BIRTHS.

FARLEY—To Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Farley at their home in Eastside, September 20, a daughter. Mother and child are doing well and father is as proud as a discoverer of the North Pole.

Loses Big Fish.—Jas Cowan was one of the few successful fishermen on South Coos River Sunday. He brought back a couple of fine ones and says he lost some big ones by having poor leaders.

Get More Venison.—Chas Hickox and Edgar Mauzey added a little more venison to their larders Sunday by getting a fine buck across the bay. Chris Peterson also got a large buck in the North Inlet section Sunday.

No Carnival.—G. W. Carleton, who has been an active advocate of the proposed carnival here the first week in October, announced today that the plan had been given up. He said that it was impossible to get the various ones to take hold of it like they should to make it a big success and the few who were willing to give their time to it did not feel like shouldering all the work and financial responsibility.

Kruse Not So Well.—Fred Kruse, the Smith-Powers Logging Company employe who was injured on the Isthmus Inlet road Saturday, was reported this morning as not resting as easy. He was in considerable pain and it is feared that it may develop that he sustained internal injuries.

Dr. Geo. E. Dix, who is attending Mr. Kruse, reported this afternoon that the patient was much better and getting along nicely.

May Revoke Parole.—F. A. Gordon, the piano salesman who is out on parole under a two years sentenced recently imposed at Coquille by Judge Coke for embezzling funds of the Sherman & Clay Piano Company of Portland while acting as their representative here, is reported to have gone wrong at Crescent City, Cal. The matter has been reported to Judge Coke and he will investigate the report and may order him sent to the state penitentiary to serve his term.

Injures Hand.—George Baines is nursing a sore hand today as a result of trying to save a box of pears belonging to an unknown party. The box was at his boat landing on Coal Bank Slough and he lifted it up to a safe spot and in putting it down, ran a nail that was projecting from a corner of the box far into his hand.

Even Lost the Rat.—E. S. Bargelt and J. T. Harrigan returned yesterday from their Coos River trip without any game. Sunday night, a large wood rat began bothering them and E. S. got hold of his gun and succeeded in hitting it. Mr. Harrigan got up and with a stick of stove wood landed a few times on the rodent, being determined to kill it. The rat was an unusually large one and they thought to at least have it to bring back but when they arose in the morning, they found the rodent had recovered and escaped.

MRS. O'KELLY, who is at the Mercy hospital in North Bend, with a severe attack of rheumatism, is reported somewhat improved today.

PEARS BRING GOOD PRICE.

Umpqua Valley Orchardists Get $2.25 A Box.

ROSEBURG, Ore., Sept. 21. — With a banner, 25 feet long, bearing the words "Umpqua Valley Pears, shipped by the W. C. Harding Land Company," a carload of D'Anjou and Clargene pears left Roseburg for New York City, whence they have been consigned by Page & Son, the Portland commission firm. The fruit was raised by Dr. Geo. A. Bradburn, on his Edebowyer orchard. The shipment comprised 600 boxes, for which Mr. Bradburn received $1,485, or $2.25 per box. So far as known this is the highest price ever paid the grower for Umpqua Valley pears, and higher than Rogue River Valley is said to have received so far this season.
