

LYON LAYS LAW DOWN

We Live in Age of Lawlessness, Says He—Splendid Sermon Last Night.

(By Rev. G. LeRoy Hall.)

LYON HITS HARD. "Say, men! If your wives were guilty of the habits many of you have you would sue for divorce."—Lyon.

TABERNACLE PROGRAM.

LYON NUGGETS.

"Some people are too stingy to sing Old Hundred any more; they want to sing it at 99."
"When the church was poor it was pure."
"Some churches think they are the cream of society, but they are so cold as to be justly called 'ice cream.'"
"Many people have a great deal more enthusiasm with the circus rider than they do with the circuit rider."
"The bigger the kitchen in the church the smaller the prayer meeting room."
"They canonized some saints who should have been cannonaded."
"If some people were afraid of imperfection as of perfection, they would be vastly better off."
"Tell me where you place the emphasis in your life, and I will tell you what you are."
"Many people think more of their stomachs than they do of their souls."

For several nights Evangelist Lyon will speak on the ten commandments. Last evening at the tabernacle the first in the series was delivered. The text was Rom. 3:20, "Therefore by the deeds of the law shall no flesh be justified in His sight, for by the law is the knowledge of sin."
"We pass to-night," said Mr. Lyon, "from the gospel of the law. I do not know how long I shall speak, but what I do not say to-night I shall say to-morrow night. We are indebted to the law for the knowledge of sin, according to the text. The little boy was told by his mother to go and wash his face, but he declared that his face was not needing it. His mother told him to look in the glass, and behold, he saw the dirt. Now that looking glass did not make his face clean, it revealed his filth. We need to have the looking glass held before us. We need to cultivate the conscience and we can best do so through the law. I am not a pessimist, but I am frank to declare to you that on every hand we see the spirit of disregard of law."
In the Home.
"There was a time when young people obeyed their parents, but now it seems to have been reversed. A pastor was going to preach upon the rule of the home and some one said, "You better preach it to our children; they run the ranch to-day." If we had better homes we would not have the need of evangelists. Why do girls and boys go wrong and begin the drink habit? It is because they have no home training. Judge Lindsley says he puts the parents in jail when the children go wrong.

In Schools.
"The pupils seem to get the notion they will run the schools as they want them to be run. Many schools are run by moral suasion. I tell you most of them to be run. Many schools are run switch hung up over the motto: "I need thee every hour."

In Society Generally.
"We hear so much to-day about 'personal liberty.' The great beer guzzling soak will stand up before the bar and swagger back and forth and talk about 'personal liberty.' Why, bless you, he would not know the declaration of independence if he should see it across the street. If I should take a big club and start down the street some day and swing it about every way I myself choose to, because I thought I had 'personal liberty,' I'd get pulled up mighty quick. My personal liberty ends where your personal good begins."

No Other Gods.
"With this introductory consideration, let us look at the first commandment, 'Thou shalt have no other gods before me.' God says we are to have no graven image either, nothing which we make for our God. We are to have no idols then. Some people worship their children. Some worship intellect. Some worship culture. I tell you this will not bring everlasting life. Some worship their clubs. Clubs are all right if you have time for them. Some worship fashion. If some women paid as much attention to what they put inside their heads as they do to what they put on and outside their heads they would be a great deal better off. Some worship appetite. If the men and women would exchange the habits of life, say the tobacco habit for instance, how would you men like it? Some men will stick to a drink habit. A man and his dog go into a saloon; after a time they come out. The man staggers about, the dog walks off straight. You never saw a pig put his fore feet upon a bar and drink! What is your object of worship? "Ye cannot serve God and Mammon." The Bible does not say it's wrong to serve God and Mammon, but it says it is an impossibility."

NEIGHBORHOOD MEETINGS.

Meetings will be held in the following homes on Friday morning from 10 to 10:30:
Mrs. Marsh, North First street.
Mrs. W. E. Smith, Commercial avenue.
Mrs. E. H. Joehak, Elrod avenue.
Mrs. R. E. Colgan, South Fourth street.
Mrs. Butts, Bunker Hill.

TABERNACLE NOTES.

A specially fine song book is being used in the meetings, "Hymns For His Praise." Everyone should obtain a copy. The boys pass with them through the aisles during the song service.
Decorators at work in the Tabernacle yesterday did much to make the interior more attractive. A new roof also has insured the attendants against coming rains.
The orchestra is doing good work, but more recruits are wanted.
Mr. Harris and the chorus are preparing a special musical program for Saturday evening.
The afternoon meetings are proving among the most helpful of the entire series. The attendance is increasing.

The Fall season on the Columbia will open on September 10th, and at least four plants on the lower river will be operated.

A few classy fixtures left. They will be sold at a very low price to make room for a new shipment that is due. Come in and see them; the price will surprise you.

HAWLEY SPEAKS IN MARSHFIELD

priation for something which was not recommended by the engineers President Taft would have vetoed the whole bill, which he came near doing anyway.

"The appropriation that I had the honor of getting this time was nearly twice as much as was ever given by the government to Coos Bay before and amounts to nearly half of all that was ever appropriated for the harbor. I also got $50,000 for the dredging of the harbor channel. I am much interested in the place and this is only started. I have only begun on a plan which, if I am returned to Congress, I hope to work out. I cannot give you a railroad, but I can bring about such harbor improvements that the railroads cannot afford to stay away from Coos Bay."

Other Work in Congress.
Mr. Hawley said that for other purposes in his district he had secured appropriations amounting to $470,000. He had helped bring about the passage of a bill which provides that the old war debt due Oregon be paid. He also had much to do with the defeat of the Lefean apple box bill, which was so designed that it would have brought a great loss upon the apple growers of Oregon. Mr. Hawley spoke of the live stock interests in this State and said that the farmers and fruit growers were to be assisted by the government so that the agricultural interests could be advanced as much as possible. In closing, Mr. Hawley said Coos Bay had a great country behind her and that the time would come when this would be a great seaport and would be receiving millions of dollars annually for handling the imports and exports.

PROGRESS.

We are sending word by wireless; We've a cooker that is fireless; The inventors all are tireless In their efforts to invent things which shall be both strange and new;

We have airships that are gasless; We have railroads that are passless; But a country that was classless, Though we all hate snobs like poison, would appeal to very few.

We have some rooms that are heatless; We have dinners that are mealless; We have wheat pits that are wheatless.

And the day no doubt is coming when the horse will disappear; We have wagons that are shaftless; We've a White House that is Taftless; But a city that is graftless Seems to be a thing they haven't built upon this hemisphere.

RESULT IS IN DOUBT

Primaries in Idaho Close But Not Known Who Is Nominated.

(By Associated Press.)
SPOKANE, Wash., Sept. 1.—Forty hours after the close of the primaries in Idaho the returns fail to decide whether Governor Brady has been renominated or defeated by the thousands of second choice votes cast for Paul Glasgow. B. F. O'Neil of Wallace is apparently beaten.

STATEMENT NO. 1.

Why all this fight against Statement No. 1? Is it not right for the voters of Oregon to say through the ballot box, whom they desire elected to the United States senate? If it is not right, why is it not right? Why the determined purpose to elect a legislative assembly that will so amend the direct primary law as to dispense with the Statement? It is not obligatory upon any candidate to pledge themselves to the same, they may ignore it if they dare, but they do not dare, and that is the reason for their desire to eliminate it from the law. No legislator who takes the "Statement" as an ante election pledge cannot vote for the senatorial candidate who will conserve the interests of the trusts and combinations. He dare not break faith with the voters who elected him. He cannot sell his integrity for a few dollars to the "interests" and return home and face his constituents, at least as to the matter of a United States senator. The voters of Oregon have seen fit to name their choice for United States senator, and to adopt a law whereby they can pledge their legislative candidates to "represent" them in the election of such officer. It is a neat piece of legislation, and is directly and wholly in the interests of the common people of the state. It is like a red flag waved at a bull to all those who want unfair advantage in legislation. It is a "bugaboo," pardon the homely word, to all who want to be free to barter away, and make merchandise of, the welfare of the masses to all who want to see a "figure four," or some other figure, "and four eighths." Why is it that there are legislators who are unwilling to do that which the fundamental principles of our government requires them to do, viz.: represent the voters who elect them? Doubtless there are some who are afflicted with the anti-Statement No. 1 imbecility who are conscientious in their convictions, but to be on the safe side only those who are willing to promise to do that which they ought to do can be safely trusted. And that is the reason why voters of Oregon will see to it that a majority of the next legislative assembly will be pledged to Statement No. 1.—McMinnville Telephone-Register.

ARE YOU READY?

The chance for which you have waited long
May come before you lie down tonight—
Are you ready?
Have you learned your part, is your courage strong,
Are your muscles hard, is your armor bright,
And your purpose steady?
You have dreamed and hoped you have gladly planned,
And the chance is still that you need, you say:
But could you grasp with a firm, strong hand
If the chance you lack should appear to-day?

A thousand others may watch and wait
For the chance you crave and the chance you need—
Next month, next week, it may be too late,
Though your fitness then may be fair indeed,
And your purpose steady!

COOS RIVER APPLES GOOD

County Inspector Finds Fruit in Fine Condition and Yield Large.

P. M. Hall-Lewis, the county fruit inspector, has returned home from an inspection trip up the south fork of Coos River. He says that the apples are ripening fast and that there is a fine lot of fruit on the river ranches. He found very little disease. Mr. Hall-Lewis brought down some samples of the Gravenstein apples on the Anson Rogers farm. They are of a fine color and proper shape and size. They are on exhibition at the Chamber of Commerce rooms.
Mr. Hall-Lewis says that in the Coos Bay district of the county alone this year the yield of Gravenstein will be probably 5,000 boxes as that the total crop of all varieties of apples this year in the Coos Bay district will be from 12,000 to 15,000 boxes. This is exclusive of what will be produced in the Coquille Valley section.

Stafford's Ice Cream

That's the only kind of cream we handle — except chocolate cream — although the printer the other day left the word ice out of our advertisement. May be he thought it was such a hot proposition that it did not need ice.
Pure ice cream is good food. It is more than a mere dessert. It is one of the most nutritious foods, being easily digested, wholesome and very nourishing. Stafford's ice cream is an absolutely pure food product, no cheapening adulterant used whatsoever. Ice cream with Stafford means simply frozen cream sweetened and flavored.
