Marshfield, Or., 26, '10.

Editor Coos Bay Times:

I understand that the democrats of this locality are circulating the report that the Hon. B. F. Jones of Roseburg, Oregon, candidate for Circuit Judge, is responsible for the newspaper article appearing in your paper of the 24th under the heading of "Coke's Candidacy."

I wish to say to you that I am fully cognizant of every move that is being made by Mr. Jones and his friends in behalf of his candidacy, and I wish to state once for all, that the article in question was not written, inspired, or counseled in the interests of Mr. Jones' candidacy.

Mr. Jones is running on his own strength and is extending aid to every republican candidate, including Judge Coke.

Very respectfully,
E. L. C. FARRIN.

DREDGE IS AT GRAYS HARBOR

Will Leave There Today For Coos Bay If Weather Permits.

"The dredge Oregon will leave Grays Harbor tomorrow, the bar and weather permitting."

This was the gist of a telegram received late yesterday by Engineer Leefe who is here to take charge of dredging the bay channel. Owing to conflicting reports about the Oregon's departure, Mr. Leefe wired Major Morrow and the response was as stated above.

Mrs. Peter Scott, Sr., whose son, Peter Scott, Jr., is employed on the Oregon, received a telegram that the Oregon was to leave Grays Harbor Sunday. Evidently the rough weather detained her.

If the Oregon leaves Grays Harbor today, she ought to make the run here in forty-eight hours or so if the weather is at all favorable.

"ASHORE"

Aye! for there is no peace for me—
But on the penceless sea!
Never a child was glad at my knee,
And the soul of a woman has never been mine.

What can a woman's kisses be?
I fear to think how her arms would twine.
(I'm longing for the sea.)

So, not a home and ease for me—
But still the homeless sea!
Where I may sing my sorrow to sleep
In a hammock hung o'er the voice of the waves.

Where I may wake when the tempests heap
And hurl their hate—and a brave ship saves.
(I'm longing for the sea.)

—THE SAILOR.

The Myers Marshfield Store in the Coos Building has just received a shipment of fifty dozen pairs of the famous "Yankee Boy" long hose for boys and in order to get them introduced on Coos Bay more fully, has made a special price of fourteen cents per pair. These are the best hose for boys ever brought to Coos Bay and the price is the lowest. If your boy has been scuffling out a pair of hose in a few days, try a pair of the "Yankee Boy." Don't miss the opportunity to lay in a few pairs of these at the special rate of ONLY FOURTEEN CENTS per pair.

MR. TAXPAYER.

Are not your taxes high enough? Can two county governments be supported as cheaply as one?

The cry of division comes from real estate speculators who hope to profit by having the county seat located so as to increase values. You will have to pay for it.
