Raise Building.—The Odd Fellows hall on North Front street, has been raised to the new grade preparatory to North Front street being paved with bituminous rock.

Build Soon.—It is announced that the new building to be erected on Front street near Central avenue will be a one-story structure instead of two stories. Work will probably begin next week.

Carranza Coming.—John Herron expects Lupie Carranza and his brother, "Beans," here on the next plant. Lupie will have his brother as his trainer for the next bout with Al Neill which may be pulled off the last of August.

Postpones Hearing.—A meeting of the creditors of Contracto Stewart of North Bend, who recently filed a petition in bankruptcy, was to have been held in the office of Judge Schlabre this morning but none of them appeared, the meeting was adjourned one week.

May Go South.—Members of the Coos County League ball teams are arranging to organize a nine and go to Humboldt bay and play the crack teams of Eureka, Fortuna and other clubs in that section. The preliminaries have not been completed yet but soon will be. They probably won't go for at least two weeks.

Gets Coos Hotel.—I. C. Irby, who has been day clerk at the Blanco hotel for several months and who quit last Sunday intending to go to Garfield, Wash., to take charge of the Carter hotel there, has changed his mind and will take the management of the Coos hotel here. He took charge of the Coos hotel today.

Start Night Shift.—Capt. Peters of the dredge Oregon expects to start the double shift on the dredge Oregon next Saturday or Sunday night and will continue the double shift until the present project is completed which will be within about six weeks. Unless something is done meanwhile to change the plans of the United States Engineering Department, the dredge may be taken away from Coos Bay then to some other Oregon or Washington harbor for which a government appropriation has been made.

Salmon Bake.—A large number of young people will enjoy a salmon bake at Enegren's Grove on South Coos River this evening.

Play at Coquille Sunday.—The Marshfield baseball team will go to Coquille Sunday, Coquille playing a double header with Marshfield and Myrtle Point. If Monohan who left the first of the week does not return, Jack Snyder may be pressed into service as a first baseman. There will probably be a good crowd to accompany the excursion.

New Councilmen.—Arthur Vineyard has been named as councilman in Eastside to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Rollin Wooley who has gone to North Dakota for the summer. E. A. Stonecypher who is planning an extended eastern trip, also resigned as a member of the Eastside council and George Downing was named to succeed him.

Mrs. Ames Insane.—Mrs. A. H. Ames, the North Bend woman whose actions have caused much comment, was declared insane yesterday afternoon by Dr. Golden, Dr. Mingus and Judge Hall and will be sent to the state hospital at Salem. She was brought down by Marshal Caffrey, of North Bend, who after investigating the case fully, decided that unless something was done Mrs. Ames would seriously injure herself or others.

May Settle.—It was stated today that it was likely that a settlement between Major L. D. Kinney, F. B. Waite and Mr. Kollock will be effected before the latter two leave for Portland tomorrow. Major Kinney claims to have paid them practically the entire $90,000 which he was indebted to the trust company of which Mr. Kollock is trustee. Mr. Kollock went to Coquille today to straighten out the tax claims against the property.

Prosper Couple Weds.—Thomas G. Hicking and Miss Eva A. Goodman, both of Prosper, were married at the Methodist Episcopal parsonage after the Prayer meeting last evening by the Rev. H. I. Rutledge. They are well-known by the Coquille Valley people and will leave on the Breakwater tomorrow for a honeymoon trip to Seattle and other points. They will reside at Prosper. The Times joins their many friends in wishing them a happy married life.

Tom Harvey Knew Victim.—A terrible tragedy in the Southern Oregon Caves in which Frank Ellis a young druggist of Grant's Pass was accidentally shot and killed, was of great personal interest to Tom Harvey of Going & Harvey. The dead man and his wife were intimate personal friends of Mr. Harvey and his wife and the tragic event comes home with shocking force to them. There is added pathos in the tragedy as Mr. Ellis leaves a bride of only a few months who was with him when the accident occurred and the shock of it has nearly made her crazy.

Missing Man Was Here.—Marshal Caffrey of North Bend, and Marshal Carter of Marshfield, have received several letters from Mrs. E. J. Porteous of Grants Pass inquiring about her husband, the Grants Pass photographer and mining man who disappeared mysteriously a few months ago. Mrs. Porteous also wanted to know about an Edith King who was supposed to be on the Bay. Marshal Caffrey said today that he had ascertained that Porteous was here sometime ago and that he met Edith King who moved from Grants Pass to North Bend with her mother, sister and two brothers several months ago. Edith King has also disappeared and her folks do not know where she is, Marshal Caffrey received a letter stating that a North Bend party had seen Porteous and Edith King in Seattle. This information has been sent to Mrs. Porteous by Marshals Carter and Caffrey.

LITTLE TALKS ABOUT TOWN

A GRIST OF COOS BAY GOS-SIP GATHERED HERE AND THERE ABOUT THINGS OF PASSING INTEREST.

"David Morse, who died the other day at Empire, was the first county clerk that Coos county had," remarked Tom Hall to Was First day. "He was running a small store at County Empire when the position was created here and was easily elected. The court house was then located at Empire. The pioneers are rapidly passing away and it won't be long before all the residents of this section during the 60s will have passed to the Great Beyond."

"A fellow from San Francisco told me the other day that the North Bend fortune teller who fell off the launch and died of Was From apoplexy while returning from a meeting of the Owls here a few months ago was a member of a wealthy Denver family," remarked Chas. Hunter of the O. K. Barber shop today. "He said that a brother was a priest in Denver and that the dead man once owned a block in Denver that was worth $30,000 and had other property."

"Herbert Lockhart was telling me something the other day that coincided with my view about building a city," remarked Dor-Cities Due sey Kreitzer today. "Mr. Lockhart has been on an extended tour through the northwest, traveling as far east as Wyoming. He visited many good towns or cities and after investigating them fully came to the conclusion that the only reason on earth why those cities should be located where they are was the energies and efforts of the citizens—in other words he decided that a number of men with some money and the proper energy can build a city almost anywhere. Many of the cities of the interior of what is known as the Pacific Northwest have no particular natural resources behind them. Localities of a certain size or population need a central city and what that central city depends on is the getup and energy of the residents of anyone of the towns. With this condition being absolutely true and the fact that Coos Bay has so many great resources behind it, think of the great opportunity of the people here to get together and build a metropolis. It can be done with but a small part of the effort that it has required to build such cities as Boise."

WALTER LYON WALKS OVER COOS BAY ROAD

Was Surprised by Extensive Improvements being made in Old Wagon Road to Roseburg.

Walter Lyon arrived here last evening after walking from Roseburg to Sumner in a little over a day. He says that the work that is being done on the road was a revelation to him. He declares that before another year elapses, the Coos Bay wagon road will be converted into one of the finest auto roads in the state. The sharp curves are being eliminated and the heavy grades reduced to a maximum. The big grade on the mountain where they thought that sixteen inches raise to the road would be the best they could do, has been reduced to nine inches to the road. Mr. Lyon says people along the route are enthusiastic and determined to tax themselves to the limit next year to improve the road.

"There is great interest on the outside over the coming Oregon-Idaho Development Congress on Coos Bay and many of the most prominent boosters of the state will be here," said Mr. Lyon.

THE RITA will leave Marshfield SUNDAY MORNING at 8 a. m. for CHARLESTON Bay, calling at North Bend and Empire. Fare 50 cents round trip.
