Is Nature's Surest Helper in Dyspepsia, Indigestion and in other cases of Stomach Distress.

There is nothing you could imagine that will equal the torture and suffering of those who are distressed after each meal. There is HEARTBURN, GAS ON STOMACH, BLOATING, HEADACHE, SMOTHERING SENSATIONS and often times VOMITING. The trouble is, your food does not digest—simply sours and ferments. Kodol aids in the digestion and assimilation of food. By its action, nourishment is supplied for the body and a natural digestive process is established.

Its results are certain. Try a bottle to-day. Money refunded if not satisfactory.

Big Gooseberries.—Wm. Ross, of the launch Banshee, to-day brought down some of the largest gooseberries ever seen here. They were grown on his ranch from imported shrubs. A dozen of them will fill an ordinary berry box.

Judge Coke Coming.—Judge John S. Coke, who has been at Portland for the past three weeks assisting the bench there in the trial of a number of important cases, is expected home Friday or Saturday. Sails Friday.—The G. C. Lindauer, which has been loading lumber at the North Bend Lumber Company's mill, will sail Friday for San Francisco. She will carry passengers from here to San Francisco. She is an excellent steam schooner and has good passenger accommodations. W. J. Butler of Marshfield has been named as passenger agent for her here. She will be on the Coos Bay-San Francisco run for some time.

Barnard Moves.—C. P. Barnard has sold his fine residence on West Ninth street, between Olive and Charleston, to T. G. Hendricks. He takes some lots in the south part of town and a cash payment. Mr. Barnard says this does not signify that he is leaving Eugene to stay, for if he had stayed here he would have built a smaller house to suit the needs of his family. He says he will retain all his other property in the city. He will leave for Roseburg to get ready for his mail contracts, which he will take over July 1.—Eugene Register.
