PROGRESSIVEISM IS NOT POPULISM.

TO THOSE REPUBLICANS in Oregon who lament the attitude of the anti-Assembly and progressive element within the party in this State and who profess to see in this attitude something like the greenbackism of a generation ago and the populism of more recent days, we beg leave to comment this very same analysis of progressivism that prevails in the Republican party all over the nation. It is taken from that very sane and conservative paper, the New York Evening Post, a copy of which was sent to The Times by Elijah Smith of the Southern Oregon Company. The Post says:

"There are not wanting those who think that they can brush aside the popular agitation of to day against certain features of our politico-economic situation by classing it with such wild movements as those of the greenbackers of 1875. But there is, in reality, no resemblance whatever between them. The growth of vast corporate interests, the inherently monopolistic character of some of them, the artificially built up monopolies of others, the enormous largesse which still others get from the people through the tariff, the corruption of Legislatures and city councils through corporation influences—all these things have presented to the American people a problem which has attained gigantic proportions. The necessity of regulating natural monopolies of preventing artificial ones if possible, of putting a check on the abuses of the tariff, of emancipating ourselves from the blight of corruption, has been profoundly borne in upon the people of the United States. Much has already been accomplished toward coping with these evils; much more will have to be done. None of it has been achieved without bitter opposition; at every stage the cry has been raised that those who are not satisfied are ignorant and dangerous meddlers. But still the work goes on; and, though the agitation has been and doubtless will be marked by errors and extravagances, it will not be stopped, and ought not to be stopped, by supercilious comment based on the entirely baseless notion that the attempt to reform abuses peculiar to our modern development is in any way akin to agitations directed against the fundamental and historic institutions of civilized economies."

That describes to a "T" the great issue for which the progressives are fighting all over the country. We submit there is nothing about it to make the righteous tremble. Because the rank and file believe in these things they do not propose to have the old convention system fastened upon them again as that is the first step in boss control. There ought to be no question, and there is none about the allegiance of the many in a contest involving these principles.

CHEERFUL THOUGHT FOR THE DAY.

Bless the babies! Five of 'em are born in the United States every minute.

WHAT'S YOUR HURRY?

Where you going, friend, so fast? What's your hurry? Think of all the joy you've passed in your hurry. Take it easy, spare a minute for pleasant friendly talk. There are blessings all about you if you travel at a walk. There are smiles to cure your worries, kindly words your care to balm. What's your hurry?

Won't the prize you strive for weep? Must you hurry? If it won't, it's surely cheap, Cut the hurry! Many years the world has waited for your message or your song—If the world still waits a little, it will likely get along. And the song will be the sweeter and the message just as strong. What's your hurry?

Life rewards us day by day—What's your hurry? Don't forget to take your pay In your hurry. By and by, you say? But listen; by and by you'll have to rest With a ton of earth and granite pressing firmly on your chest As a delicate reminder that to travel slow is best. What's your hurry?

THE QUIET OBSERVER SAYS:

"Talk about hard times, just think of what they must have been in the stone age."

P. M. HALL-LEWIS SAYS:

"When you see pests in an orchard, you may know the owner has the hookworm."

If a man is really a dead one he is in a grave condition.

Inquisitive people acquire a lot of information that isn't so.

Some Coos Bay people pray as if the Lord didn't know his business.

Some Coos Bay men's ideas of right is that which accets their pockets.

One thing I'd like to see in this country is a larger per capita circulation of smiles.

When it comes to a question of advice most Coos Bay people are ready to agree that it is more blessed to give than receive.

Seeds spoil the berry and the fuzz puts the peach beyond the possibility of perfection. If everything was just right there would be no pessimists.

Here, sir, is your currant pie, Alternating currant pie. First a currant then a fly. 'Neath the crust, alternate, lie.

You ought to be a booster, And boost with might and main; You ought to be a booster For Coos Bay's greater fame. You ought to be a booster— For boosters own this claim.

It must be easy for a doctor to diagnose disease. When called to see a man the doctor says the trouble is too much smoking. If the patient is a woman the doctor says the trouble is due to tight lacing.

Many a man who sadly reflects on the pie like mother used to make fails to remember that he has not the stomach that used to go with the pie, and he doesn't furnish his wife with dough like father did.

How many children are there who have respect for their father and help him? In probably seven households out of ten the children begin complaining of "the old man" before they are ten years old and keep it up until he dies.

$3.50 RECIPE CURES WEAK KIDNEYS, FREE.

Relieves Urinary and Kidney Troubles, Backache, Straining, Swelling, Etc., Stops Pain in the Bladder, Kidneys and Back.

Wouldn't it be nice within a week or so to begin to say goodbye forever to the scalding, dribbling, straining, or too frequent passage of urine; the forehead and the back-of-the-head aches; the stitches and pains in the back; the growing muscle weakness; spots before the eyes yellow skin, sluggish bowels, swollen eyelids or ankles, leg cramps, unnatural short breath, sleeplessness and the despondency?

I have a recipe for these troubles that you can depend on, and if you want to make a quick recovery, you ought to write and get a copy of it. Many a doctor would charge you $3.50 just for writing this prescription, but I have it and will be glad to send it to you entirely free. Just drop me a line like this: Dr. A. E. Robinson, K1491 Luck Building, Detroit, Mich., and I will send it by return mail in a plain envelope. As you will see when you get it, this recipe contains only pure, harmless remedies, but it has great healing and pain-conquering power. It will quickly show its power once you use it, so I think you had better see what it is without delay. I will send you a copy free—you can use it and cure yourself at home.
