PARENTS, CHILDREN AND DUTY.

IN ALL his speeches, Col. Roosevelt advocates large families. In the abstract that is all right. If the parents could all be healthy, of sound bodies and minds, that surely would be an excellent culmination, but as the human race exists to-day in so-called civilized countries, nothing is more certain than that there are hosts of men and women who have no right to become parents, and who, when perfect civilization is realized, will not be permitted to become parents.

There are certain diseases which as yet medical science cannot master, and which are hereditary.

The land is filled with convicts, criminals and nothing seems so prone to manifest itself in the child as a criminal taint in the parent.

The taxes paid to maintain prisons and hospitals and to employ officers to run down, arrest and convict criminals, in large measure is the penalty exacted because men and women who were never fit to be parents, were permitted to be. And the money is nothing compared with the suffering of the victims themselves.

Surely the State ought to be as careful as are the men who are engaged in the live stock business. They are busy all the time eradicating bad breeds of stock and securing all the time the best.

We suspect there was a time in ancient Greece, when society had reached the stage which society in this country promises to reach after a while; and then there came an awakening and the lawmakers determined upon drastic reforms. They determined that physically, at least, men and women should not be permitted to reach maturity except that they might be able to become parents of soldiers. So deformed and sickly children were given up to the cold and the wild beast, with the result that after a generation or two, the Greeks were the most perfect race, physically, that the world has ever seen.

The modern world, of course, would not tolerate that system, but it could and ought to prevent men and women tainted by hereditary diseases or crimes from becoming parents. Men should be as careful of their children at least, as they are of their horses, cattle and pigs.

FERRETS JOIN SHIP'S CREW.

Animals Chase Rats on Roanoke to Prevent Loss to Cargo.

PORTLAND, June 3.—Finding it impossible to drive rats from the vessels by fumigation and other means, the North Pacific Steamship Company is experimenting with ferrets, two of which were placed aboard of the steamer Roanoke at San Francisco and made their first trip, arriving here Sunday.

The animals will be closely watched to ascertain what success they have in diminishing the rodent family, and two additional pair will be secured for use on the Geo. W. Elder and Santa Clara. Experiments on other craft indicate that rats have such a wholesome fear of ferrets, that, when cornered, they will leap overboard rather than fight.

The company has suffered losses through damage claims of nearly $50 on one voyage and as the destructive results were traced to rodents, it was found that a pair of ferrets could be secured for an amount equal to the claims on one trip.

Over Chamber of Commerce

Madam, if you want a healthy household make your kitchen the most attractive room in your house

"MAKE YOUR KITCHENS THE MOST ATTRACTIVE PLACES OF YOUR HOME. PUT UP YOUR HANGINGS AND YOUR WORKS OF ART OUT THERE, AND WHEN GUESTS COME, TAKE THEM TO THE WHOLESOME, BEAUTIFUL, SANITARY AND ARTISTIC KITCHEN, WITH THE ROAST BEEF, THE FRESH CHICKENS AND THE GREEN VEGETABLES INTERSPERSED AMONG THE HANGINGS AND THE TABLE COVERINGS, INSTEAD OF CONDUCTING THESE GUESTS INTO THE DRAWING ROOM WHICH HASN'T BEEN AIRED FOR A WEEK."

The First Essential of an Attractive Kitchen is a Gas Range.

WHEN THE GAS RANGE COMES IN, DIRT, DRUDGERY, SOOT AND ASHES GO OUT.

OUR NEW BUSINESS DEPARTMENT WILL GIVE YOU THE FACTS AND FIGURES TO HELP YOU DECIDE. CALL US UP TO DAY.
