OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY OF MARSHFIELD.

Official Paper of Coos County.

STORMS AND SCHOOLS.

DURING THE ten days of incessant and violent storms that have prevailed over Coos county and this city there has been no minution in attendance upon the public schools of either territory; to the splendid credit of teachers, pupils and governing boards.

Apropos of this, a well-known citizen tells a good story illustrative of the spirit behind it all: Out on an unpaved street in South Marshfield, he overtook a manful little figure trudging along hot-foot, enveloped in sou' wester, rubber coat and thigh boots, a diminutive and sturdy specimen of manhood. He halted him and hazarded the statement that it was a "bad day for little people like him to be out," when the youngster boldly replied "Not if a fellow wants to go to school, Sir!" There you are. That little chap wanted to get to his school for the day and was wading and working his way over all sorts of obstacles to get there in time. That's the spirit that lies at the root of the superb success of the American in the upper realms of business, commerce, science, trade, art, and the professions; that's why there was no falling off in the school rosters in the past 15 days; and it is all worth noting, and remembering.

A SLAP AT HIGH BROWS.

"WE ARE overburdened with high brows," says Thomas A. Edison. "We have too many professors and academicians."

This surely is a busy world, and the harder a man works in it the more he discovers there is to be done, the more anxious he is to see things done, the less time he takes to brush the dust of granite from his hands before he assumes the next job the greater the irritation and impatience he displays toward those he terms—with little courtesy—the unproductive. It is given to everyone to catch occasional glimpses of wonders that could be accomplished of marvels which could be dug from the earth, of happiness which could be brought about, if only such and such work were undertaken. Mr. Edison probably has had more of these great visions than anyone else in this country. It licks him that men should miss over ancient manuscripts or dispute over species of shellfish. Rather, he thinks, should they be up and doing, holding nature up for comforts, forcing content out of the emeralds of sky and earth. And still human nature yearns for the wisdom which cannot be utilized. It loves to gorge itself with the indigestible facts of history and science and metaphysical speculations. How fine for humanity it would be if all worked all the time to cure the ill—and how fearfully, fearfully wearisome!
