Holiday Monday.—As the Fourth of July falls on Sunday this year, Monday will be a legal holiday. The fact that the celebration will be held here Saturday will mean three holidays in succession for some.

Has New Son.—There's some new music in the home of George Ayre. It proceeds from a brand new bouncing baby boy that arrived at the Ayre home yesterday. Mother and child are doing well and George is as proud as a band master.

Drill For Oil.—Plans are being made to make a complete test of the indications of oil around Coos Bay. It is stated that if the plans materialize, the wells will be drilled to a depth that will definitely determine whether or not there is oil here in paying quantities.

Court Next Week.—Judge Hall will hold the monthly session of county court at Coquille next Tuesday, Monday being a legal holiday. The Coos county commissioners will hold their regular quarterly session on Wednesday when road and bridge matters and bills will be taken up.

May Retire.—Capt. Magee of the tug Columbia, is said to be seriously considering retiring from active service. He feels that he has served about long enough to be entitled to a few years of quiet and ease. However, he is loathe to give up the Columbia and may postpone action for an indefinite time.

Breaks Auto.—Tommy Castle tried to turn the corner from Second street into Curtis avenue yesterday while going at a fast clip. A rear axle of his car snapped and considerable damage was done to the machine. He succeeded in repairing it yesterday. That the accident was not worse was a marvel to those who witnessed it.

Will Leave Here.—J. A. Thompson, No. 1 member of the Coos Bay Life Saving crew, has resigned and will shortly move to Blodgett, a small town near Corvallis, where he will engage in the mercantile business. He has been stationed here several years and has been a highly efficient member of the service but was compelled to change his work on account of his health.

Perham Gets Job.—At a special meeting of the city council Monday night, E. G. Perham of Marshfield, was awarded the contract, on competitive bidding, for the construction of a new bridge over Deer Creek, to displace the present wooden structure on Jackson street. Mr. Perham's bid was $4,875. In addition, Mr. Perham secured the contract for building the approach to the north side of the bridge. For this, his bid was $395. No changes were made in the plans, which were originated by Mr. Perham and adopted at a meeting of the council a week ago.—Roseburg Review.

Will Wed.—Announcement is made of the marriage of Nelson Hanson and Miss Myrtle Boone, daughter of Captain and Mrs. A. D. Boone of Sumner, and a sister of Mrs. Wm. Kardell of Marshfield, which will be solemnized at the home of the bride's parents this week.
