JUDGE COKE'S CANDIDACY.

COOS COUNTY should cast its solid vote for Judge John S. Coke. He is a Coos county man. He justly ranks as one of the most prominent and influential men of the county. He has earned that reputation through a career of many years during which he has done valuable and consistent work for the advancement of Coos Bay and Coos county. Coos county has never had a citizen who was more willing or more loyal than John S. Coke in upholding the interests of this community.

He is one of the best judges on the bench in Oregon. His record since his appointment has been an enviable one. Of the strictest integrity and a scrupulously clean life he has the highest regard of all who know him and all classes are proud to do him honor and to call him their friends. Coos Bay has never had a citizen more willing and loyal than John S. Coke. Among his neighbors Judge Coke is very popular. In all matters affecting his home city, county and state he is in the forefront when celebrations of a public nature are to be held, and his advice is earnestly and eagerly sought for in matters of this kind.

ODD SCHOOL ELECTION.

One Man the Whole Thing in One Oregon District.

ROSEBURG, Ore., Nov. 1.—Prof. H. J. Robinett, who lives with his family on a homestead in the Cavitt Creek district, 30 miles east of this city, is perhaps the only man in this county, maybe in the state and the entire country, who ever held a district school meeting all by himself. His district is No. 124. The meeting was duly advertised ahead last September. Out of the eight taxpayers in the district only one put in an appearance. This was Prof. Robinett, who proceeded immediately to the transaction of business. He elected himself chairman, then as clerk. Then he elected three directors: Mrs. H. J. Robinett, Wm. Morris and S. S. Morrison, the last named having refused to qualify. All this was done by ballot, and the proceedings were properly recorded in the minute book. An opinion from Attorney General Crawford tells Prof. Robinett that the "meeting" was a legal one in every way. The district has six children of school age, and five of these are of Robinett's family. Six of the eight taxpayers of the district are bachelors. Arrangements are under way to begin a six months' term of school, which Prof. Robinett expects to teach.

NEED OF GOOD JUDGES.

Editor Times:

Present the Judiciary, he it remembered, that the world's greatest statesmen, those who have risen to highest eminence in the councils of men, have often come of humble origin. It is no indication of a man's lack of mental scope, worth of character, or capability, or integrity, or purpose when elevated to the high places in the administration of the affairs of state, that he shall have been born, or lived in some region of relative obscurity. Such a man was the immortal Lincoln, than whom, no man ever lived, closer to the hearts of those the world counted his friends, nor held in higher respect and esteem by those whom differences of political faith caused to be construed his enemies. Let all of us, of whatever political conviction, unite in support of Judge Coke, in whom we have a man of clean life, unsullied record, calm judicial temperament, refined feelings, and unassailable citizenship,—a just and learned judge of tried and proven competence, and indelible fitness for a place upon our Circuit bench. And after we have elected Judge Coke we may well be proud of Coos Bay's representative in our State Judiciary.
