

MANY ATTEND CLAM BAKE

People Gather at Simpson Park at North Bend and Have Big Day.

The free clam bake at North Bend to-day was one of the big attractions. People from this city have been going to North Bend all morning and everybody in that city is turning out. Preparations were made to feed several thousand persons. Dr. W. Hayden was put in charge and arranged everything. The menu consisted of clam ten, barbecued beef, steamed clams, bread and butter and coffee. This was Owl's Day at the carnival and the members of the order assisted in bringing together a big crowd for the clam bake.

There is a shooting match at North Bend to-day and to-night there will be a prize fight between O'Brien and Evans of Portland. Both of the mills of the Simpson Company closed down to-day to give the employes an opportunity to attend the clam bake and other events.

They went to Myrtle Point and from there made quite a circuit, returning home yesterday. They killed five deer and two bear, but probably the most exciting time they had was fighting a forest fire. It was in a bad place and the hunters helped some others fight the fire for two days.

BOYS ARE IN FINE SHAPE

EVANS AND O'BRIEN DETERMINED TO MAKE TO-NIGHT'S EVENT DECISIVE AS TO THEIR ABILITY — BIG CROWD EXPECTED.

The Evans-O'Brien bout before the North Bend Athletic Club in North Bend to-night will have one of the largest crowds in attendance that has ever seen a boxing exhibition on Coos Bay, unless all signs fail. More interest centers in the bout, judging by gossip among the fans, than in any event of the kind pulled off here in a long time.

The bout will be an unusually good one as both lads have trained hard for it, as each is determined to, if possible, demonstrate his superiority over the other. Neither is exactly satisfied over the result of the seventeen round go in North Bend on July 4th last, and is determined to make this one decisive.

There will also be some clever preliminaries. The exhibition will start at 8.30 o'clock sharp. Senator Jim Baines of San Francisco will referee.

L. C. Reynolds, when asked about the proposed moving of the mill, said that there was a deal on but that it was not yet closed and that until it was consummated the moving of the mill was not a certainty.

ARRESTED WITH WATCH.

Man Taken Up By Marshal Carter With Property in Possession.

John McCave was arrested yesterday by Marshal Carter for disorderly conduct. When taken to police headquarters and searched it was found that the man had a lady's gold watch in his shoe. He had evidently tried to hide the watch in his shoe when he was arrested. He claimed that some man had given him the watch to keep for him and he could not remember who it was. Marshal Carter however is quite certain that the watch was stolen. Yesterday a man had a watch taken from him in a saloon and Carter is trying to find him. There appears to be little doubt but that the man under arrest who at first would not give his name, stole the watch he had in his possession.
