

DR. CRIPPEN AND MISS LEVENE ARE BOTH IN CANADIAN JAIL

Hunt Made By Police of Several Nations Comes to End at Quebec.

WERE BOTH ARRESTED ON BOARD MONTROSE.

Woman Fainted and Alleged Murderer Was on Verge of Collapse.

(By Associated Press.) QUEBEC, August 1. — Canadian justice moved swiftly to-day in the case of Dr. Hawley H. Crippen and Ethel Clara Levene, who are charged with being "guilty of the knowledge of an abominable crime" and fled from the other side of the Atlantic only to be caught in a police trap before they could put on Canadian soil.

The Montrose, with the prisoners aboard, arrived here early this morning. The prisoners were hustled through enormous crowds to the jail, where they were placed in cells. They had several hours refreshing sleep, the best since they left July 9th, just before the awful murder was discovered. To-day they were arraigned and held for further hearing on August 8th. Miss Levene is too ill to appear in court.

Crippen as an American citizen may exercise his right of appeal to the American consul.

There was great excitement in society when the wireless brought the news that the long sought for couple had been placed under arrest. As the vessel neared port, the prisoners became extremely restless and were so near physical collapse it is doubtful if they could have come ashore unassisted. Miss Levene, now attired in a dress, which had been substituted for the boy's attire in which she had travelled from England, was especially weak, while Crippen was pale as death. It was with difficulty that the prisoners were placed in carriages and taken through the crowd to jail, but were finally landed there. Miss Levene was made rather comfortable in a room, but Crippen was treated as any ordinary prisoner and placed in a small cell. The public seems to think that Miss Levene is entitled to some consideration.

Later it has developed that Crippen and Miss Levene might not start for London in charge of officers until an officer arrives from England with extradition papers. Reports from the jail tell of Miss Levene's pitiful condition. She sobbed and moaned as she tossed on her cot early in the day, and later was handed a cablegram which read, "Tell all you know." Those who saw the message said it was signed "Papa." It is known that Miss Levene's father is in London and stoutly maintained his daughter was innocent of any knowledge of crime, and that she believed herself the lawful wife of Crippen, supposing his first wife had met a natural death after deserting the doctor.

It is generally believed that Inspector Dew of Scotland Yard has not obtained a confession from the prisoners.

When Inspector Dew, with two other detectives boarded the Montrose disguised as pilots, Crippen is believed to have suspected, for he asked the reason why so many pilots were boarding the vessel. Denouement was simple enough. Recognition between Dew and Crippen was mutual and immediate. When he reached the companionway and faced the man whom he so long had sought, the inspector said, "Are you Dr. Crippen?" To this Crippen replied quietly, "I am," and then Dew placed him under arrest. Crippen, after he was handcuffed, said, "I am glad the suspense was so great." No handcuffs were used on the woman. She fainted at the shock of the arrest, but quickly recovered.

Crippen announced in court that he would not resist return to England.

KILL DEER EARLY TODAY

C. A. Langworthy and Albert Abbott Start Off the Hunting Season.

C. A. Langworthy and Albert Abbott started the hunting season by killing a deer this morning at Beaver Hill. As far as has been heard, this was the first one to be killed in this locality. The season opened to-day and the hunters are starting out. In fact, some have already gone, so that they would be on their chosen grounds as soon as the season opened.

Thomas Robinson, J. R. Hillstrom and J. O. Langworthy will leave at once for Curry county and will hunt on the Sixes. Warren Ogren and the Larson boys have also gone out for a hunt. Fred McCormac and one of the McCullough boys have gone up Haynes Inlet.

George Rotnor, Frank Denning and Hanks Wells left Sunday for the head of Coos River to stay a few days.

Ben Chandler and his party have already left for the Tioga country, and expected to reach there in time to do some shooting on the opening day. Iris Elrod and several others are now in Curry county and will hunt in the Rogue River district.

Joe Schilling and W. P. Murphy are after deer in the Beaver Hill district.

Many other hunters are preparing and will be going out within the next few days. From the reports received, the deer seem to be quite plentiful this year, and the hunters will likely all have good sport. Curry county seems to be the more favored hunting grounds this year.

Capt. Boice and All His Men Excepting Anderson Have Resigned.

Capt. Boice, of the Coos Bay Life saving crew, has resigned his position and his resignation has been accepted. He expects to go to Bandon. The Coos Bay crew is now in charge of Anton Anderson, who is the number one surferman of the crew. Another captain it is understood will soon be sent here to take charge of the crew. There have been many changes in the crew since the wreck of the Czarina, and Anderson, who is now in charge, is the only one of the old men left at the station. All the others who belonged to the crew when the Czarina was wrecked have resigned.

RESULT IS IN DISPUTE

Argument Arises as to Who Wins the Baseball Game Sunday.

Misunderstanding arose as to just who won the baseball game Sunday afternoon between Bandon and Marshfield. The Bandon team came over with about seventy-five rooters on a special train and played the Marshfield team at the ball park. Some are claiming that Bandon won the game 5 to 4, and others are claiming that it was a tie game with a score of 4 to 4.

There happened to be no official scorer for Marshfield. A Bandon man kept score, but he left shortly after the game and the Marshfield players declared that there was no official scorer. So, with such the case, it appears that each side will keep its own opinion.

The difference of opinion happened in a peculiar way. There was a misunderstanding regarding one run that was made by Bandon. Some thought that the tally had been made, but others insist that the third out had been declared by the umpire before the run was scored, and consequently it did not count. There was where the trouble started. Bandon believed that it had this run to its credit. At any rate, when the score was 4 to 4, or at least when some claim it was that way, the Bandon players evidently thought that the score was 5 to 4 and left the field, supposing that they had won the game. The other side claims that Bandon left the field with the score a tie.

There was a good deal of dispute about the deciding of the bets. Some money had been placed on the game, so the stakeholders were in a rather bad position.

The strange thing about it is that those on each side of the dispute are perfectly firm in their belief. One man, who is an authority, said that it was simply childish to say that the score was anything but a tie, while another baseball fan declares that the score was 5 to 4 in favor of Bandon, and it was plain enough to anyone who knew the difference between a ball game and a horse race.

However, the Bandon people came over and seemed to enjoy themselves and despite the argument, went home satisfied that they had won the game, and the rooters who accompanied the team had the pleasure of witnessing some good playing.

PICNIC IS BIG EVENT

Suomi Society Breaks All Records For Number of Persons in Attendance.

Breaking all records for picnics, the Suomi Society Sunday entertained at Enegren's Grove on Coos River the largest crowd that ever attended an outdoor event on Coos Bay. It is estimated by the gate receipts that between 1,200 and 1,500 persons attended the picnic. The Suomi Society has a record for picnics, but this one was undoubtedly the largest picnic that has ever been held in this locality. In every way, it was a great success.

The organization chartered the steamer Flyer and with it the big scow from Kruse & Banks' shipyard. Fir trees were lined around the sides of the scow and on it were loaded at least three hundred persons. The Flyer and the big scow would not nearly accommodate the crowd and seven other boats made trips to Enegren's Grove, where the picnic was held.

Every preparation had been made to give the people a good time and they all surely enjoyed themselves. There was simply no end to the good things to eat that were taken up the river. Lunches were packed in baskets of all sizes, some even in clothes baskets, and if anyone went hungry it was their own fault. Besides, there was maintained on the grounds a regular store, where eatables could be purchased. At the store, there was on hand fifty gallons of ice cream and that was all eaten up by 3 o'clock in the afternoon. At 4 P. M. there was nothing left in the store but a sack of peanuts.

A big dance platform had been arranged and the dancing continued all day. Some of the young people had not danced enough when the rest of the crowd went home, so they made up a purse and hired the orchestra to remain and danced all evening, two boats being sent up at 12 o'clock to bring home the party.

The Finnish band was in attendance as well as an orchestra for the dancing. There was a program of races with prizes offered for the winners, and besides the music and dancing, many enjoyed swimming and rowing. A big crowd of people could scarcely have had more fun, and the society did everything that was possible to make the event a success.

The foot races which were held resulted as follows: 100-Yard Dash—First, E. Bowman; second, F. Johnson. 50 yards, for ladies—First, Mrs. Thrush; second, Mrs. Matson. 100 yards, for boys under 16—First, Noel Noah; second, A. Gunnell. 50 yards, for girls under 16—First, Dot Harris; second, May Messerle. 50 yards, for boys under 8 years—First, E. Wicks; second, L. Alexander. 50 yards, for fat women—First, Mrs. Bjurbeck; second, Mrs. Johnson. Buy your groceries at SACCHI'S.

DISCHARGED FIREMAN KILLS THREE AND COMMITS SUICIDE

NEW TRIAL IS OVERRULED

Judge Coke Hands Down a Decision in the Lumber Company Cases.

Judge John S. Coke has handed down a decision overruling the petition for a new trial in the case of the Reynolds Lumber Company against the Simpson Lumber Company. The case was tried in the Circuit Court before Judge Coke, and was decided in favor of the plaintiff. A motion was made for a new trial by the defendant, and this has been overruled and the defendant allowed thirty days in which to prepare a bill of exceptions. The Circuit Court will not convene until the next regular adjourned session, September 6th, just previous to the regular session. Judge Coke has quite a number of cases to decide, but in these he will give his decision in vacation as quickly as the different cases can be reached.

One very important matter which Judge Coke has under consideration, is the case of the Port Commission, involving the tide lands owned by P. Hennessey. This case involves the question of the rights of navigation as against the rights of ownership of tide lands. It is really a law making case, as there are no other decisions just like it and it is a matter of great importance. Judge Coke will spend a good deal of time on the case and when ready will hand down a written decision.

(By Associated Press.) LOS ANGELES, Cal., August 1.—Jeffries does not charge that he was drugged at Reno, July 4th, when he was defeated for the world's championship by Johnson. To the Associated Press he said, "I never said it; I never said I was drugged."

Officers and Citizens of San Diego Have Man Hunt For a Murderer.

WIFE AND CHILD ARE AMONG THE VICTIMS.

Also Shoots Members of Fire Department With Whom He Had Worked.

(By Associated Press.) SAN DIEGO, Cal., August 1. — After killing three persons, including his wife and child, and mortally wounding a fourth and seriously wounding a fifth, Bert S. Durham, a discharged employe of the local fire department, ended a man hunt that began at one o'clock this morning, by shooting himself through the head. He will die. His victims, Donald F. Grant, engineer of Company No. 3 of the San Diego Fire Department; Mrs. Bert S. Durham and child, and Peter Sampsell, Captain of Hose Company No. 3, who has a chance to recover.

The firemen were shot. Mrs. Durham and child were beaten to death while asleep in their room in a downtown lodging house, the murderer using a steel bar. After killing his wife and child, the man vanished, and up to the time he shot himself had been sought by the police and citizens. The motive was revenge so far as the shooting of the firemen are concerned, but why he killed his wife and child is a mystery, although Mrs. Durham feared for her life for some time. Durham planned the crime in a cunning manner. He turned on the fire alarm and waited at the box for the arrival of the firemen and then began a deadly fusillade.

Engineer Grant was killed as the engine drove up at the curb. Sampsell and Elliott were similarly shot and then Durham made his escape and is supposed to have gone to the room occupied by his wife and crushed the skulls of Mrs. Durham and child.
