

TRUANCY LAW IS ENFORCED

Marshfield School Officials Will Compel Youths to Attend Now.

Sheriff W. W. Gage has served notice on W. H. Watson of Marshfield to appear before Judge Hall, October 31 and show reason why he should not be punished for violating the Oregon compulsory educational law. His son, Rollie Watson, is a messenger boy for the Western Union.

Mr. Watson intimates that he will fight the case as he claims there are good reasons why his son is not in school.

Superintendent Tiedgen and the Marshfield school board are planning to enforce the compulsory educational law rigidly. At present, there is no truant officer in Marshfield, Sheriff Gage acting in that capacity.

It is said that there are a number of children in Marshfield who are not in school and whose parents are subject to prosecution for not having them attend.

ROSES ARE IN BLOOM.

Bush at Coquille Has Flowers in Various Stages.

As an evidence of the adaptability of our climatic conditions for the propagation of roses, Mr. C. T. Figg has presented us with a branch of his bushes which is but a little over a foot long with two small limbs, which contain ten fully blown roses and sixteen buds in various stages of development, which is very nice for this season of the year. The rose is of the Cross Taplas variety, and the flowers are of the richest hue and velvet-like appearance, just as pretty as you would see in May.—Coquille Herald.

Portugal Still Uncertain As to Form to be Adopted—Neutral on Religion.

(By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times.)

LISBON, Oct. 28.—The government has declined the invitation to attend the memorial mass for the victims of the revolution on ground it desires to remain neutral on matters of religion. The newspapers generally favor the organization of a government with president and cabinet similar to the United States. The separation of the Church and State is announced in a decree issued by the provisional government today. Another decree declares for freedom of the press.

RAISES BIG APPLES.

A. J. Wilson of Coquille Valley, Has Prize Twig.

A. J. Wilson, residing on Spurgeon Hill, recently brought into our office a branch off an apple tree which he planted out several years ago, to show us what beautiful apples could be grown on that flat, even in so dry a season as the one just past. The twig was but one-quarter of an inch in diameter, and bore eight nice large apples—not the largest of apples—but just the size most popular in the markets, and all of uniform size and shape and without speck or blemish. They were in a cluster at the end of the limb and grew almost as close together as it is possible for them to be placed. They are just now beginning to color nicely, being of a winter variety. The eight apples weighed between three and four pounds.—Coquille Herald.

TAXATION AND SUFFRAGE.

Those who advocate woman suffrage are fond of quoting the colonial dictum that taxation without representation is tyranny, and declare that this, one of "the fundamental principles upon which the country was founded," is shamefully violated under present circumstances as far as women are concerned. Women, they say, are not represented in the tax-paying body. Hence, they conclude, here is taxation without representation.

The colonists declared that taxation without representation was tyrannical—which is one thing. The suffragists pretend they said that taxation without votes was tyrannical—which is quite another thing. There is nothing unjust in requiring all citizens who can afford it to contribute to the support of the government, whether they vote or not. They get in exchange for their taxes the government's protection to life, liberty and property and all the other benefits of a well-ordered society. The colonists never said or thought that taxation and votes went together and nothing of the kind has ever been attempted. Thousands upon thousands of men, as well as women, in this country are taxed without being able to vote. That is the condition of the residents of the District of Columbia. The property of minors is taxed, yet they have no votes. A man may own taxable property in a dozen different states and yet can vote in only one. Finally the tariff is a tax upon every man, woman and child, citizen and alien alike, in the country.

The truth is, that the phrase "taxation without representation" did not refer to individuals at all, but to the dealings of one commonwealth with another. It did not mean that neither this man nor that woman should be taxed unless he or she were personally represented in the government. A man who has not only not voted for those who are elected, and so have power to tax him, but has endeavored to keep them out, cannot be said to be "represented" by them. Yet would any one contend that all adherents of defeated candidates should be absolved from paying taxes because they were not "represented?"

But when men and women are jointly members of the same community; when taxes are laid not upon the women for the benefit of the men, or vice versa; when, finally, they are imposed by representatives drawn from the community and not by outsiders, the dictum is absolutely and utterly irrelevant.

The Snug Fitting Coat Collar—It's Clothcraft!

THE coat collar is one of the things that make a hit with you when you wear Clothcraft. It sits up to your collar as if molded to it.

But it is only one of the Clothcraft points of superiority. There's the style—the shape—the non-breakable coat front—the non-sagging pockets.

And there's the guaranty of the maker—and ourselves—that Clothcraft is pure All-Wool—nothing else.

Yet you get your Clothcraft suit at $10 to $25. Wouldn't it be foolish to take a chance with ordinary clothes—when you can get Clothcraft with the guaranty—for the same or less.
