THANKSGIVING THOUGHTS.

THERE will be those of course, who see disaster looming up just over the horizon. The pages of history are replete with false prophets of this kind. To these an April shower becomes a violent storm; a slight wind a hurricane. A bit of petty thievery shatters their belief in the honesty of all mankind. Accustomed to look on the dark side of every issue they face, the brighter things of life lie wholly beyond their grasp.

To such as these there is little that can be said. The folly of their reasoning they would be unable to comprehend. And yet Coos Bay in common with the rest of the country has suffered from the ill-conceived notions of these men. We have been given to understand in painfully phrased talks that Coos Bay is tottering on the brink of doom. We will not get a railway; the harbor is a bluff; our resources are imaginary. These distorted facts are peddled by the pessimist wherever he can secure a hearing.

There is no solid foundation for these reports. Things are looking up not down. The entire country is advancing at a tremendous pace and Coos Bay is keeping step with the rest of the country. The world, even including the sinners, is better today than it ever was before. We are getting closer each year to the ideal—and nearer to a railway.

Contrast Marshfield today with Marshfield four years ago. Paved streets have replaced mud holes. A pay roll has taken the place of a promise—Every man who wants to work can get a job. Our commercial institutions are all in active operation. There is nothing to warrant gloom but everything that makes for gladness.

Ponder over these things on this Thanksgiving Day. Is there not, after all room for hope and cheer in these facts? Our rent may be higher and the price of foodstuffs a little more, but we have the price to pay it with. For this let us be thankful.

Are we downhearted?
No!
Today we will give thanks.
