AN APPEAL.

Backward, turn backward oh Time in your flight
Give us a maid with her own hair in sight.
Give us some handsome and sensible girls
Not walking masses of puffs and of curls.

We are so weary of ringlets and rats,
Pompadours filling up peach basket hats,
Marcelles and love locks and switches and things
Held on by hammock hooks, guy ropes and strings.

Grandma come back from the echoless shore
Take back your hair please and wear it once more.
Why did you leave it on earth years ago?
It looks so silly on Ethel and Chloe.

THE DEGREE OF civilization to which a nation has attained may be pretty accurately determined by the status of its women.

Among savages, the woman was a beast of burden.

The woman of Hindocstan used to drown their female infants in the Ganges.

In some old-world countries even in this day woman is regarded as a helpmate in only the most menial sense.

In America woman has reached her most exalted sphere and it seems strange therefore, that in this country, she has filed the most protests. Ingersoll, whose soul was always attuned to love and sympathy for woman, declared:

"She has all the rights I have and one more, and that is the right to be protected. That is my doctrine." That was the doctrine of a man who symbolized in his domestic life the highest ideals of our best civilization.

Yet there are men today by the millions who delight to class themselves as woman's superior. And such men are generally of the very inferior grade.

We are evolving, but we have not yet evolved.

We are, however, a long way ahead of the days when St. Chrysostom described woman as "a necessary evil, a natural temptation, a domestic peril."

The Puritan idea of woman is admirably expressed by the Rev. Nathaniel Ward, that fine old specimen of the intolerant age in which he lived, when he refers to his wife as his "yoke-mate."

Imagine Sebastian Bach speaking thus of his wives, who were his helpmates in the best sense.

Imagine Browning regarding his gifted partner, who was his inspiration, as a yoke-mate—an ox!

The mother and the wife of Pythagoras of towering intellectual personality. The ignorant Chinaman of her day, no doubt, regarded her as his inferior.

The mothe rand the wife of Pythagoras both contributed much to the fame of "the teacher of teachers."

There have been few greater mathematical minds than that of Maria Agnesi.

It was Hypatia, a woman, whom the monks malmed and killed because of their jealousy of her great wisdom.

All the keys to knowledge are not in the keeping of the men, says an exchange. What man among us would dare set himself up as a superior in all the qualities of character to Maria Theresa, "an honor to her sex and the glory of her throne?"

It was a woman at the head of the army of France that defeated the English at Orleans.

It was a woman whose book was the "bone and sinew" of Lincoln's great emancipation policy.

Compare the reign of Victoria with seven-eighths of her royal predecessors. The comparison is not favorable to the men who have worn the British crown.

It was a woman—and an American—who discovered Herbert Spencer, and insisted upon the recognition of that "imperial genius," as Skilton calls him.

The story would require a thousand chapters were it told in full.

We no longer regard woman as "a necessary evil."

Eye was a revised and improved edition of Adam.

Mrs. John S. Coke and Miss Evelyn Anderson entertained Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Coke in honor of Mrs. J. E. Oren who will leave on Tuesday next for her old home in Minneapolis. Freidberg, Mrs. Otto Schetter; Misses Stella O'Connell, Alice Butler, Anne Flanagan, Nellie Tower, Berenice Platt, Miss Helen Bradley. Prizes, a pottery dish of growing ferns and a brass cornucopia of autumn leaves were won by Mrs. E. Mingus and Mrs. Oren. Souvenirs of the occasion were post card photographs of the bungalow which has been christened Deer Lodge.

Mrs. Ernest Pollexfen is visiting Mrs. W. S. Chandler at the Chandler bungalow on Coos River.

Mrs. F. K. Gettins entertained Friday with a luncheon for Mrs. Stienor of Salem, who is visiting her mother, Mrs. L. M. Perry of North Bend. Those invited to meet Mrs. Stienor were: Mrs. G. W. Kauffman, Mrs. J. T. Sullivan, Mrs. John Preuss, Mrs. T. Russell of Beaver Hill, Mrs. Dorsey Kreitzer, Mrs. M. C. Maloney, Miss Evelyn Anderson, Miss Sanderson, Miss Agnes Hutchison, Miss Nellie Tower, Miss Mamie Mahoney.

Miss Helen Chandler, who is visiting now in Portland, writes that she expects to leave for Seattle soon. From there she will go to Victoria before her return to Marshfield which will be about the middle of August.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Virgil Pugh of Empire, are at Dreme Lodge, Major Tower's camp, on South Coos River.

Mrs. John Preuss has returned from a sojourn at the Merchant ranch at Bullard's down the coast.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Sullivan expect to leave soon for California where they will visit in San Francisco and at Mrs. Sullivan's old home.

Mrs. C. J. Mills gave a launch party yesterday to the hatchery. The private launch Beaver carried the following invited guests: T. C. Russell and wife, Mrs. L. W. Traver, Mrs. M. A. Sweetman, Mrs. Morris, Mrs. Gage, Mrs. Kelly, Mrs. McCray, Miss Mab'e Clare Mills, Miss Lewis of Portland, and Henry Shire of New York, a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Mills. A fine lunch was served under the primeval trees on the old pioneer Wm. McKnight's place.

G. E. Adelsperger and bride arrived in Myrtle Point Saturday and were met at the train by a gaily decorated carriage provided by Mr. (Continued on page 8.)

TO THE CITIZENS OF MARSHFIELD AND VICINITY

In announcing to you the opening of this new handsomely appointed "Hotel Seward," at Portland, Oregon, I wish to most respectfully solicit your patronage, assuring you the same courteous treatment from myself and associates that I have endeavored to extend to you during the years past while with The Portland and Cornelius hotels of this city.

The "Hotel Seward" is very elaborate as to structure, equipment and furnishings, while our prices will not be in excess of other hotels. Situated as it is on the corner of Tenth and Alder streets, one block from the Arlington Club; also directly across the street from the main entrance of Olds, Wortman & King's mammoth department store now under construction; also a block away from the noisy clanging street cars, and being within easy reach of all theatres and shopping district makes it an ideal location.

The office will be in charge of Mr. Allan A. Wright who for the past 15 years was Chief Clerk at the Portland Hotel.

We have a most excellent cafe in connection at moderate prices thereby affording your wives and daughters the opportunity of getting all their meals without dressing for the street. You will find the "Hotel Seward" omnibus at the station with a most courteous man in charge.

Trusting I may have the pleasure of your patronage at the "Hotel Seward," I am,
Yours truly,
NATHANIEL K. CLARKE,
Manager.
