GOOD CROWDS GREET ORATORS

Republican Speaking Campaign Is Getting Results, Says Chairman Selby.

Chairman Selby reports that very good results are already apparent from the speaking campaign which the Coos county republicans have inaugurated. The meetings are being well attended and more enthusiasm is being stirred up to "vote the Republican Ticket Straight" than has been manifested in several years.

Last night, R. O. Graves and Geo. N. Farrin addressed a good meeting at Allegany. They returned today their meeting last night. Their boat running onto a shoal so that they had to wade ashore but they got there today.

Chas. I. Reigard, August Frizeen, O. O. Lund, A. M. Ross and others had trouble getting to Sumner for their meeting last night. Their boat, the Marshfield, ran onto the mud-flat and stuck fast until about 11 o'clock.

A telephone message from Bandon to Chairman Selby states that a crowded house greeted Judge Watkins and A. H. Derbyshire at Bandon last evening.

Tonight, J. C. Kendall and Geo. N. Farrin will address a meeting at Cooston. Chas. I. Reigard and R. O. Graves will speak at Eastside and A. H. Derbyshire and Geo. T. Treadgold will speak at Myrtle Point.

Meet Thursday.—The A. N. W. Club will meet Thursday afternoon with Mrs. F. P. Norton.

New Engine.—Beale, Conroy and Terry received a new logging engine from Portland a few days ago for their camp on the north fork of the Coquille.

To Los Angeles.—R. E. Shine, formerly of Empire, and family who have been spending the summer at Forest Grove, Cal., have moved to Los Angeles for the winter. They will move to Coquille next spring.

New Slaughterhouse.—G. W. King of the Enterprise market, has moved his slaughter house from Coquille to a location on the waterfront between Pony Inlet and Empire, which is accessible both by boat and wagon.

Bar Changes.—Wesley Miller, who is here from Curry county, reports that the channel of Rogue river at the mouth has shifted so that they have more water on the bar than in a long time. The other day, a new vessel brought in seventy-five tons of freight with ease.

House Completed.—The residence of Chas. Selander on Catching Inlet, which has been under construction the last few months, was completed yesterday. It is one of the largest and most modern homes in the county. The plans and specifications were drawn up by his son, Arthur Selander of Portland.

Get New Hall.—The Marshfield Naval Reserve has secured the Nasburg and Hirst hall at the corner of Front and Alder streets for temporary armory quarters and will meet there Thursday evening. The deal for the lease of the Marshfield Tabernacle unexpectedly fell through yesterday.

Brant Protected.—Cal. Wright, deputy game warden, says that some of the Marshfield hunters are laboring under a false impression—that the so-called "sea brant" are not protected by law. Mr. Wright says these "sea brant" are really "Black brant" from Alaska and are protected the same as the twelve other kinds of geese.

Baptist Annual Meeting.—The Baptist church Thursday evening will hold the annual church business meeting and social. The evening will be varied from business to pleasure and a good time is assured. Election of officers and reports of the departments of the church work will be given. A program will be rendered and refreshments served.

Start Church.—The Seventh Day Adventists today started the construction of their new church at the corner of Seventh and West Commercial avenue. It will occupy a ground space of 26x70 feet. Rev. T. G. Bunch and his father, W. H. Bunch, county superintendent of schools, purchased the site for the church which will be rushed to completion.

Personal Notes

F. W. STEVENS left yesterday for Coquille on business.

F. E. GLAZIER and Mr. Isaacs of North Bend, were Marshfield business visitors today.

MISS ELIZABETH DONNELLY, who has been quite ill, is reported improving today.

SHERIFF GAGE came over from Coquille today to distribute the ballot boxes for election.

MRS. SANDQUIST of South Marshfield, underwent an operation at Mercy hospital for tumor today. She is reported getting along nicely.

I. C. IRBY, formerly clerk at The Chandler but recently proprietor of the Coquille hotel at Coquille, left yesterday for Los Angeles to join Mrs. Irby and the baby.

T. P. HANLEY, democratic candidate for county commissioner, left this morning for the Coquille Valley after a few days spent here with T. J. Thrift in behalf of his candidacy.

M. DOYLE of Wedderburn, arrived here today en route to North Bend to visit his daughter, Mrs. Mather, and to do a little work here in behalf of Storer Pierce, the republican nominee for representative from Coos and Curry counties. Mr. Doyle says all the democrats in Curry county are going to vote for Mr. Pierce.

W. C. T. U. CONTEST WORK.

The plan of awarding medals for proficiency in oratory, the selection rendered to be on the subject of liquor traffic, was originated by Mr. W. J. Demorest of New York, in April, 1886.

The first contest was held May '86, and the following year Mr. Mrs. Demorest introduced the work into the State of California and in less than three years it had spread from ocean to ocean and from the lakes to the gulf; into Canada, Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Australia, Honolulu, South Africa, China, Norway and Burmah. The idea was to present temperance truths in attractive guise to large audiences and up to September 1, 1894, Mr. Demorest had given away 34,000 medals at a cost of $75,000. The Women's Christian Temperance Union was not slow to recognize the value of this educational system and adopted it in 1895.

The history of the work during the past twelve years has been one of uninterrupted success. Every state and territory in the Union has a superintendent who devotes herself to the work, directing a small army of district, county and local superintendents whose competing classes follow each other in rapid succession. The medal contest books have been translated into foreign language and the work is in active operation abroad. 20,000 to 30,000 recitation books being printed each year. An approximate estimate of the number of medals awarded the past twelve years places it at 35,000—each contest represents a class of 210,000 young people have declaimed the principles of total abstinence.

MANY FAVOR PORT ISSUE

Capt. Harris Says Voters Want $250,000 Improvement of Harbor and Inlets.

"Almost everybody I have talked with it is in favor of voting in favor of the $300,000 bond issue for the improvement of the harbor and inlets by the Port Commission and will vote against the Bennett amendment restricting the commission to an expenditure of only $50,000 which would not accomplish anything worth while," remarked Capt. Harris of Sumner, who was in Marshfield yesterday. "Every voter in this port district should be careful to see that he votes on these propositions next Tuesday.

"A few who are opposed to it are, I understand, reporting around that the C. A. Smith Company will get nearly all the benefit of it. It is true that the company will get benefit from it and I believe everyone else on Coos Bay will, whether he is a land owner or not. If the Smith Company will be able to do more business when the harbor is improved, it will mean they will employ more men here and this payroll will help everybody on the Bay.

"Mr. Smith is highly in favor of improvements whether they get direct benefits or not. This was shown a year or so ago when we people at Sumner started the movement to have Catching Inlet dredged out. Mr. Smith contributed $100 personally to that fund and this enabled us to get $100 more from the county. The Smith Company does not do any logging around Sumner and consequently gets no direct benefit from the deeper channel but the improvement indirectly helps them as well as everybody else.

"So you see it is for everybody's benefit to support the plan for improving the harbor and the inlets."

from public platforms in friendly rivalry for these medals.

First a class compete for a silver medal, six silver medalists compete for a gold medal, six gold for grand gold and six grand gold for a diamond medal.

Mrs. Watkins was one of three judges of diamond medal contest held at Salem during recent W. C. T. U. state convention wherein Ben Childers of Eugene, won the medal.

The class preparing for Friday night is very enthusiastic and is sure to give you a treat.
