WHEN HE COMES, WHAT?

IF HIS usual luck attends him, Col. Roosevelt will be home in a few days from a journey that has brought him more triumphs than any private citizen ever before received. Since he emerged from the African jungle his journey has been an ovation. There was one little jolt in Egypt and another in Rome, but they hardly count in recounting his triumphs. His mouth got away a little with him in Egypt and the incident in Rome was unfortunate, but in France, in Holland, in Norway, in Germany there was not a hitch; he made a good speech in France, another in Norway, a superb one in Germany. The chances are that his greeting in England would have exceeded all others, save for the death of King Edward; and he returns to his native country flushed with the knowledge that no other American ever before returned to his native land after a long absence, with so many plumes in his hat. Of course, New York will try to outdo all that was done abroad in his honor. And then what? He will be the same old Roosevelt that he was when he went away. He will not have gained a friend during his absence, nor lost an enemy. He will be just as apt to call any one a liar who opposes him or disputes one of his propositions as he ever was. His enemies will cheerfully concede his great abilities, and his native right impulses, but just as strenuously as ever they will insist that his judgment is not always best. We predict that his first work will be to try to help his friend the President out of the quicksands in which he seems to be struggling. His friend, the President, has a sound judicial mind, but little initiative. The Colonel has plenty of initiative. The a strong and quick intellect, but no one has ever accused him of possessing a sound judicial mind. And there you are. What will he do for Mr. Taft?

The American people are watching for Col. Roosevelt's return, and many are asking: "What will he do?"

LOCAL OVERFLOW.

Berries Plentiful.—It is stated that the wild blackberry crop this year will be the most plentiful in recent years. The berries are already beginning to ripen and they are larger than usual.

Were Lost.—While picking salmon berries in the woods west of Libby yesterday, four Libby boys and Will Hennessey got lost and did not get home until about 1 o'clock this morning when a searching party, headed by Al. Nichols, found them. In the party were two Campbell boys, a Holland boy and another lad. The oldest of them is only about eight and they became tired when darkness came on Will Hennessey's futile efforts to find the trail back. When they did not return, three possums were organized at Libby and began a search for the lads, fearing they had met with some awful mishap.

Nine Houses Out of Every Ten Built Today Are Wired for Electric Light

You may not know this fact, but it is a FACT just the same.

It is a fact of direct significance to the comparatively few citizens who are not already enjoying the safety, cleanliness, convenience and economy of ELECTRIC LIGHT.

It means that ELECTRIC LIGHTING is rapidly becoming Universal.

No lamps to fill, no chimneys to clean, no wicks to trim, no matches to look for and litter up your home.

And when a child calls in the middle of the night, you press a button, there is a flood of light and you are instantly at his side.

Our NEW BUSINESS DEPARTMENT is maintained to tell you all about ELECTRIC LIGHTING installations, cost of wiring, terms of payment, etc.
