LITTLE TALKS ABOUT TOWN

A GRIST OF COOS BAY GOS-SIP GATHERED HERE AND THERE ABOUT THINGS OF INTEREST.

"I tell you that I certainly had an experience last night that I don't want again in a hurry," remarked Mr. Hyde of Portland yesterday, after his return from the Vaughan & McDonald logging camp at Daniels Creek, which had just been destroyed by fire. "That fire came in so quick on the boys that many of them had mighty narrow escapes with their lives. It came so fast that the chickens could not get away from it and many of the fowls were burned alive and some had all their feathers singed off. One old rooster that survived was pretty badly singed and persisted in crowing all the time after the fire was over. The Clinkenbeard and Smith families deserve great credit for the assistance they gave the people who were burned out. They took us all down to their homes and fed and did their best to make us comfortable. It was my first experience with a forest fire and I don't care to repeat it right away either."

"None of us fully appreciate the great harbor we have here on Coos Bay," remarked I. S. Kaufman to-day. Continuing, he said: "I have just received a letter from G. W. Temple, formerly a resident of Coos Bay, who has since made a tour of Europe, and in it he writes of a comparison of harbors that is interesting. In his letter, Mr. Temple says: 'One thing, I made a special effort on my European trip last year to examine very carefully all the important harbors wherever I went, to see what they had, and what was essential to the commerce of each great city's wants in the line of harbor improvements. I found Hamburg, the greatest port in Germany, did not have the harbor area that Coos Bay would have if the whole channel or harbor of Coos Bay was dredged out to a depth of thirty feet or more within the lines now established by the government. Neither had Genoa, Frankfurt, Amsterdam, Rotterdam, Antwerp, London, Glasgow, Belfast, Dublin, Kingston or Holly Head, Glasgow, Scotland, is the greatest shipbuilding port in Europe and has over 800,000 population, with an immense shipping business, and she has not the harbor area that Coos Bay will have when dredged as above indicated.'

AFTER WATER POWER.

Men From Grants Pass Investigate on Coquille River.
Men from Eastern Oregon and Grants Pass have been investigating water power on the south fork of the Coquille River, according to the following which appeared in the Courier of Grants Pass:
M. J. Anderson, Geo. W. Donnell, Fred Williams, of Grants Pass, and G. W. Johnson and W. L. Vanderpool of Eastern Oregon, have recently returned from a visit from the south fork of the Coquille River at a point about thirty miles southeast of Myrtle Point, where they have been examining a valuable water power site. This power was filed upon for the purpose of furnishing electric power and light to the coast cities, including Marshfield, North Bend, Bandon, Coquille City and Myrtle Point. Part of the engineering on this proposition has already been done, and the balance will be completed during the present month. There is said to be from 5,000 to 10,000 horsepower at this point, and a fall of 1,000 feet in the distance of one mile, making this one of the cheapest powers to develop to be found on the coast.

Strike in Curry County Reported to Be Big One.

In regard to the gold find in Curry county, the Gold Beach Globe has the following to say:
W. J. Ward came up from Harbor, bringing with him evidence of one of the richest finds in free gold-bearing quartz ever struck in the northwest. The find was made by an old prospector by the name of Baker, who has been hunting for the lead for several months. The lead can be readily traced for about three miles, and on the surface is of decomposed porphyry rock. The lead is several feet wide and the decomposed rock yields from twenty-five to one dollar per pan. Mr. Ward took a double handful of this dirt from about eighteen inches below the surface and panned it down to probably two teaspoonful and it looks to be twenty-five per cent gold. This sample, together with samples of dry dirt and rock, Mr. Ward has here on exhibition, and it has caused no little excitement. It is pronounced by mining men to be the richest strike ever found in the northwest. The ledge was found on Mt. Efmj, on the waters of the Chetco River, about twelve miles by the road and trail from Harbor.

WITH THE TOAST AND TEA

SOME TIME.

Some time, when all life's lessons have been learned,
And sun and stars forevermore have set,
The things which our weak judgment here has spurned,
The things o'er which we grieved with lashes wet,
Will flash before us out of life's dark night,
As stars shine most in deeper tints of blue,
And we shall see how all God's plans were right,
And how what seemed reproof was love most true.

And if, some time, commingled with life's wine,
We find the wormwood, and rebel and shrink,
Be sure a wiser hand than yours or mine
Pours out this potion for our lips to drink;
And if some friend we love is lying low,
Where human kisses cannot reach his face,
Oh! do not blame the loving Father so,
But bear your sorrow with obedient grace.

And you shall shortly know that lengthened breath
Is not the sweetest gift God sends His friend,
And that sometimes the sable pall of death
Conceals the fairest boon His love can send.

If we could push ajar the gates of life,
And stand within and all God's working see,
We could interpret all this doubt and strife,
And for each mystery could find a key.

But not to-day. Then be content, poor heart:
God's plans, like hills pure and white, unfold;
We must not tear the close shut leaves apart;
Time will reveal the calyxes of gold.

And if through patient toil we reach the land
Where tired feet, with sandals loose, may rest,
When we shall clearly know and understand,
I think that we shall say that "God knew best."

GOOD FUTURE FOR COOS BAY

Rev. Father Hugh Gallagher of Portland Surprised By Development Here.

The Rev. Hugh S. Gallagher, C. S. C., of Columbia University, Portland, a Catholic institution for young men and boys, arrived on the bay this week from the Rose City and intends to remain a few weeks. He expresses himself as highly pleased with the present flourishing condition of Coos Bay, and agreeably surprised at the amazing progress the city has made since his visit three years ago. Father Gallagher is well acquainted with the cities of the northwest, and though he is reluctant of comparing, he nevertheless thinks Coos Bay comes next to Portland in indicating the present prosperity of Oregon.

Columbia University, of which he is vice-president, looks to the coming year with enthusiasm. It draws students from Alaska to California and as far East as the Rockies and sometimes further. Since its founding by Archbishop Christie nine years ago, Marshfield has been represented, and the last few years she enrolled a goodly number from Port Orford to Gardiner. Father Gallagher, while attending to the religious work of the parishes of North Bend and Marshfield, will at the same time be pleased to confer with those who look to Columbia University as a good institution in which to place their sons.

COUNTY SEAT NEWS.

Doings of Coquille People as Told in The Herald.

A panther measuring seven feet nine inches was killed by Herbert Johnson near Fairview the first of the week.

Mrs. C. M. Skeels, who has been in failing health for some time, started for Portland for medical treatment Tuesday. She was taken by way of Roseburg by automobile. She was accompanied by Mr. Skeels.

W. H. Schroeder has received word from the United States patent office to the effect that he has been successful in patenting a folding bedstead in which he and Ed. Elliott are equally interested, which promises to be a grand success in every particular.

E. J. Lamb and family, who have lived at Bandon the past few years, passed through town Thursday on their way to Gravel Ford, the old home of Mr. Lamb, where they will visit for a while. They expect to start soon for a trip to California in company with Mr. B. L. Hollenbeck.

Jerry Hartley, of the Myrtle Point section, killed a large rattlesnake at the Hood ranch one day last week. It is supposed that it came down from the mountains, where the river heads. Many years ago one was seen to pass Coquille on a large sugar pine log which was known to have come from that section.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Nosler returned home Saturday from a trip east of the Coast Range. They visited Mrs. Nosler's mother, Mrs. Miller, who now resides near Sodaville, Oregon. They tell us that the old lady is becoming very feeble. She is now 86 years of age and her recovery could hardly be expected.

Mr. and Mrs. George Hite, Mrs. William Hite, and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Adams of Bandon, started last week for Southern California by automobile. It is their intention to spend the winter in the south, and might possibly decide to locate. They will be joined later by William Hite, who remained at Bandon for the present.

J. P. Kerr of Cunningham recently received the sad news of the death of his aged mother, which occurred at the home of her daughter at Santa Ana, Calif. She leaves two sons, W. T. Kerr, formerly of this city, now a resident of Cornelius, Oregon; J. P. Kerr of Cunningham, and three daughters who reside in Southern California.

Jonathan Snow and son Frank went to the Bay Friday to catch the steamer Plant for San Francisco, where they will meet the Meadames Snow, they having started overland, preferring that route. They are all headed for Southern California, where the old folks expect to remain; while Frank and family will return after a visit. They will stop in or near Los Angeles.
