Many at Ball—The masked ball given by the Knights of Finland in their hall last Saturday night was largely attended and proved to be a very delightful affair. No prizes were awarded, the masking and costuming being purely for fun and many novel creations greeted the on-lookers.

Wood Too Cheap—Through a typographical error in part of the edition of The Times Saturday, the C. A. Smith Lumber company's ad was made to read "slab wood at $1.50 per load," when it should have been 2.05. Manager Booth says he thought he was selling wood cheap but he can't meet the prices made by The Times' printer. At any rate, the wood is going fast, everyone desiring to get in a snugly before the continued rainy weather begins.

Spending Vacation Here—Captain Adam Donaldson, who has been in the city spending a vacation, will leave on the M. F. Plant this week for San Francisco. He has been on the Carlo in recent times and not long ago returned from Alaska, where he made a trip as master of the Homer to the government.

Escapes Disaster—C. A. Woodward, for years a well-known resident of Marshfield, where for quite awhile he was employed as a printer, as an employe of the Los Angeles Times, which was the scene of an awful disaster Saturday. He evidently was in the plant at the time of the explosion. Yesterday August Bickworth received the following telegram from Mrs. Woodward: "Charles escaped injury. Twenty-one known killed and several injured." Mrs. Woodward is a daughter of J. D. Johnson, formerly a resident of Marshfield, and is a sister of Mrs. L. D. Scott, of South Marshfield.

FOUND ASHES IN CLOSET.

Someone Followed Dangerous Practice in Montgomery Building.

R. J. Montgomery, who looks after the building owned by his father, R. R. Montgomery, on Front street, discovered today that ashes had been piled up in a closet on the second floor. The matter was reported to Mr. Montgomery and he investigated and found that in a closet on the second floor someone had been dumping ashes out of a stove. He, of course, had the place cleaned out and is now trying to find who has been putting the ashes there. The practice was, of course, dangerous as had any ashes been put in the closet while still hot the building would have been set on fire.

SUES FOR DIVORCE IN RHYME.

Spokane Man Says Wife "Toils Not, Neither Does She Spin."

Whether G. H. Forth, plaintiff in the suit, or his counsel, J. C. Kieffer, is responsible for establishing a precedent in the Spokane county superior court by telling his domestic troubles in rhyme is not known, but in the following lines incorporated in the complaint are the several charges preferred against Della Forth in an action for divorce: "The defendant toils not, neither does she spin.

In her leisure hours other hearts doth she win
Against the wish and without a husband's consent,
Neither time nor affection on him has she spent
Till patience no longer such conduct can endure,
And a wronged spouse now a divorce would procure."

The Forths were married in Spokane in November, 1904, and have a four-year-old child.
