Official Paper of Coos County. OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY OF MARSHFIELD.

LET US GET TOGETHER.

A FORWARD movement, which can easily be brought about, is just at this moment vitally important to the welfare of this city. It is that public sentiment and the progressive spirit of this community, which already is united, resolve itself into an active organized force for the upbuilding of Coos Bay.

Older cities have long ago learned the value of this policy. For years the public of the great city of Chicago looked to such men as Cyrus McCormick, John D. Farwell, Marshall Field, George M. Pullman and Phillip Armour for guidance in matters where the welfare of the city was at stake.

WITH THE TOAST AND TEA

GOOD EVENING.

It is not written, blessed is he that feedeth the poor, but he that considereth the poor. A little thought and a little kindness are often worth more than a great deal of money.—Ruskin.

LIFE'S CHEERFUL ONES.

What should we do without those hopeful souls Who viewing doughnuts, ne'er perceive the holes? The men who see in future naught but good, And with a smile keep right on sawing wood?

Their wholesome presence like a tonic acts, Diffuses cheer, and from our ills distracts; With hearty voices and an air asured, Forebodings gloomy are by them abjured.

Whate'er demands a lively faith to do, You'll find these optimists will carry through; If all the world would pattern from their mind, Life would not be one long unceasing grind. —F. W. B.

A BURNING QUESTION?

Was it insured?

There is nothing quite as empty as an empty compiment.

It's awfully hard to forget a Coos Bay friend who owes you money.

Which is your specialty—pointing with pride or viewing with alarm!

It's usually advisable to give a narrow-minded man a wide berth.

Isn't it wonderful what a lot of kissing one small pair of lips can do.

The only bad habit a man can give up is if he doesn't like to do it.

A sure thing about a man without brains is how he can question everybody else's.

A woman is so naturally contrary she can love a man just because nobody else will.

A woman calls it having an exciting day if she hears how big a neighbor's grocery bill was last month.

By the time a woman remembers the size of the glove, shoe, shirt waist, collar, corset, hose and belt she wears she hasn't enough mind left to be burdened with further statistics.

to do this thing for the sake of Chicago, then I will." The effect was dramatic, and the result was that the assembled bankers unanimously adopted Mr. Field's suggestion.

What Chicago is to-day has been due in a very great measure to the public spirit of men like Marshall Field, and the fact that the opinions and judgment of these men were reflected in the newspapers and respected by the people.

Just that thing is needed right now on Coos Bay. The men of character, courage, genius and wisdom are here, but public sentiment in this community has so long been disintegrated that it is difficult for these men to act together.

The sooner this is done the better. The people of this city need the influence of their fellow citizens of wealth, experience and wisdom.

Let us not defer a step that is absolutely necessary to the welfare and prosperity of this city. Too much is at stake. The united wisdom of Coos Bay will make no mistakes and the united courage of this community can accomplish anything.
