FATHER CURLEY'S VERSION.

Priest Received Injury in Collision With Automobile.

Regarding the report of the collision between W. U. Douglas's auto and a vehicle, Father Curley, who was in the vehicle, requests that his version of the accident be reported. Father Curley says that two visiting priests who were in the city had been taking dinner with him and he was driving them back to Marshfield on the boulevard road. They were in a two-seated vehicle drawn by a team of horses. Father Curley states that they were out of the way of the auto, but that the latter backed into the vehicle and turned it over. The horses broke away and ran, which probably saved the occupants of the vehicle from being badly injured by being kicked by the animals. Father Curley got a bad cut on his head and is still laid up as a result of the accident and considerable damage was done to the vehicle.
