EXHIBITS TO BE SENT EAST

The Breakwater sailing today carried two of the best exhibits that this county has made to the rest of the country, of its horticultural and agricultural products. One of them will go East in charge of the Harriman interests in their car which will be used to display Oregon's resources; the other will also go East in charge of the car that the Hill interests are sending to display Oregon's resources.

As a means of advertising, the value of these exhibits cannot be over-estimated. The apples displayed in both cars are a credit to any district. This was arranged by Brown Bros. of Myrtle Point and Coos County can feel justly proud that it has a section able to produce the stock as shown in this exhibit.

Mr. Peter Scott of Marshfield, is making a fine display of celery; people who are supposed to know say that this territory grows as fine celery as the famous Michigan district or the Santa Anna district in California. It is also intended to have a fine display of cranberries and cranberry vines growing. This exhibit, taken with the general exhibit of farm, lumber and mineral products should give the Eastern people quite an insight into Coos County's resources.

FLIGHT WILL BE SUCCESS

Young Welshman Completes First Part of Trip From London to Paris.

CORBEHEM, France, Nov. 5.—Willows, the young Welshman who ascended at Wormwood-Scrubbs, England, at 3.25 o'clock yesterday, for a flight across the English channel to Paris, arrived here safely this morning. After taking on fuel he proceeded to Paris.

Willows' attempt to renew his flight failed temporarily after having discovered a rupture in the tube which permitted the escape of air. This he set about to repair.

RAILWAY TITLE IS SUSTAINED

T. R. Sheridan Loses Over R. A. Graham's Operations.

ROSEBURG, Ore., Oct. 31.—Mandate from the Circuit Court Appeals at San Francisco was handed down in Federal District court sustaining Judge Wolverton's decision of the case of E. R. Dan vs. the Southern Pacific Company. Judge Wolverton held the Southern lawfully was entitled to possession of the land, which braces a considerable tract adjacent to the townsite of Marshfield, County.

Sheridan instituted his action alleging that he had merely mortgaged the land to the J. D. Spreckels Sons Company, and that they no right to alienate title in fee Southern acquired the property the time it bought out the Spreckels interests. Defending property, it was shown that the had passed to the Spreckels for good consideration, and that nothing had been done by the all owners to suggest that they regret the deal as a mortgage until the Southern Pacific bought in faith and for a valuable consideration.
