PRESIDENT TAFT SNUBS MAN WHO CRITICISED SEC. BALLINGER

Representative Francis Burton Harrison Is Victim of His Wrath.

ACTION CAUSE OF MUCH DISCUSSION.

Harrison Says That He Will Not Comment On Executive's Action.

(By Associated Press.) WASHINGTON, June 10.—Representative Francis Burton Harrison, who yesterday was snubbed by President Taft at the executive offices in the White House, was the center of much interest to-day on the floor of the House. When asked if he would give further expression regarding Taft's treatment of him, Harrison said that so far as he is concerned the incident is closed. Yesterday Harrison called at the White House with two other Representatives to introduce a number of Jewish Rabbis. The President declined to receive Harrison owing to his alleged remarks regarding the Ballinger-Nichol controversy, although Mr. Harrison himself had arranged the meeting of the rabbis and the President several weeks ago.

SAN JOSE LAD DROWNS HERE

Sibert Martin Loses Life in Bay This Morning—Companion Saves Himself.

Sibert Martin of San Jose, Calif., a lad about eighteen years old, was drowned this morning in the Bay opposite the old saw mill, and his companion, Edwin Dolph, of 353 Douglas street, San Francisco, narrowly escaped the same fate.

The two lads, who were about the same age, were chance acquaintances, having run across each other on the Bay. Martin had been here about four weeks and Dolph about two weeks. They had been staying at the Pacific Hotel in North Bend and doing odd jobs to make a living. This morning neither had anything to do and started to walk to Marshfield. While coming along by Ferndale they noticed a number of row boats moored there and decided they would take a boat ride. They started out in one boat but it was leaking pretty bad and they came back and got another. "This time everything went well until they got out in the middle of the channel. Then Martin made some remark about being able to swim and that there was no danger as "they could walk ashore."

He was sitting in the stern of the boat and soon after it began to leak pretty badly. He evidently got frightened, for Dolph says the first thing he knew Martin had jumped overboard. This lurched the boat considerably and Dolph also jumped out and the boat turned over. Martin could not swim a stroke and soon went down. Dolph swam ashore and then started out again hoping to rescue his companion. This attempt nearly cost him his own life, as he had not gone very far before his water-soaked clothing began to weigh him down considerably. However, he succeeded in getting back to shallow water and walked over to the old saw mill, where he found workmen who brought him to Marshfield.

The two lads were "tramping it" to see the world, Dolph having walked in from Roseburg. Dolph knows little about Martin, except that the latter told him his folks lived in San Jose but that he had not written home for over a year. There was a strong ebb tide when the accident occurred, about 10 o'clock, and it is doubtful if the body can be recovered.

Relatives in San Jose. To-day a memorandum book was found in Martin's room at the Pacific Hotel in North Bend with the following inscription pencilled in a blank space:

"My name is Sibert Martin. In case of accident please notify Mrs. Etta S. Hirschey, East San Jose, Calif."

Other entries in the book indicated that Martin had been at Coquille, Riverton and Myrtle Point during the month of May. He also had a Tacoma address pencilled in the book.

ROOSEVELTS HOMEWARD BOUND THINK JAPAN HAS DESIGNS ON CENTRAL AMERICA NATIONS

Former President and Family Sail From Southampton and Will Reach New York on June 18th.

(By Associated Press.) SOUTHAMPTON, England, June 10.—Theodore Roosevelt is homeward bound to-day. Accompanied by Mrs. Roosevelt, Kermit, Ethel and Mrs. Nicholas Longworth, he sailed on the Hamburg line steamer Kaiserin Augusta Victoria this afternoon.

He is due at Quarantine Island on the night of June 17th, but will not land in New York until the following morning.

Passengers on the Kaiserin Augusta Victoria gave Roosevelt a cordial reception when he went aboard. As the tender came alongside, the band of the steamer played the "Star Spangled Banner," and there was much cheering. Many of those on the steamer waved small American flags and the vessel itself was in holiday attire with colors flying from stem to stern.

WESTERN UNION IS INDICTED

Federal Grand Jury Holds It For Violations of Bucket Shop Law.

(By Associated Press.) WASHINGTON, June 10.—The Federal Grand Jury has returned an indictment against the Western Union Telegraph Company charging 42 violations of the bucket shop law of March 1, 1909. The claim was made that the Western Union, by means of a telegraph wire and ticker, aided and abetted in the conduct of bucket shops in the District of Columbia. Various persons were indicted for conducting the alleged bucket shops.

PLAY PLEASURES LARGE CROWD

North Bend High School Athletic Association Cast Scores Hit.

"The Merchants of Venice" (up-to-date), presented by the North Bend High School athletic club there last evening, proved one of the best home talent productions that has been seen on the Bay in a long time. There was a large attendance and from the time the curtain rose on the first scene until the last drop, there was not a lag in the audience's attention and few lulls in the applause.

Lyle Chappelle was the star of the cast, showing remarkable natural ability as a comedian. Grace Fulton as Portia also did well, as did Miss Laura Kruse as "Antonio's Mother." Besides the play, Marion Reynolds gave some pleasing tumbling exhibitions, and Rev. R. H. Pearson and the High School Orchestra also contributed to the evening's program. The cast of characters for the play was as follows:

- The Duke of Venice...Geo. R. Johnson
Antonio, a Senator...Capt. of Kinney High School Football Team
Oscar Stauff
Bassanio, his friend, and suitor to Portia...H. S. Lindstrom
Gratiano, another friend...H. R. Mende
Shylock, a gambler...Clarence Kibler
Tubal, his friend and Capt. of Cooston Football Team...G. Ray Johnson
Launcelot Gobbo, a servant to Shylock...Lyle Chappell
The Professor, an X-ray Photographer...Clyde Smith
Policeman...Will Anderson
Portia, a rich heiress...Grace Fulton
Nerissa, her friend...Allen Anderson
Polly, Portia's Maid...Dania Kruse
Jessica, Shylock's ward...Norma Chase
Miss Abbie S. Threedice, a teacher...Freda Hazer
Antonio's Mother...Laura Kruse
Mrs. Bridget Gobbo, Launcelot's Mother...Rishia McDonald
Football Players...High School Boys

TELLS ABOUT LIBBY SEARCH

Recovery of Lads Who Were Lost in Woods Attended By Many Thrills.

LIBBY, Ore., June 10.—There was a mistake made when it was stated yesterday that Al. Nichols was at the head of the searching posse out looking for Will Hennessey and the boys who were lost while out picking salmon berries on Wednesday at Libby.

The posse that found them was headed by Wm. Hearon and Ed. Oldland; the other parties in the posse being A. Ingersoll, O. Goll, J. Girard, O. Noah and John Harris. There were two other posses out in different directions. The lost boys were found at 1 A. M. in Pony Slough gulch, but the night being so dark and the brush so thick they were unable to bring them out until daylight, two of the little boys being so tired and overcome for want of food they had to be carried quite a distance through the thick brush, thus making it doubly hard for those trying to bring them out, and they did not reach home until 7 A. M.

They left home at about 11 o'clock Wednesday forenoon and were lost in about two hours. After traveling for some three hours through the thickest kind of brush without finding any possible way of getting out, Will Hennessey decided to make preparations to camp for the night. He built a good fire and made things as pleasant as possible for the boys, singing songs and telling stories to keep them from worrying, which he succeeded very well in doing, judging from what the boys told when they reached home.

Those in the party that were lost were Will Hennessey, Walter Harrison, Enoch Holland Jr., Willie and Pat Campbell, the oldest of the four boys being about 12 or 13 years and the youngest 5 years old.

The fathers and male relatives and friends of the boys searched all night, firing off guns and "hollering" in hopes of being heard, and to say they were overcome with joy when the news came that the boys were found and unharmed does not begin to express it.

There was ludicrous incident in the search, one of the parties hunting for the lads losing its way in the darkness and brush and not being able to ascertain where they were until another of the searching parties happened to run across them.

DIPLOMAS ARE GIVEN THREE

Annual Commencement Exercises in Marshfield Largely Attended.

The Marshfield High School commencement exercises, held last night at the Masonic Opera House, were largely attended by all those interested in school work. The opera house was beautifully decorated in the class colors, green and white, and there was an abundance of roses and carnations which were sent in heaps to the three graduates—Misses Signa Holm, Bessie Coke and Alpha Mauzey.

The programme was a splendid one and the different numbers were greatly appreciated by the audience. Mrs. J. W. Ingram was unable to take part on account of illness, but otherwise the programme was carried out in full. The two-piano selections, rendered by Mrs. William Horsfall Jr., Miss Edna Larson, Miss Susie Elckworth and Miss Clara Myren, were treats to the music lovers of Marshfield, as were also the two solos sung by Miss Mable Clare Mills, who was greatly appreciated by the audience. Archdeacon Horsfall gave the invocation, and was followed by Miss Signa Holm, whose theme was "Hawthorne's Genius." "America's Great Triumvirate" was Miss Bessie Coke's theme, and "The City Beautiful," Miss Alpha Mauzey's. All were well delivered and showed great ability on the part of these young ladies.

Mr. Chas. B. Selby made an able address on "The Relation of Higher Education to Good Citizenship," and said among other things, that statistics show that from an educational standpoint, Oregon stands third in rank among the States of the country.

Supt. F. A. Golden presented the diplomas to the class, and said in part to the graduates: Since 1897, when the first class in our High School completed the course laid down, I have had the pleasure of presenting diplomas to about seventy-five graduates. To-night, I have the pleasure of performing this duty for you, and it is, in all probability, the last time a similar duty will devolve upon me in this school. In the present day and generation aviation is the one absorbing idea, and sailing in the air is the ultimatum sought for. You are, to-night, donning wings for a higher flight, and perhaps we may be able to draw a few morals from this subject.

But there is another side of this subject to which I would call your attention as of greater importance than the text book side. The first great aim of education is character. Thought determines life, and the best thoughts that can be put into the minds of boys and girls are "thoughts that breathe and words that burn." Have these few years of high school work put into your minds some such thoughts and words as these? These higher thoughts and broader views, held wisely before the mind, are better than algebra and geometry and physics in their influence upon your future characters. Have they taught you humility? Have they taught you to look charitably upon the shortcomings of your fellow beings? Who are the best people you have known, those from whom you have drawn the most good? They are those who knew fine things, and loved them, and sang them and put them deep into the hearts for time and eternity. Would you make yourselves respected and honored? The way is clear; but it is a way in which are found to walk only unselfish souls of wise purpose and high courage. There is so much effort made to-day in our schools to feed the intellect that the heart side is lost sight of. Have not the lessons of such lives as those of Peter the Great, King Alfred, Bruce, Washington, Lincoln, inspired within you a determination to a higher ideal? Has not the little knowledge you have acquired of science and Much Significance Attached to Proposed Visit of Mikado's Fleet to Mexico.

RUMOR NEW CANAL THROUGH NICARAGUA.

Rival of Panama Canal Is Said to Be Backed By English Capital.

(By Associated Press.) NEW ORLEANS, June 10.—Much significance is attached to the proposed visit of a Japanese fleet to Mexico, according to dispatches received here from Central America. The Latin-American is inclined to regard the visit, which is to be made upon the occasion of Mexico's centennial celebration of her independence as a diplomatic stroke by Japan, and the papers print rumors of special envoys being sent at the same time to carry on negotiations with Central American republics. It is also claimed that Japan will take advantage of this visit to bring about a treaty relative to the canal in Nicaragua for which England will furnish the money.

J JOSEPHSON IS STRICKEN

Well Known Marshfield Man Dies From Rupture of Blood Vessel.

John Josephson, a well known resident of Marshfield, died at his home in West Marshfield this morning of a blood vessel rupture. He had been ill since Monday, but his condition was not considered critical until a short time prior to his death.

Mr. Josephson was captain of the launch Teddy and Monday, when he returned from a trip, he ate at a downtown lunch counter. He ate sumptuously, taking new potatoes, a stew pudding, butter milk and other dishes, and it was at first thought contained a fatal poison. Immediately after eating, he was taken violently ill, suffering intense pain and vomiting almost continuously. He was taken home, but the physicians were unable to effect a cure.

It was at first thought that he was a victim of ptomaine poisoning and until a post mortem was performed this forenoon, the actual cause was not certain. The post mortem revealed the rupture of a blood vessel just above the stomach had been the cause of death. The rupture might be attributed to various causes.

Mr. Josephson is survived by a wife, a son and a daughter.
