It's about this date that trousers get house-sprung, shiny, threadbare—about this time when the wear shows, or when they're ragged around the bottom. A pair of new Dutchess Trousers will give you almost a New-Suit Effect.

Council to Meet.—The Marshfield city council will meet Tuesday evening of this week to take up various city matters. The tentative bids on street paving will not be opened for another week or two.

Loses Arm.—Billy Leaton, a well-known Eastside young man who has been employed in the lumber mills on the Columbia river for sometime, lost an arm in accident there Friday. Word was received by his father who left for there Saturday on the Breakwater.

Has birthday.—Saturday was Dr. A. L. Houseworth's birthday and in the evening Mrs. Houseworth surprised him by inviting in a few friends. Just what birthday it was, you will have to ask Dr. Houseworth who maintains it isn't as many as Dorsey Kreitzer has intimated.

New Sunday School Teachers.—Judge Sehlbrede, president of the Bible Class of the Marshfield Christian church, announces that Mrs. Cox, Miss Anna Cox and John Motley have passed the examination and are now qualified as Sunday school teachers. Graduating exercises will be held later.

Dr. Ward Hurt.—While on the wharf at the foot of Central avenue, Saturday evening, about 10 o'clock, preparing to take a boat for home, Dr. Ward of North Bend stumbled and fell to the lower deck of the steamer Flyer which was tied up there. He was stunned by the fall and lay unconscious for a few moments. An unknown man happened to see him fall and thought he had fallen into the bay and called Marshal Carter and Nightwatchman Shoupe who assisted him to the wharf. He was merely stunned and soon recovered from the effects of the fall.

Cement Higher.—It is announced that cement has advanced fifteen cents per barrel. Crushed stone will sell fifty cents higher here this spring than formerly, according to present indications which will make some classes of construction considerably higher than a year ago.

Mereen Named.—Arno Mereen, of Marshfield, who has been identified with the C. A. Smith lumber mill and timber interests at Coos Bay, has been elected a director of the C. A. Smith Lumber & Manufacturing Company of Minneapolis, Minn., at a recent meeting held in the East. Mr. Mereen will retain his residence at Marshfield.—Portland Oregonian.

Noah Not In It.—St. Noah, deputy game warden is looking for the man who impersonated him on Daniels Creek last week and made Mrs. Edna Lawrence and Mrs. Belle Lewis believe that Mrs. Lewis was under arrest for violating the fishing law. Mr. Noah says he wasn't anywhere near Daniels Creek on his trip and that someone evidently was trying to play a joke on the woman. However, they carried it too far as it is a serious offense to impersonate an officer and if they can locate the individual, the joke is liable to react on him pretty hard.

Is my Personal Guarantee worth anything to you?

IF IT IS I GUARANTEE

THAT the days of washingwoolen and cotton underwear together, and thus shrinking the woollens, have passed away.

THAT the day has also passed when the help was taking my good money and "kicking" the work out in any old way.

THAT if you pay one of our present drivers for a bundle, the amount will be turned into the office and properly credited to your account.

THAT all the old gang who did these things have also passed from my way.

THAT, NOW AND HEREAFTER your work will receive the attention to which it is entitled, and returned to you promptly and properly laundered.
