TIME TO CLEAN HOUSE—THOROUGHLY.

THE INTERPRETER," writing in the October American Magazine, says:

"The men who get what they do not earn from those who earn what they do not get are for the first time since the fall of slavery in this country facing a great moral protest.

"A new fight for freedom is upon us. The predatory interests are active in the Republican party because that party happens to dominate. But the Democratic party has only to show signs of life to find the forces of evil working in it.

"There is no hope in either party. The real hope of the people is to clean out both parties, and make them serve this country.

"It will do no good to change parties. So long as people can be fooled by merely changing parties, the powers that prey will keep that game up, and fatten on it. But the question before the people now is to cleanse the party in power. That may be done only by standing by men like Beveridge in Indiana, LaFollette in Wisconsin, Clapp in Minnesota, Stubbs and Murdock in Kansas; and the insurgent Republican congressmen wherever they are named. These men represent the free element in the Republican party. They are captains in the new battle for freedom in America. They stand for the free man who demands his earnings in this civilization of ours. If his earnings were picked from his pockets to pay unrighteous dividends upon stock watered by the capitalization of unjust laws, the average man would have more savings, more leisure, more time to think and grow and enjoy and improve the world about him.

It is his freedom that the average man needs—his freedom to dominate his own party, to make his own laws, to run his own government, to live a broader, better life than he may live under the rule of the great interests that control the government by campaign contributions to whatever party may be in power. That is what the fight in Indiana means—what it means all over America.

"It is the fight of free men for a free party, that through it they may save a free country."

HAMILTON AND COKE SHOULD BE CHOSEN. THE nomination of Judge John Hamilton and Judge Coke, Republican Democrats of this judicial district, was eminently proper. There are three judges in this district, one Judge L. T. Harris (Rep.) resides in Lane county, and holds over for two years yet; Judge Hamilton (Dem.) lives in Douglas county and is a candidate for re-election, while Judge Coke (Rep.) is a resident of Coos county, and is also a candidate for re-election. The three judges now presiding over our circuit are geographically distributed just as they should be; they are admittedly able and just; the courts over which they preside are unquestionably fair and impartial, and bar and public alike are satisfied with their administration of law and justice. Two are Republicans and one a Democrat, making it a strictly non-partisan bench, apportioned fairly and in accordance with the votes cast by the two leading political parties. There are many excellent reasons why existing conditions should not be disturbed and they will not be if the voters thoroughly understand the situation.

Judge Coke has made a splendid record during the two years he has presided over the court, and is especially satisfactory to the people of Coos and Curry counties, which is his particular portion of the district. No candidate from these counties opposed him in the primaries, and he will appear in the general election against him. Still if Mr. Jones, of Roseburg, although a Republican and on the same ticket, should receive the larger number of votes, he will take Judge Coke's place on the bench.

Judge James W. Hamilton, the Democratic candidate for re-election, needs no introduction to the people of the Second Judicial district. He is one of its native sons, and the entire span of his active life is part of its judicial history. For several terms prosecuting attorney, later on for a number of years the leading member of the Roseburg bar, and for 12 years judge of the court, his name is a household word, and stands for legal ability, uprightness and probity of character. No court in Oregon or, it might be said, in any state, is more respected by the people who have business before it, or more satisfactory to the attorney who has practice at its bar.

There can be no question of Judge Hamilton's re-election, but the Guard would like to see no change in the personnel of the court, and hopes that the voters of parties in marking their ballots will see that the names of both Hamilton and Coke are properly designated. The Second Judicial district wants no change in its judges—Hamilton, Harris and Coke.—Eugene Guard.

EVANS WILL OPPOSE "DRYS"

Hero of Naval Battles Says Prohibition Would Ruin This State.

The Portland Oregonian recently published the following interview with Rear Admiral Evans of the United States navy:

When Rear Admiral Evans was told that a vote was soon to be taken in Oregon on the question of prohibition, he threw up his hands and exclaimed: "What do they want to do? Ruin the state?"

Admiral Evans believes in temperance in all things, but draws the line sharply at prohibition. His personal experience in Maine, when he was commander of the North Atlantic fleet, caused him to take a firm stand against such radical restrictive laws, and resulted in his forbidding ships under his command to visit the harbor of Portland, Me.

"Conditions were so bad in Portland," said Admiral Evans, "that I refused to allow any of our ships to visit that port. When the men went ashore they were met on the dock by a lot of parasites who steered them into some low dives. Thinking that would be the only opportunity to get a drink they gorged themselves on vile, wood alcohol poison, which made them so drunk that they could not even recognize their officer. The actions of the police toward our men was so repugnant that it was not right to allow them to go ashore. It was the worst spot I ever saw in my life.

"We never had such trouble in a city where there were open saloons. In cities where there are open saloons the men knew what they were drinking and could drink temperately. In Maine it was the thought of the last chance to get a drink when they were shown one of these dives, and the vile, adulterated stuff that was sold them, that caused them to become intoxicated and go beyond the bounds of discipline.

"The prohibitionists forced the canteen out of the army and navy. I think it was the worst law that was ever passed. You say they are going to vote to make Oregon dry? Do they want to ruin the state?"

While in the city Admiral Evans commended the Oregon Naval Reserve. He said it was necessary to have a trained reserve force in readiness at all times to reinforce depleted crews and take charge of warships. He said that when a war vessel puts into Astoria or runs up the Columbia river to Portland and the crews are given leaves of absence, the Naval Reserve would have an opportunity to take the vessel out to sea for training. The admiral also recommended boat racing as good training for the naval reserve and said it is a valuable drill for handling small craft.

TO MAKE NATURAL PARK.

Plan to Use Mount Hood for That Purpose.

PORTLAND, Or., Oct. 3.—Mount Hood will be made a national park if a movement now under way is successful. Under the leadership of E. Henry Wemme, petitions are being prepared for circulation all over the state of Oregon. These petitions ask the federal government to withdraw that part of Mount Hood in the forest reserve and other portions included in United States properties, making of the whole a great park similar to the Yellowstone and Crater Lake.

Mr. Wemme intends to ask every commercial organization in the state to lend a hand to secure for Oregon an attraction that will draw many thousands of tourists to the new park. It is thought by Portland people that the project is an entirely feasible one and that the government will give it official sanction. The Portland Automobile club will aid the movement of circulating petitions and in urging along the establishment of the new reservation.
