CAPT. LEVI SNYDER AND CREW ARE SAVED BY LIGHTSHIP

List of Victims of Argo Disaster Reduced By Providence Intervening.

LIFE BOATS DRIFTS NEAR LIGHT SHIP

Severe Storm Prevents Them Being Brought In From Vessel.

(By Associated Press.) ASTORIA, Ore., Nov. 30.—Capt. Levi Snyder and nine survivors of the wrecked Argo on Tillamook beach last week, arrived here today on the lighthouse tender Manzanita from the Columbia lightship where they took the refugees early Saturday morning. Coincident with the arrival of the survivors in this port were rumors that the official investigation trial will produce a sensation.

Captain Levi Snyder, formerly of the Coquille, and eight others shipwrecked in the Argo disaster at Tillamook last Friday, who had been given up as dead, were saved in a miraculous manner, according to stories appearing in the Portland papers reaching here today. The news comes as highly gratifying to the many friends of Capt. Snyder, his brother, J. H. Snyder and Purser Stimpson and Mate Johnson, the latter two having formerly been members of the Alliance crew.

Andrew Wickman of the Southern Oregon Company, stated today that he expects to leave on the Alliance for Astoria and Tillamook in hopes of being able to recover the body of his brother, Henry Wickman, who was drowned while going to the Argo's aid. Aside from the message announcing the fatality and another one Sunday night that the body had not been found, he has had no information from there.

Astoria dispatches give the following particulars of the rescue of Captain Snyder and his crew and of the Argo disaster:

"Providence intervened in the battle which Captain Snyder, with nine of his crew, and Tony Delborte, a passenger of the wrecked ship Argo, had waged for seven hours with death, and at the moment when hope was abandoned a lifeline from the lightship Columbia guided the wreck victims to safety.

"It was 9 o'clock Friday night when the steamer Argo, bound from Portland to Tillamook, crashed into Double Headed rock, midway between Tillamook bay and Nehalem, on the Oregon coast. It lacked but a few minutes until 9 o'clock when Captain Snyder, forewarned, ordered the crew and passengers of the Argo to take to the two lifeboats. Mate J. A. Johnson commanded the first boat, in which were the Argo's passengers and a part of the crew. Captain Snyder commanded the second boat, containing the crew and one passenger.

"Aid came to Mate Johnson's boat within two hours after it had put off from the ill-fated Argo, when the steamer Oshkosh rescued Johnson and his passengers. Captain Snyder's boat, buffeted by heavy seas and strong winds, was swept out to sea, and it was not until 4 o'clock Saturday morning that the fight with the waves was ended, when the boat drifted alongside the lightship Columbia, 12 miles off the Columbia river bar, to the west. The news of the rescue of Captain Snyder's boat was brought to Astoria by the bar tug Wallula, which reported that she had been signaled through the megaphone by the lightship and learned that the master of the Argo and his crew were safe. Because of heavy seas, it was impossible for the Wallula to get near the lightship.

"With the rescue of Captain Snyder's boat, the list of wreck victims diminishes to three persons—13-year-old Anna Hunter, of Napa, Cal.; Mrs. L. A. Holdredge of Portland.

JUDGE M'GINN ON ASSEMBLY

In Speech That Rings True He Denounces Machine Plan.

PORTLAND, Nov. 30.—The Union Republican Club smoker intended as a preliminary to the call for a state assembly received an awakening jolt from Judge Henry E. McGinn. It may be that President S. C. Pierce, who invited Judge McGinn to speak, referring to him lovingly as "one of the best Republicans in Oregon," did not know, "it was loaded" when he got the old time Simon warhorse headed towards his little band of loyal followers.

Judge McGinn began his speech by saying that he desired to thank the club for its fairness in inviting him to speak, because he presumed that the officials and members knew that he believed in the primary law, in Statement No. 1, in the initiative and referendum, the methods of progress and was opposed to the assembly and the reversion to old conditions.

"The direct primary law came to us as the result of the most corrupt politics any state has ever known," continued the judge. "If there had ever been an honest election of United States senator, or an uncontrolled convention, or decent politics of any kind under the old system, there would have been no direct primary law, no Statement No. 1, no initiative and referendum. These things are the result of the protest of the people against the rottenness of the old plan and the old politics and the old leaders of the state. I know this, you all know it. It know it because I was a part of it, be it said to my shame. I, as a young man, went through the school of the old system and I do not want to see any young man of the present day go through the same experiences that I went through before the passing of the old regime and the coming of the new. For that reason, if for nothing else, I am against the assembly and what it means.

"We all know that people used to be bought on the streets of the city here for $2.50 each. We know that men high in life were engaged in the work.

Refers to Old Scenes. "I remember the scene in Woodward's hall when Joseph Simon and Charles H. Carey came to blows over the control of the convention being held there. I remember when Larry Sullivan and his shotgun kept the voters from the booths. I remember when George H. Williams was not allowed to cast his ballot.

"Because of these things we got the primary law, because no one could name a convention that was not corrupt and not controlled for the selfish interests of some man or set of men.

"I do not want to see the Republican party in the hands of any self-appointed saviours. If it is right it will need no saviours. If it is wrong its saviours will not save it. And I want to know what you mean by 'Republicans' in your talk about the assembly, or the convention, and the support of its dictates. If you mean the Aldriches, the Paynes, the Cannons, then I am not a Republican and never will be; if you mean the Beveridges, the La Follettes, the Hughes, the Roosevelts of the party, then I am a Republican, and no man can read me out of my party. I stand for the progress of the party, for its advances, nor for its retrogression.

Party Disrupted Itself. "It seems to be the belief that the direct primary law has disrupted the ### Revolutionists in Nicaragua Maintain That They Will Not Give Any Quarter—United States Does Not Act.

(By Associated Press.) WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 30.—President Zelaya has made overtures to the revolutionists intimating his willingness to retire from the Presidency of Nicaragua providing congress will be allowed to select a provisional president in his stead. This news today from the United States Consulate at Bluefields, and was sent last Sunday night. General Estrada, head of the revolutionists, has replied that being assured victory and being the unanimous choice of the liberal party, he will not accept any terms other than the recognition of the provisional government established.

KAISER URGES PEACE PACT

Emperor William Opens Reichstag With Speech Today—Praises Alliances.

(By Associated Press.) BERLIN, Ger., Nov. 30.—Emperor William opened the Reichstag today. In his speech, reference was made to the proposed extension for two years of the trade agreement with Great Britain which expires December 31, the trade treaty with Portugal, the French-German agreement over Morocco and the Triple Alliance which has preserved the peace for a generation. dent Zelaya and he has been granted permission to occupy the legation premises as being more secure. The Nicaraguan congress will assemble December 1st. It is rumored that Zelaya will retire possibly and attempt escape from the country in the cover of night by the Pacific coast. A persistent rumor is that Irias may succeed Zelaya as President of Nicaragua. This information is embodied in telegrams to the state department which have been held up in transit. The first telegram says Cannon was captured October 21 and Groce, November 3, and both were executed November 12. No news of the execution reached the department until November 17. Members of the Red Cross say Cannon and Groce were captured while they were lost on the banks of the San Juan river and that the captain of a ship called them, promising not to harm them. The execution caused general indignation. Nicaraguan lawyers declare the execution was illegal. The captain was imprisoned because he refused to carry out the execution of the Americans. A later telegram from the consul at Bluefields says Cannon and Groce were lieutenant colonel and colonel of engineers in the revolutionary army and were regularly enlisted.

LEADERS KEEP OUT OF JAIL

Gompers, Mitchell and Morrison Granted Stay Pending Appeal of Case.

(By Associated Press.) WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—The Court of Appeals of the District of Columbia has granted the petition of Gompers, Mitchell and Morrison of the American Federation of Labor on the contempt case against them for a stay of execution of the mandate of the court sending them to jail. The mandate is stayed indefinitely pending an appeal of the Supreme Court of the United States.

SETTLE MIXUP ABOUT BAND

Rival Political Facitons Engage It For Same Night But Straw Forces Give Way.

A mixup over the engagement of the Marshfield band for Monday evening by the opposing factions in city politics for next Monday evening was harmoniously adjusted last evening at a meeting at the Straw headquarters. Hugh McLain said that they had started out for a harmonious campaign and that he thought the harmony ought to be extended to the musical organization as well and a resolution was passed whereby the Straw forces waived their claim to the organization. The action was taken to relieve J. Albert Matson from what threatened to be an embarrassing situation. McLain explained that the mixup happened something like this: Mr. Matson, who is manager of the band, was in the barber shop getting shaved when Tom Nicols popped his head in the door and called "Albert, the band is engaged for Monday night." "All right," retorted Mr. Matson. The latter stepped outside and met C. F. McKnight who informed him that the Straw forces wanted the band for their Monday night rally. "All right, I was just told of it," responded Mr. Matson. Then, it all along until Mr. Matson discovered that Tom Nicols had spoken for the band for the I. S. Smith rally instead of the Straw rally and then there were things doing. However, when the situation was explained, they began to see the humor of it

EXPECT FIREWORKS IN NORTH BEND CAUCUS THIS EVENING

CITIZENS NOW HAVE TICKET

Peter Loggie Heads New Faction in North Bend's City Politics.

At a meeting at Loggie's hall last evening, the Citizens' Ticket for the North Bend municipal election was formally launched, the following being nominated:

For mayor—Peter Loggie. For councilmen—Manley M. Strawn of the North Bend Mercantile Company, Edgar McDaniel of the North Bend Harbor and J. A. Jacobson, a North Bend furniture dealer.

The meeting was largely attended, between 125 and 150 being in attendance. Addresses were made by a dozen or more, Peter Loggie and L. A. Frye delivering the principal talks. The meeting adopted the platform announced by Peter Loggie a few days ago as the platform of the ticket.

H. I. Reese was chairman of the meeting and L. Henschel secretary. The ticket stands for a liberal policy in municipal government and for a continuation of the municipal improvements that have been started or projected and instead of raising all the money required for this purpose directly by taxation, to float a bond issue and allow the improvements to earn and pay the cost.

It was decided not to take up the city recordership or city treasurership. For recorder, it seems that A. H. Derbyshire will be without opposition for reelection and the treasurership will be adjusted by the two banks, probably either J. H. Gardner or W. S. Winsor being the only candidate.

FIERCE STORM NEAR JAPAN

Big Steamer and Many Small Fishing Boats Are Feared Lost.

(By Associated Press.) TOKIO, Nov. 30.—A fierce storm at Shimonoseki yesterday and last night, did great damage. The Japanese steamer Kisagala Maru was wrecked. It is feared all on board were lost. Many fishing boats are believed wrecked.

and steps were taken to make the best of the situation.

There was talk last evening of changing the Straw rally to Saturday night, but some of the leaders thought it would be a mistake, believing it should be Monday night even if they have to get along without the band.

Levi Smith and J. H. Somers, who were soliciting campaign funds for Mayor Straw yesterday, reported fair success last night and turned over to the treasurer, W. P. Murphy, the fruits of their efforts.

The meeting was not largely attended and other business was brought up, it being decided to leave matters with the executive committee.

Dr. Tower and the other managers of the campaign decided they would not announce the personnel of the executive committee.

Judge Guerry Likely to Be Chosen Chairman of the Gathering.

SIMPSON'S STOCK IS PICKING UP

Rumor That Kinney Forces Will Rally Around Him—Citizens' Ticket.

The North Bend city caucus this evening promises to be the scene of some of the liveliest fireworks that have ever been touched off on the Bay in connection with the great American game. There will be yellow lights, white lights and plenty of red fire, according to the statements in North Bend this afternoon.

Unless something unexpected happens, Judge Guerry will be chosen for chairman of the caucus. It is understood that the meeting last night at which the Citizens' ticket was chosen, endorsed him and so far as known he is satisfactory to the other factions.

L. J. Simpson and his supporters have been throwing themselves into the fray with their might and main today, and those who thought that Mr. Simpson might suffer from apathy on account of his resigning before the expiration of his previous term, are likely to get a severe jolt. There was considerable betting that "L. J." or "Louie," as they all call him in North Bend, will be one of the two nominees of the caucus. Second place, according to the betting, lies between A. W. Myers and Peter Loggie. However, it is all pretty much up in the air, and some wild guesses are being hazarded all the way around.

It was reported this afternoon that Major Kinney's following was swinging over to Simpson and there was a report current that Major Kinney would personally retire in favor of Mr. Simpson at the caucus this evening.

The caucus is called for 7:30. At 1:30 this afternoon, City Recorder Derbyshire had registered 421, a considerably larger number than qualified for the city election last time.

Another report that was adding to the interest in the caucus this afternoon was that Rev. Dan Shannon would personally endeavor to participate in the caucus. Mrs. Shannon will speak at the revival meeting this evening in place of Mr. Shannon. Those opposing the stand that Mr. Shannon has taken, declare that he will not be allowed a voice in the caucus on the grounds that he is a non-resident.
