LEADERS VS. BOSSES.

AT THE New York Republican convention held at Saratoga recently Theodore Roosevelt gave expression to a sentiment that de-erves repetition in every town in the union.

"The leader leads, the boss drives. The leader holds his place by firing the conscience and appealing to the reason of his fellow men, and the boss holds his place by crooked and underhanded manipulation."

This declaration was made by Roosevelt when he was engaged in life and death battle with the "old guard." The old contingent was controlled by bosses. Roosevelt is a leader and his leadership was sufficient to overthrow the political machinery of the Republican party in the empire state.

Commenting recently upon Roosevelt's utterance and its wide significance the Spokesman-Review said:

"The boss drives from his seat of crooked and underhanded manipulation, the leader leads from the flaming chariot of enlightened principles and sincere devotion to the cause of man."

"It is the cleavage of the forces of light and darkness in the political life of America today, and it was no more apparent in that hall in Saratoga than it is in every political gathering in the United States."

"There are in fact the two dominant parties in the country today. Boss Woodruff and Boss Barnes and "Hot-Shot" Gruber, who stood before that blast of censure, were more distantly removed politically from Colonel Roosevelt and his followers than many members of the Democratic or peoples or independent parties who, though differing on some minor political details, agree with Colonel Roosevelt on the basic principles of uncompromising honesty and fair dealing."

"Two very simple words, in fact, right and wrong, define the differences between the main political beliefs of today; and in a happy phrase Mr. Roosevelt struck this as the key note of the occasion. The boss drives for his selfish interests, the leader leads for the interest of his fellowmen."

WITH THE TOAST AND TEA

GOOD EVENING. Where there is much pretension, much has been borrowed. Nature never pretends.—Lavater.

WHY NOT YOU?

If I were a voice, a persuasive voice, That could travel the wide world through, I would fly on the beams of the morning light, And speak to men with a gentle might, And tell them to be true, I would fly, I would fly over land and sea, Wherever a human heart might be, Telling a tale or singing a song, In praise of the right, in blame of the wrong.

If I were a voice, a consoling voice, I'd fly on the wings of the air; The homes of sorrow and guilt I'd seek, And calm and truthful words I'd speak, To save them from despair, I would fly, I would fly o'er the crowded town, And fly like a happy sunlight down, 'nto the hearts of suffering men, And teach them to look up again.

If I were a voice, an immortal voice, I would fly the earth around; And wherever man unto error bowed I'd publish in tones both long and loud, The truth's most joyful sound, I would fly, I would fly on the wings of day, Proclaiming peace on my world-wide way, Bidding the saddened ones rejoice, If I were a voice, an immortal voice, —Charles Mackay.
