ROOSEVELT IS GREETED BY LARGE CROWDS IN KANSAS

Takes Part in the Celebration of John Brown Day.

HAS BEEN BUSY MAKING SPEECHES.

People Gather Around His Car and Shout to Hear Him Speak.

(By Associated Press.) OSAWATOMIE, Kas., August 31.—Governor Stubbs of Kansas joined the Roosevelt party at Osage to-day and accompanied him here to take part with him in the celebration of John Brown day. Enthusiastic crowds in Kansas kept the Colonel busy making speeches until late last night. The rain is falling, but the crowds are not deterred. From the time of the arrival here this morning until he was escorted to the Masonic Temple, the Colonel remained in his car at the station while a large crowd of men and women were outside shouting to him to speak. The Colonel wanted to talk with Governor Stubbs' party and it fell to a number of Senators and Congressmen and others to talk to the crowd. They told what a great man was Roosevelt, and that he was carrying out John Brown's work. Roosevelt appeared on the platform a few minutes and told the people he was glad to be in the sunflower State. Leaving the private car, Colonel Roosevelt was escorted by the Fifth Cavalry, U. S. A., to the Masonic Temple, where for an hour he received the citizens of the town. At the conclusion of this reception he went to the State Hospital for Insane where luncheon was served. Later he reviewed the military and other organizations. Then going to the park outside the city which was the scene of the famous battle of Osawatomie, Colonel Roosevelt took part in the dedication of this ground as a State park named for John Brown. Roosevelt's speech was regarded by those who heard it as a studied declaration of the principles for which he stands. Since his return from Africa two months ago he has been silent regarding his views on a specific issue of the day except in a few cases in which he has spoken of particular local issues, but the former President broke his silence to-day. He made no direct reference to the Taft administration, although he expressed his views emphatically on a number of questions with which the administration has been dealing.

O'BRIEN TALKS ABOUT TRIP

General Manager Says Calvin Was Only Looking Over Coal Mines Here.

The following from the Portland Oregonian will be of decided interest owing to the many surmises here as to the real significance of the visit of Vice-President Calvin and party: "No significance is attached to the visit of E. E. Calvin, general manager of the Southern Pacific at San Francisco, to Coos Bay. J. P. O'Brien, local head of the Harriman line, said that he did not believe that Mr. Calvin's visit was connected with any plans for the resumption of work on the Coos Bay-Drain branch line, which was started several years ago and abandoned later. "Mr. Calvin owns some coal mining properties in the Coos Bay country and operates from there a line of steamers, the Coos Bay, Roseburg & Eastern line," said Mr. O'Brien. These carry the product of the mines from that country to Portland and San Francisco. They have a small railroad already to their mines. I am assured that Mr. Calvin and party went to Coos Bay only to look over these properties, and there is no movement on foot at present for the resumption of work on that line."

CHESTER F. HARRIS.

Has anybody here heard Harris? H-A-double R-I-S. Has anybody here heard Harris? He has a smile that won't come off. With all he's proved himself a winner. Hear this great big tabernacle singer. Has anybody here heard Harris? You'll be the loser if you pass him by.

Mr. Lyon spoke last night to the christians and his remarks were so to the point that many in the audience felt ashamed of themselves. His text was: "None of these things move me; neither count I my life dear unto myself, so that I might finish my course with joy," the words of Paul to his brethren of Miletus who endeavored to dissuade him from going to Jerusalem because they knew he would be killed. Mr. Lyon said in part: "Paul in these words represents a type of christianity. His boldness was emulated by the early christians. It is grand to march to battle with strains of music and glorious banners flying, but grander still to work along in a quiet way, as did Paul, amid persecutions and harsh opposition, knowing that he was doing the will of God"

W. C. HAWLEY IN THE CITY

Congressman Arrives at Noon and Will Speak at Meeting To-Night.

Congressman W. C. Hawley arrived in the city at noon to-day. He came by automobile from Roseburg and reached Myrtle Point too late last night to catch the evening train from Marshfield. Mr. Hawley says that throughout the country much is heard of Coos Bay. The big lumber interests here, he says, particularly bring the place into notice in the East and in mercantile circles generally. The improvement of the harbor, which is to be made by the government, has also directed attention toward Coos Bay. Speaking of the harbor, Mr. Hawley said: "I felt pretty well satisfied getting $400,000 for Coos Bay. That is a pretty good price. The money is available now and it is up to the engineers to do the work. The dredge which will be used with the $50,000 appropriation is to be brought here very soon. The fact that the government is to make these improvements causes people to take notice of Coos Bay. "I have heard a good deal of railroad talk. Some think that Hill is intending to make this place a seaport terminus. The fact that the harbor is to be improved is one of the best drawing cards for a railroad. The roads must have a deep sea harbor for a coast terminus, and improvement of the Coos Bay harbor will hasten the coming of a railroad more than anything else." A meeting will be held at the Chamber of Commerce this evening at which time Mr. Hawley will speak. The public is invited to attend and Mr. Hawley says he is anxious to meet all the people and discuss with them the needs of Coos Bay. "You see," said Mr. Hawley, "I am expecting to be nominated and elected to Congress again so I am working along those lines and am preparing for future work in the belief that I will go back to Congress from this district."

HUNTING FOR THOMAS HART

Sheriff of Douglas County Is After Man Who Made a Deadly Assault.

ROSEBURG, Ore., August 31.—Sheriff Fenton and Constable Singleton, who have been conducting the man hunt for Thomas Hart of Wilbur, who is wanted in Roseburg on a charge of assault with a dangerous weapon, have left for the country, where they intend to resume the search for the fugitive. They took with them sufficient supplies to warrant them remaining in the field for several days. In order to evade detection at the hands of Hart's friends the officers went south, but intended to double back some time later in order that they may spend the night watching in the vicinity of Hart's residence at Wilbur. The officers believe that Hart will visit his home should the opportunity allow, in an attempt to persuade his wife to quash further proceedings. Such procedure would prove fruitless, however, inasmuch as District Attorney Brown proved himself cunning enough to secure a sworn affidavit from Mrs. Hart at the time the warrant for Hart's arrest was issued. With this document in the district attorney's hands Mrs. Hart would probably find herself powerless to aid the erring husband in escaping the courts.
