WITH THE TOAST AND TEA
THE AUTUMN DEADLOCK.
The melancholy days are here—
As has been sung before:
Too cool to face the atmosphere,
Too warm to shut the door;
Too cool to wear a hat of straw,
Too warm for felts brand new;
Too cool, alas, for clams served raw,
Too warm for oyster stew.

Too cool for ice cream soda drinks,
Too warm for steaming brews;
Too cool by far for skating rinks,
Too warm for football news;
Too cool to doze in lazy cheer,
Too warm to walk the floor;
The melancholy days are here—
As has been sung before.

Only a man with plenty of idle time on his hands can afford to get shaved on Saturday.

Reform in this country seems to amount to this: Abuse of good citizens and a steady increase in taxes.

Two women, who had not met for fifteen years, ran into each other accidentally yesterday afternoon. During the fifteen years their hair had turned very gray. One of the women had put on glasses. One woman had grown very stout and the other very thin. After kissing each other, the women looked each other over from top to toe, and then each one exclaimed, "You haven't changed a bit!"

DORSEY KREITZER SAYS:
"It always makes me mad when an automobile driver toots his horn for me to get out of the way. As though I haven't enough sense to get out of the way of an automobile!"

STORY OF THE DAY.
A little Marshfield boy busted into a grocery store one day with a memorandum in his hand.

"Hello, Mr. —," he said. "I want thirteen pounds of coffee at 25 cents."

"Very good," said the grocer, and he noted the sale and put his clerk to work weighing the coffee.

"Anything else?" he asked.

"Yes, twenty-three pounds of sugar at 7 1/2 cents."

"Is that all?" asked the grocer.

"No, sir; I want forty-six pounds of bacon at 53 cents the pound," exclaimed the boy. "And I would like to have sixty pounds of tea at 45 cents the pound, two gallons of molasses at 20 cents, two eight-pound hams at 25 cents per pound and six dozen jars of pickled walnuts at 30 cents per jar."

"Is that all?" asked the grocer, as he bustled about and finally handed the boy the bill. "It's a big order. Did your mother want to pay for it or does she want it added to her account?"

"My mother," said the boy, as he folded the bill and put it in his pocket, "has nothing to do with this business. It is my arithmetic lesson and I had to get it done somehow." And then the grocer fainted.

Personal Notes

MRS. P. E. LARSON of Allegany, was a Marshfield shopper today.

CHAS. LOWREY has succeeded A. N. Lofgren in the offices at the Smith mill and A. L. Butts has taken Mr. Lowrey's old position as time-keeper.

CAPT. J. M. McINTYRE, manager of the Portland Quarry Company, of Portland, returned to that city today on the Breakwater after a few days pleasant visit with his friend, Capt. C. E. Edwards. Mr. McIntyre's visit was largely one of investigation of the Coos Bay prospects and he expressed himself highly pleased and promises to return at no distant day. He was formerly a resident of Grants' Pass and renewed acquaintance with O. O. Lund and Capt. Roberts while here.

A. J. MORGAN, the well-known and popular representative of the Pacific Coast Biscuit Company, has been calling on the Coos Bay trade the last week.

HAINES has some choice shorts.

A FEW FACTS AND A FEW QUESTIONS

Are you aware that from the end of the pavement on North Front street to the Standard Oil Company's warehouse there is in the neighborhood of 1,200 tons of freight each month to be moved!

Are you aware that all the ice used in the town is manufactured in this section of the town?

Are you aware that the only steamship line that runs regularly between San Francisco and Coos Bay, carrying freight and passengers both ways and refusing no freight offered makes its headquarters in this section of the town?

Are you aware of the fact that the only two boat-building establishments in the town are also located in this section? Perhaps you do not own an automobile and have to hire, or maybe you do not ever use an automobile but the only two garages in town are fenced in by order of the City Dads.

The only foundry in town is also in this section and all of the machine shops of the town are so coped up that they cannot be reached by a legal street.

Are you aware that the business done in that section of North Front street totals very close to three quarters of a million dollars a year?

Don't you think it is time that the citizens of Marshfield woke up to the fact that North Front street fenced in is not a good advertisement for our town.

DR. STRAW—It is reported on the street that you have said that North Front street would not be fixed until a certain member of the Coos Bay Paving and Construction Co., was eliminated. If this is so Doctor, quit your foolishness, be broad and fix North Front street.

P. A. SANDBERG!—It took you just exactly one year after receiving instructions from the City Council to prepare plans and specifications for North Front street before they were presented to the City Council and they could find out that there was some objections to them. Can't you arrange something at least temporarily to relieve this situation without waiting another year?

J. N. NELSON—You are vitally interested and own property on this street and yet you voted against the only proposition that has been brought up in the council for the improvement of North Front street. What have you to offer as a substitute Nelson? Get busy and in the last days of your position as Councilman leave a good record for yourself and fix North Front Street.

TOM COKE!—You advised the writer sometime since that a certain article of his was absolutely true with the exception of the one statement that the engineer was pulling the wool over the councilmen's eyes. Tom, we actually must think there is wool in your eyes if you cannot see the condition of North Front Street.

A. J. SAVAGE,—You seem to be a mild man with no corners. can't you edge up a little bit and fix North Front street?

CARL ALBRECHT.—You have repeatedly said: "Show me and I'll do it." Go down and take a look at North Front Street.

EUGENE O'CONNELL—You have recently built a neat little store house. How in the world do you expect to be able to get into it with North Front Street in the condition it is?

HENRY SENGSTACKEN!—You are a booster, but your smokestack on the cannery has fallen down; you can't bear out your reputation in this: Get in and help fix up North Front Street.

WILL HOLLAND,—Don't it worry you to stub your toes and fall over bridges going in and out from your boathouse. Fix up North Front Street.

E. A. ANDERSON—Your reputation as a County Commissioner is good; the roads throughout the county show results of your care; what about North Front Street?

GUS BENNETT—You are collecting rent from an Agency that does a quarter of a million dollars a year business; you and this agency are letting the flies roost on you, all on account of the condition of North Front Street.

ALBERT SEELIG—You came up North Front Street daily you were noticed this morning carrying a dog; were you actually afraid to allow that dog to walk up North Front Street?

A. H. POWERS—You advised the writer that your lawyer had told you that you will personally be responsible for any accident that could happen on North Front Street, sa as chairman of the committee you ordered it closed. Would you allow the street in front of your property to stay fenced up this way so long? I am inclined to think the Baines estate will say no.

COOS BAY TIMES—Don't you think it is time to "talk it over"? If you don't I hope you will stub your toe and fall the next time you bring your bill around, remember we assume no risks.

Come, let us all get together; North Front Street is a disgrace. We cannot allow our petty jealousies, our difference of opinion or anything else to stand in the way. Everybody boost for North Front Street.

CARBORUNDUM

As a Sharpening Factor

THROW AWAY THE OLD GRINDSTONE

It has served its time. By its use good tools are cast aside as worthless, when in reality they are only dull and rusty. The sandstone has clearly demonstrated that it is the most expensive implement about the shop or farm, and just as long as it is used, just so long dull tools will exist.

WE HAVE ON DISPLAY the largest assortment of carborundum grinders and sharpening stones ever shown in Marshfield and our prices are all plainly on each article. — See our window display.

REMEMBER Carborundum cuts 31 times faster than any other stone.
