The annual meeting of the Auxiliary Christian Woman's Board of Missions of this city met at the residence of Mrs. John Mitchell in South Marshfield on last Wednesday afternoon.

The lesson of the day was "The Translation of the Bible." After devotional exercises and the rendition of an interesting program and the discussion of the lesson, the following officers for the ensuing year were elected: Mrs. C. A. Selbrede, president; Mrs. W. B. Cox, vice president; Mrs. E. McCrary, secretary; Mrs. John Mitchell, treasurer.

The next regular monthly meeting will be held at the residence of Mrs. Lester Myrick in Sengstacken addition, on the first Wednesday in November.

A party was given this afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Sengstacken for Miss Doris Sengstacken in celebration of her tenth birthday. From 2 to 5 o'clock quite a large party of her girl friends were entertained. They played games in the house and in the yard and when the hour for lunch came they formed in line and marched to the dining room to the music of a graphophone. The dining room table was gaily decorated and on it was a big birthday cake with ten candles. The little hostess received quite a number of presents from her guests. Those invited were: Florence Flanagan, Bess Flanagan, Stella Lash, Jeanette Upton, Marion Horsfall, Ruth Street, Ruth Golden, Dorothy Byler, Dorothy Horton, Florence Powers, Anna Russell, Helen Merchant, Louise Lockhart, Lillian Seaman, Virginia Clark and Proctor Flanagan and Hutton O'Connor.

Mrs. M. C. Maloney was at home to her friends last Tuesday afternoon from 4 to 6 o'clock. About eighty ladies called at her home at the corner of Second street and Commercial avenue. Wilbur poured chocolate. Mrs. E. Mingus poured coffee and Mrs. W. A. Toye served the ices. Others who assisted in the dining room were Misses Jessie Chase, Nellie Tower, Mamie Mahoney and Genevieve Sengstacken.

The house was prettily decorated. In the living room, where the guests were received, the decorations were in yellow, chrysanthemums of that color and autumn leaves being used with taste to adorn the room. The lights were covered with yellow shades. In the dining room the decorations were blue and the candles and lights were covered with blue shades and blue hydrangias were the only flowers used, making a very pretty blue effect in the room. The ladies who assisted in the dining room were attired in blue and white gowns. The hostess wore a costume of yellow chiffon trimmed with real lace. Mrs. Kaufman wore a gown of black silk and Mrs. McCormac a gray broadcloth. Mrs. Booth was gowned in a blue crepe de chene costume. During the afternoon there was music by the Isaacson orchestra.

A SCARCE ARTICLE.

Really desirable property in the close-in residence sections of Marshfield is very hard to obtain. New improvements are making it continually more valuable. Outside additions can never compete with it, but each new section opened up will make this nearer property more central. We offer 100x140 feet at the corner of 14th and Central—and 160 x130 across the street opposite, at low figures. Either plot can be divided and sold in separate lots. $800 buys a 40-foot lot. I. S. Kaufman & Co. have these for sale.

Don't forget the benefit football dance tonight. Come out and help the boys.

A CARD.

Editor Times—

The report that I have represented myself to be a member of the First Presbyterian church of North Bend, to persons whom I have interviewed in regard to the proposed constitutional amendment advocated by the Greater Oregon Home Rule association is erroneous and false.

The report that I am claiming to be a member of such church in attempting to show those whom it is reported I have interviewed that the church people favor the said proposed constitutional amendment is also false.

For the further information of those who may be interested I desire to say that I am not employed either by the Greater Oregon Home Rule association or "the liquor traffic," but I am registering voters and expect to get ten cents per name for doing this from the County of Coos, and I have not been promised nor do I expect to receive for my services any other compensation.

I further desire to state that on reading the Coos Bay Times of October 6th, 1910, I first learned that I had been excommunicated from the Presbyterian church of North Bend. I am, however, grateful to receive notice of the action taken, but trust that the congregation of which I was once a member will not be compelled hereafter to pay for newspaper advertisements merely to notify members that have fallen from grace, of the fact of excommunication, when a one-cent stamp would have conveyed the intelligence just as swiftly and more surely.
