REFLECTIONS OF A STRANGER

Mr. Editor:— I am becoming attached to your city. Sometimes I have had to fight "the hardest kind" against discouragement from the reflection of that "spirit of harmony and unity of purpose" upon which you so ably complimented your citizens the other evening.

Like the majority of newcomers, I am interested in real estate. In a small way, I have been more fortunate in real estate investments than in any other kind, and, furthermore, I have understood that real estate prices form a good basis for judging the true conditions in a community.

There is "cant" in business, as well as in religion and society. You don't need to inquire, anywhere, to find out that "the telephone service is something fierce"; that the public service corporations are robbing the people right and left; or that "the city council is the worst ever."

So, also, is ever present the familiar cry that "real estate prices are out of sight." This, on the part of buyers, is of course proverbial. So when was wise to it. "It is nought, saith the buyer, but when he is gone his way, then he boasteth."

And yet since coming to Coos Bay (as well as elsewhere), I have heard the question of real estate prices disposed of in a sentence by newcomers who hadn't waited to "get their sea legs"; by old timers who don't know anything about prices in Medford or Redmond or Portland or Port Orford; by men who never owned any real estate; by professional men who are really supposed to put in a whole lot of time studying other things.

ELKS WILL MEET.

Every member of Marshfield Lodge No. 1160, B. P. O. E., is requested to be present at Wednesday night's meeting as business of importance is to come up. So, brothers, be there. GEO. GOODRUM, Sec.

He was about twenty five years old and of Swedish descent. So far as known he had no relatives in this section. There have been two or three typhoid cases at Beaver Hill lately.

Story Untrue.—Arthur Demarest who was employed at the city hall as engineer if the fire department while Frank Garrison was confined in the city jail there, says that he is confident that there is absolutely no truth in Garrison's statement of threats being made against him by Marahal Carter and J. E. Graham. Mr. Demarest said he was within a short distance of the cell everytime Carter or Graham were around and he certainly would have heard the threats if they had been made as Garrison alleged.

Annual Appropriation.—The $40,000 appropriation for Coos Bay included in the estimate of the Secretary of the War Department for river and harbor work next year, is the sum provided in the plans adopted for the bar and channel dredging at the last session of congress. This is for annual maintenance. It does not have any effect on the efforts to be made to secure another large appropriation for bar improvement.
