Schooner Echo.—The schooner Echo of the Simpson Lumber Company fleet crossed in over the bar this afternoon.

Gets New Man.—E. S. Gear, a photographer, has taken a position at Walker's studio and will assist Mr. Walker in the photographic work henceforth.

Stage Passengers.—The stage passengers who went out on the Roseburg stage this morning were A. C. Baker, Alec Rudberg, Warren Powell and C. McGovern.

Basket Social To-Night.—A basket social will be held this evening at the school house at Flagstaff. It will be for the benefit of the church congregation holding services Sundays at the school.

Opens in September.—The school at Flagstaff will open September 9th for a nine months' term of winter school. Miss Annie Wickman will be the teacher. This is the third year she has taught at the Flagstaff school.

Opens Auto Repair Shop.—I. R. Tower has placed an expert mechanic in charge of his garage and will be prepared to make all kinds of automobile repairs, clean cars and do brass polishing. This will fill a much-needed want on Coos Bay.

Open-Air Service.—Instead of their regular service in the church, the Presbyterians will go as a congregation to Landrith's Grove, North Coos River, Sunday morning. They will unite with the people at Myrtle Bank schoolhouse in an open-air service in the grove. The congregation will leave at Alice H. landing at 9 A. M.

Personal Notes

C. MCGOVERN, the timber cruiser, has gone to Roseburg on business.

HUGO QUIST left on the Redondo for San Francisco, where he will spend part of his vacation.

MARIE THOMASON went to North Bend this morning where she will spend a few days with friends.

MISS ANNA RUSSELL of Stockton, Calif., arrived here this week to make her home with her sister, Mrs. F. E. Hague, and to attend school next year.

ROY McCLALLAN, proprietor of the McClallan Hotel at Roseburg, is in the city. He will meet his son, who will come from Portland on the next trip of the Breakwater.

CHRIS ANDERSON of Grays Harbor is visiting on Coos Bay. Mr. Anderson is engaged in the business of getting out large spars for shipbuilding and other purposes.

AL NEILL is expected here on the next M. F. Plant for his bout with Jess Day on August 20th. He wires that he is in good shape and will easily make 160 pounds for the bout.

D. J. MITCHELL and wife, Coquille; Mrs. F. E. Schroeder, Myrtle Point, and Frank Sanborn, Cooston, were among the Coos county people in this city today.—Roseburg Review.

A. C. BAKER, inspector for the Northwestern Mutual Fire Insurance Company, who has been in the city to inspect the new Smith mill, left to-day on the Roseburg stage line.

CHARLES GILBERT, who for a long time was engineer on the locomotive on the Coos Bay, Roseburg and Eastern Railway, writes from Oakland, Calif., where he is visiting his brother, that his health is improving.

JACKSON KINGSLEY of Sitka was a Marshfield business visitor yesterday. He reports that while it is quite dry there, the absence of the wind that is so evident this near the Pacific coast removes many of the bothersome features of a dusty spell.

MISS GRACE E. BAKER, sister of Mrs. F. R. Zug, and Miss Mary Wheeler of Quincy, Ill., arrived on the Drain stage yesterday. Miss Baker is superintendent of St. Luke's Hospital, Cedar Rapids, Iowa, and Miss Wheeler is superintendent of a hospital in Quincy. They will spend a few weeks camping in this region.

Genuine Japanese China at less than half regular price, as long as lasts. COOS BAY CASH STORE, he will TRY THE TIMES' WANT AD.

LIME LIGHT LECTURE play

The Right Rev. Charles Scadding, Bishop of Oregon, will lecture at the Masonic Opera House next Saturday evening, August 13th, 1910, on "The Church of America."

The lecture will be illustrated by two hundred beautifully colored stereopticon views and the net proceeds will be given to the fund for the construction of the new Episcopal Church building at Marshfield, Ore. Reserved seats, 50 cents. General admission, 25 cents.

ANOTHER RECORD HEN.

Hens with records seem to exist in various parts of Marshfield. Since the publication of a story about Constable Cox's fine hen, the following communication has been received by The Times:

"If Mr. Cox's hen did so well, what do you think of a hen owned by Mrs. Abbott of South Fourth street. Her hen is a last year's pullet and is a cross between a Black Minorca and Rhode Island Red. She hatched a setting of turkey eggs and has cared for the flock ever since. The birds are now three months and five days old. The hen has laid between 10 and 11 o'clock every day for the past month and a half."

Myrtle Bank has been established as a branch preaching station of the Presbyterian Church.

Bowerman Coming.—J. W. Bennett today received a telegram from E. D. McArthur, private secretary to governor of Oregon, stating that Senator Bowerman, now acting governor, will be here on the Breakwater to-morrow sure. A reception committee will meet him. Mr. Bowerman is the Assembly candidate for governor and his visit here at this time is in behalf of his candidacy, the carnival affording him a good opportunity to meet many people.

Decorating Expensive.—There was considerable comment along Front street last night and to-day over the cost of some of the special decorations put up or rather the charge made for them by imported carnival company decorators. One man paid $10.00 for a few strips of bunting around his place, another $3.50 for a couple of streamers hung out in front, and a third place $12.50 for some slight decorations. In consequence, many of the business houses are doing their own work to-day or securing local decorators to do the work.

Expect Big Shoot.—J. R. Smith of North Bend was in Marshfield today consulting some of the local gun experts regarding the big shoot to be held in North Bend next Thursday, August 18. He has been advised that the Coquille and Myrtle Point Gun clubs will send a large number of gunners and he is trying to get the Marshfield and North Bend men to take hold with the proper spirit and see that the honors are not taken away from the Bay. A good field has been secured and all that is needed now to make it a big success is the hearty cooperation of the sportsmen.

WILL CHANGE LIGHTS.

Inspector of Light Bureau Says Improvements Will Be Made.

E. L. Sherman, of the United States Light Bureau, Seventh District, came down from Portland, arriving here Monday on his way down the coast on official business. He informed us that all coast lights are being changed from the old style to the incandescent vapor lamp, which will greatly increase the intensity of the lights over the old ones. The new lights will be lighted at Blanco, Umpqua, Heceta Head and Yaquina on Sept. 15th.—Coquille Herald.

NOTICE.

There will be a meeting of the general committee on evangelistic work at the Presbyterian Church to-night at 7.30. All churches wishing to participate are cordially invited to be present.
