disposed of all our lands in Minnesota, only reserving the timber. We have, however, for years been advocates of the principle of reforestation and resolved on beginning our operations in Oregon to carry out the ideals we had set for ourselves. We have studied the matter thoroughly; are conversant with the efforts in this direction in this country; know from personal observation what Dr. Schenck has done at Biltmore, North Carolina, in this line; what the state of New York is doing in the Adirondacks and what the states of Massachusetts and Pennsylvania are doing within their boundaries on a small scale. We know of many sporadic attempts for reforestation undertaken by lumbermen. We know of none who have continued, either for lack of enthusiasm or lack of competent advice on the subject. However, we feel that we are competent to undertake this matter, and to that end we had the United States government look over our Coos, Curry and Douglas county holdings last year. They advised us that refore-
