GOV. STUBBS ON PROHIBITION

drunken man during the year.

Second—I assert that in 105 counties of Kansas that I do not know of a conviction for perjury growing out of the prohibitory law.

Third—I assert that the prohibitory law is now as easily enforced as any other law on the statute books.

Fourth—I assert that crime has decreased in Kansas under the influence of temperance legislation. At the present time more than 50 per cent of our county jails are without a prisoner under conviction. Last year 49 of the 105 counties did not send a prisoner to the penitentiary. We have only one convicted prisoner in our county jails for 7,000 inhabitants, an almost unbelievable fact in criminal statistics. And the attorney general estimates 75 per cent of these prisoners are in jail for the violation of the prohibitory law. Of the 860 convicts in our penitentiary only 143 are natives of Kansas. And it is a singular fact that while only 17 per cent of our prisoners are natives, I have figures from the warden at Joliet and Chester, Illinois, which show that 40 per cent of our convicts are natives of Illinois. We have no powerful saloon men in Kansas to use their pull in keeping the criminals they make out of the hands of the law.

Fifth—I assert that the business of Kansas has made remarkable progress since the banishment of the saloon and adoption of prohibition. The records of the State Bank Commissioners and comptroller of the federal treasury which I have with me, show that in ten years deposits in Kansas banks have increased from $69,000,000 to $189,000,000 and during the past ten years under a more rigid enforcement of the law, bank deposits, per capita, have increased from $69 to $113. Since complete prohibition became effective, May, 1909, bank deposits have increased $11,000,000.

Some years ago Carrie Nation purchased and donated to the Associated Charities a home for drunkard's wives. During the year preceding the closing of the joints this home was full to overflowing. Within about a year after the joints were closed there was not an inmate and it has now been converted into a school for girls.

Sixth—Prohibition has worked wonders in the private credit of the state Grocers and butchers tell me that men who were "dead beats" under the drain of the saloons have become debtors of reliability and standing, and bad accounts are a rarity. Garnishment cases have practically disappeared from the courts.

Seventh—I assert that the charge of higher public expenses, on account of prohibition is practically untrue. A bulletin issued by the census department makes a really wonderful revelation in favor of prohibition. It shows that the general and special service expenses in Wichita are $8.21 per capita, in Springfield, Illinois, $11.88, and in Chicago, $15.66. The bulletin shows the cost of the police department at 58 cents per capita, at Springfield $1.26, and at Chicago $2.64. From another authoritative source I get it that the cost of the police and militia establishment in Kansas is only $402,000 annually, while it is $4,700,000 in Illinois, or twelve times heavier with only about four times as much population.

Eighth—During the last decade taxable property of the state has increased $120,000,000 annually, aggregating an increase of $1,200,000,000 in ten years. Ten years ago our property was taxed on a 25 per cent basis amounting to $327,144.00. The total taxable property this year at from 75 to 90 per cent valuation amounts to $2,511,000,000. Kansas today stands second among the states of the Union in property per capita. The census will show that it stands first in home owning citizens.

Ninth—The brewers are wasting their time and their money, too, in speeches and documents trying to arouse public sentiment and reference to pauperism in Kansas. Fifty-seven of the 105 counties of the state have no inmates at their poor farms, Cook county alone, in Illinois, with all its palatial saloons and vibrating breweries, has a little over five times more paupers than we have in the entire state of Kansas. The good state of Illinois has just 100 per cent more paupers than Kansas, according to population. And I venture to say that Illinois would have still more were it not for the temperance progress she has made during the past few years. I have heard a great many mean things said about prohibition, but I have never before heard the charge that it causes pauperism.

Tenth—I assert that Kansas is more free from mental and nervous diseases than any other state in the Union and that authenticated scientific facts will prove that our temperance policy for thirty years is largely responsible for this condition. Kansas has fifty-four counties without an idiot. It has 87 counties without an insane inmate. Cook county alone sends more of her people to the insane hospitals at Dunning than Kansas has in all her charitable institutions of every sort, including blind, deaf, the dumb, insane, inebriates, feeble-minded, incorrigibles and orphans. With twenty per cent of the population of New York, Kansas has less than ten per cent of its insanity. The brewers go so far as to say that temperance increases divorces in Kansas, although we have made it plain to them several times that the first few years of prohibition in Kansas showed a forty-five per cent decrease in divorce cases. Their logic seems to be that a man must get drunk and
