Died at Templeton—William D. Walker, aged 81 years, died last Monday at the home of his son, G. M. Walker, at Templeton. He was a native of Maine, had lived most of his life in California and during the past few years had made his home with his son.

Many Snags.—The government dredger which has been working in the north fork of Coos river is now down below the forks. The dredger has been taking out many snags. navigation. The difficulty of course is to keep like obstructions from getting into the river again. The dredger will work on down the river and may go up again and cover the ground over which it has worked.

YOUNG OLD FOLKS.

The Change That Has Come in Men and Women in a Century.

There is no fact more striking than the way modern life is pushing back the period of old age. Less than a century ago a man was old at forty. You have only to pick up Jane Austen's novels to find gentlemen of thirty-five described as middle aged. At sixty they were knitting in their dotage. And there is Mr. Pickwick—that dear, delightful, benevolent old gentleman of forty-five.

Fifty years ago when a man reached the age of forty-five he grew a beard under his chin, bought himself a pair of drab gaiters and a white neckcloth and spoke with anxious concern of the rising generation, whose manners were so different from those he had known as a "young man." In our generation thirty-two is outwardly indistinguishable from fifty-two, save in that the former has a slightly more youthful tint in its cheek and its waistcoat.

As for the fair sex, the young old lady is all but extinct. The pretty vivacious matron you admire at a garden party may have seen twenty-five or seventy summers. As Queen Alexandra not long since said to Miss Adellina Patti, "We two are two of the youngest women in England." The illustrious royal example has been so sedulously followed that the ladies—always young, always active, always in the height of fashion—may be said to laugh in the very face of Father Time.—London Strand Magazine.

China's First Guillotine.

China has just received from France its first guillotine. It will be set up inside the new prison, as, according to recent regulations, executions will no longer be public. The penalty of death as laid down in the old code had six degrees—death by torture, immediate decapitation and exhibition of the head, immediate decapitation without exhibition of the head, decapitation after some months, immediate hanging and hanging after some months. According to the new code the death penalty is in four degrees—immediate decapitation, deferred decapitation, immediate hanging and deferred hanging.

Made To Order SHOES

While we carry the best factory shoes that money can buy, peculiarities in the shape of certain men and women's feet, require a certain shape that can only be secured by having the shoes made to order. Our expert shoemakers can fit any foot so that comfort and wear are secured. Another thing is that most of the factory-made shoes require new soles after being worn a short time.

Lund's Made-to-Order Shoes have been known to wear more than a year without resoling. This is because he uses only the best leather.

In view of these facts why not help yourself and your city by patronizing home industry?

It will be worth your while to come in and inspect the stock I have just received from Prister & Vogel's tannery at Milwaukee. It will enlighten you on leather and will enable you to realize what makes the big difference in shoes or harness.

And remember the chance is still good for you to make a quarter on repairing shoes. Ask me how.

WONDERFUL ALASKA.

Looking For a Place to Fix Her Star in the Flag.

Nothing less than the dissolution of the nation will prevent the organization of the state of Alaska. In 1850, when California was admitted into the Union, she had no lines of railway, telegraph, roads or business connecting her with the other states and was thought to be only valuable for placer gold. Her agriculture and trade, her railroads and present grandeur have grown since her admission. Alaska is a greater country and richer in all its natural resources than California was in 1850. Alaska has more gold than California and Colorado, more copper than Montana and Arizona, more coal than Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Ohio and more fish than all other American waters combined. Her output of gold and fish for last year amounted to nearly $32,000,000 and had increased from $15,000,000 in 1900. Her total cash trade with the rest of the United States for 1909 amounted to more than $52,000,000, while that between China and the United States amounted to only $48,000,000. She is a better customer to the merchants of the United States than Hawaii, Porto Rico or the Philippines. The trade value of every white man, woman and child in Alaska with the United States for 1909 amounted to $1,302.75, while that of every inhabitant in Hawaii amounted to only $277.65, Porto Rico to $48.51 and the Philippines to $3.30.

Alaska has a better climate and greater agricultural capacity than Norway, Sweden and Finland combined. Her rich and fertile valleys are capable of supporting a much larger population than that of the three countries named, without mentioning the population which will be supported by her mines and other natural resources.—James Wickersham in Collier's.

Dramatists and Children.

According to an observer, writers of plays are generally childless. He says, "It seems that the successful dramatist is at the end of a series and never leaves a successor." Look down the list of them, from Gilbert to Shaw, and you will find never a child. Further search brings up Thomas Hardy, Barrie, Maeterlinck, Pinero, Cecil Raleigh, Maugham, Locke, Granville Barker, Frederick Fenn, Louis Napoleon Parker, and only Henry Arthur Jones and Hall Caine are dramatists with children.

Lightning Victims.

Lightning sometimes merely stuns and apparently kills without actually destroying life. In addition to the use of artificial respiration, it is necessary to provide for the restoration of the natural flow of the electric currents, which is done by placing the patient in a good conductor. A warm bath may answer the purpose.

Witness My Hand.

In the early days only a few scholars knew how to write. It was then customary to sign a document by smearing the hand with ink and impressing it upon the paper, accompanied by the words, "Witness my hand." Afterward the seal was introduced as a substitute for the hand mark and was used with the words above quoted, the two forming the signature. This is the origin of the expression as used in modern documents.
