STEAMSHIP WATSON WITH 92 PASSENGERS GOES ON ROCKS

Believed That Vessel Is Not Badly Damaged and Can Be Floated.

ALL ON BOARD ESCAPE INJURY.

Steamer Buckman Rescued the Passengers in Response to Wireless Message.

SEATTLE, Wash., Sept. 2.—The Alaska-Pacific Company's steel steamship Watson, which left Seattle for San Francisco with ninety-two passengers, went on the reef at Weddell Island, east of Cape Flattery, in a dense fog at midnight. The vessel is not believed to be seriously damaged and none of the passengers were injured. The passengers were taken to the beach and early to-day embarked on the steamship Buckman for Seattle. They will arrive here this afternoon. The Watson is not taking water and the crew is on board the vessel. The Buckman is a sister ship of the Watson and was passing up the straits when she picked up the Watson wireless distress signals. It is expected that when the cargo of the Watson is hoisted she can be taken off the reef without serious trouble.

Gowanlock, representatives of the firm, are here looking after the removal of the machinery from the mill. 50,000 MEN OUT OF WORK

Labor Troubles in London Cause Lockout in Federal Ship Yards.

LONDON, Sept. 2.—Lockout notices were posted in all federal shipyards to-day advising the members of the Builders' Society that their services are dispensed with after to-day. Fifty thousand men are affected. The strike is due to the strike yesterday of the riveters at the Walker shipyard of Newcastle-on-Tyne. The employers claim the employees have broken their agreement.

WANT BETTER FOREST PROTECTION

Three Prominent Lumbermen of Washington Will Present Their Views As to What Steps Should Be Taken.

(By Associated Press.) SEATTLE, Wash., Sept. 2.—Three of the principal lumbermen in the State of Washington, Alexander Polson, C. F. White and G. S. Long, departed for St. Paul last night to present to the delegates to the national conservation congress their views on the better protection of the natural forests. They will recommend that the forest service should put a large force of men at work cutting down the old snags and removing accumulations of dry timber from the forest reserves. Snags, they assert, offer the greatest danger to forests. They also want trails cut in all directions through the forest reserves to aid employes in promptly reaching forest fires. The forests should be laid off into plots of convenient size, separated by wide fire trails which should be cleared of dead woods and underbrush and an efficient fire patrol service should be established.

LYON FLAYS LAWBREAKERS

Chicago Evangelist Delivering Some of Best Sermons Ever Heard Here.

TABERNACLE PROGRAM. TO-NIGHT. 7.30 P. M., open air meeting, foot of Commercial street. 8.00 P. M., Mr. Lyon speaks in Tabernacle on "Graft, Gossip and the Social Evil." SATURDAY. 7.45 P. M., evening service. 9.00 P. M., special musical program. SUNDAY. 11 A. M., union morning service. 2.30 P. M., band concert. 3.00 P. M., young peoples' rally. 7.30 P. M., evening service.

With the first sermon delivered in the Tabernacle last Sunday morning after a hard journey across the continent, and in each service since, Clifford Hall Lyon has won the hearts of the community. A large crowd last night nearly filled the Tabernacle. He is certainly a strong preacher. Having been a professor in a college and having traveled extensively in Europe and other foreign countries, Mr. Lyon is splendidly equipped for his work.

This week he has been delivering special sermons upon the ten commandments. He certainly knows the Bible. His afternoon public addresses in the Tabernacle at 3 o'clock are beyond the average in evangelistic campaigns. The people of Coos Bay might well afford to set aside all labor unnecessary and attend these meetings while this master of His message is with us.

The Tabernacle has been well lighted and decorated. The evangelist voice could be heard in all parts of the room to good advantage last evening. His voice was clear and his hearers were appreciative to the last word even though the hour of closing was nearly 10 o'clock.

Mr. Lyon thinks that a man who swears displays a weakness. Taking the name of God in vain is indicative of there being something radically wrong in a man's head or rotten in his heart. He dealt out shoulder blows to the Sabbath desecrators right and left. Many went home with sore heads. For the man who commits murder, Mr. Lyon said it mattered not whether the murder was done all at once or by piece meals. It was murder just the same. There are habits which kill the flesh, then the mind and afterwards the will and finally the soul.

There is no use in wishing a better evangelistic soloist than Mr. Harris. He could command the attention of people anywhere. His work in this meeting is important and he knows how to do it. His solo last night, "Was That Somebody You?" was heartily applauded. To-night there will be a street meeting conducted at the foot of Commercial street.

TABERNACLE NOTES.

The street meeting at the foot of Commercial street will be something unique. Bring your song books and help in the singing. The duet by the two little girls last night well deserved the hearty applause it received. The Marshfield Band will assist in the musical program at the young peoples' rally Sunday afternoon. They will also render several selections before the meeting opens. The musicale to-morrow evening following the sermon promises to be one of the most pleasing attractions of the entire week.

IS FINED FOR STARTING FIRE

J. E. Larson Has Big Blaze in Timber and Is Arrested.

John E. Larson, a rancher living on Coos River, and who is known as "Sailor Jack," was arrested yesterday by Jess Smith, the deputy fire warden, on a charge of setting fire to the brush without a permit. He was brought before Justice Pennock. According to the statement of the fire warden, Smith and others were fighting fire on one side of a mountain. They happened to cross over on the other side of the mountain and found a big blaze. Larson was lighting brush and had started a fire which ran up through the timber on the side of the mountain. Larson did not deny that he had started the fire, but claimed that he was burning on his own land. Justice Pennock fined him $25.

It is illegal to start fires at all now without a permit and recently the Governor sent word to the fire wardens not to issue any more permits, so no one has a right to start any fires at all now.

ROOSEVELT IN OMAHA

Makes Speech This Afternoon and Is Entertained in Various Ways.

(By Associated Press.) OMAHA, Neb., Sept. 2.—Entering Omaha at an early hour to-day without special demonstrations by the people of the town, Colonel Roosevelt was escorted quietly to the Omaha Club, where a breakfast was served to a small company including Senators Barkett, Brown, Dolliver and others. After breakfast, Governor Shaleberger and Mayor Dahlman of Omaha called on Roosevelt. At noon the Colonel was a guest of the Omaha Field Club, at a formal luncheon to four hundred guests. Colonel Roosevelt will deliver his Omaha speech in the auditorium late this afternoon.

Shortly after luncheon the veterans of the Grand Army of the Republic and the Spanish-American war visited the Field Club and shook hands with Roosevelt and were briefly addressed by him.

THE WHEAT MARKET.

(By Associated Press.) CHICAGO, Sept. 2.—Wheat market closed to-day as follows: September, 99 3/4 c; December, $1.03 3/4; May, $1.09 1/2. PORTLAND, Sept. 2.—Wheat unchanged. TACOMA, Sept. 2.—Wheat unchanged.

The general disposition of late seems to be to place a portion of the burden of blame on the automobile; whiskey and cigarettes were probably tired of carrying it all, anyhow.

NEW MINE OPENING.

Prospecting Work Being Done at Smith-Powers Camp. William Sharp was in the city to-day from the Isthmus Inlet camp of the Smith-Powers Company, where he has been working at the coal mine which is being started. A new shaft is being opened. Several openings have been made, but they were not satisfactory. It is a volcanic country and the veins are broken in places and the openings which were made did not prove suitable to develop further. Mr. Sharp says that the new lead which is being opened will probably be a good one.

Robber Shoots Fireman and Then Meets Death at Hands of the Engineer.

SEVERAL TOOK PART BUT MADE ESCAPE.

Only Meagre Details of the Affair Have Yet Been Received.

(By Associated Press.) COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., Sept. 2.—Only meagre details have been received of the holdup of the Colorado Midland train three miles west of the divide and thirty-two miles west of here late last night. The unknown bandit who was killed by Engineer Frank Stewart, was not alone in the outrage. Two men were seen running from the scene immediately after the killing. Two suspects are under arrest. The train was making a siding to allow the passage of another train, when Engineer Stewart and Fireman Paul Boehman were ordered to stop the train and alight from the cab of the engine. Both men did as ordered, but Boehman attempted to escape by dodging under the baggage car. As he did so the bandit stooped and shot him, when Stewart picked up a rock and hit the man a death dealing blow on the head. As the bandit fell he fired at Stewart, the bullet hitting the engineer on the left thigh. Stewart lost a great amount of blood but he will recover. The desperado died a moment later.

MAKES A RECORD.

Regarding the record made by the Breakwater on her five-day schedule, the Portland Journal says: Running 600 miles on an average time of three days and six hours, for 26 trips, is the record of the steamer Breakwater, Captain Macgenn, while she has been on the "flying" schedule between this port and Coos Bay. Captain Macgenn said this morning that since the steamer went on the five-day schedule in the early part of May she has made the round trip from Portland to Coos Bay, a distance of about 600 miles altogether, in record time, and that during the 26 trips she has not lost an hour. When she sails to-morrow morning she will be on her last trip on the five-day schedule, as after that she will make the round trip every seven days.
