Why Vacuum Cleaners Do the Work!

Scientifically designed fans have wonderful power; for instance, such fans ventilate mines, raise wheat from ships, drive chopped cornstalks into the ground, convey kindling wood, and exhaust dust and air from electric light globes, clean carpets and dust factories, and every kind of material that collects dust is cleaned without rub or wear.

COMET OUR GUEST FOR 200 YEARS; WHY FEAR IT?

SAN JOSE, Cal., Feb. 21.—Professor Ricard of Santa Clara college, says, in reference to the question as to whether there is danger of the hydrocyanic gas from Halley's comet:

"The best argument against any danger to be apprehended from Halley's comet next April or May is that the same comet has been our guest for over 2,000 years and that it has not yet been shown that any poisoning occurred. Very true, there has been certain marvelous coincidences between the comet's appearance and wars and epidemics. But wars certainly are not due to the comet, and epidemics have been very frequent here and there in various parts of the world, even when there were no comets in sight, and no one ever thought of fathering them on the comets.

"The origin of the popular superstition concerning the damaging effects of comets' tails has been due to a very false but natural method of reasoning. It is that when we see two events happening together, especially when they are extraordinary, one of them near and the other far and more mysterious, we link them together as cause and effect. Even supposing that the comet's tail contains cyanogen, it may be in such a rarefied condition that billions of men could pass through it without harm.

"And even supposing that the highly attenuated cyanogen of the comet's tail came to combine with the earth's atmosphere, the question remains to be decided what sort of combination it would be. For it is well-known that certain combinations of the most deadly deleterious elements are not only harmless, but will be greatly benefiting, as for instance, prussic acid in peach leaves not to mention other examples well known to chemistry."

SHORT WEIGHT BUTTER.

Editor Times: It has seemed to me that the final word in the matter of the short weight butter fraud has not been said.

It may have been "business," but being without warrant of trade conditions, and thus necessarily inspired by simple lust for gain, the theft was peculiarly dishonorable, despicable and contemptible.
J. M. UPTON.

A feller never can tell when he is going to be "discovered." For instance, yesterday Milo Sumner remarked "I have been reading your verses and they remind me of those from the pens of our great poets—they are so different."

UNCLE SAM'S SWEET TOOTH

Candy Bill For Country During Year of 1909 Reached $500,000,000.

NEW YORK, Feb. 21.—That the United States has the most expensive tooth in the world and that New York consumes more sweets than any other municipality on earth are two facts indicated by the compilation of figures here which show that the whole country during the last year paid $500,000,000 for its candy bill of which this city, with one-sixteenth of the total population, contributed $50,000,000, or one-tenth of the whole amount.

During 1908 this country consumed as much candy as all the rest of the world put together, but during 1909 it ate twice as much. Strange as it may seem, the foreign immigrant is the greatest eater of candy in America.

In New York fully half of the city's candy bill is paid by the men, women and children of the east side tenement district. The poor always eat the most candy, partly because it is so satisfying and more because it tastes so much better than their ordinary food.

If all the candy which New York consumes during a year had to be made outside of the city and brought in by freight, it would require more than 12,500 freight cars in which to ship it. If the whole amount had to be moved at once the train necessary to transport it would reach from New York beyond Albany. The

TOPICS OF THE TIMES.

And while investigations are the rage let's have the United States weather bureau probed as well as the Life Saving Service and find out who's responsible for this unnecessary beastly weather.

Dr. Cook is now said to be sailing north from Chile, according to a press dispatch in The Times the other evening. Perhaps he is returning from a quiet dash to the south pole.

STATUTE IS UNCONSTITUTIONAL

United States Supreme Court Reverses Alabama Decision (By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 21.—By reversing the decision of the Supreme Court of Alabama, the Supreme Court of the United States declared unconstitutional as applied to the railway company, the Alabama statute levying an annual franchise tax on foreign corporations doing a business in the state. The court held it an improper discrimination between foreign and domestic corporations.

supply for one day would fill more than thirty-four regulation cars.

While much expensive candy is consumed in New York, the average price a pound is close to twenty cents, which means that this city consumes 250,000,000 pounds of sweets every year. Packed in half-pound boxes each six inches long, this amount would if the boxes were laid end to end, completely encircle the earth.
