CONTRIBUTIONS concerning social happenings, intended for publication in the society department of The Times, must be submitted to the editor not later than 6 o'clock p. m. Friday of each week. Exceptions will be allowed only in cases where events occur later than the time mentioned.

HIS CHOICE.
I am acquainted very well
With divers maidens fair;
They seem to weave a wondrous spell—
No man could fail to care
For each of them if he but knew
How 'twould his heart rejoice!
I like them all—of course I do—
But still, I have my choice!

Cordelia's written, so they say,
"Best sellers" two or three.
And Mabel signs herself "B. A.,"
And Phyllis signs "M. D.,"
Fair Kate the path of suffrage walks,
While Sylvia studies germs,
And I'm enthralled when Doris talks
In scientific terms.

I like them all, these girls I know,
Their deeds and titles, too.
I find the lot congenial, though
Each has her "mission" true.
Cordelia, Phyllis and the rest
Quite set my brain awliri;
But simple Sallie suits me best,
Because she's just a girl!

Mrs. E. K. Jones was hostess to the Bridge Club Wednesday afternoon. Cards were preceded by a dainty luncheon. First prize was won by Mrs. J. W. Bennett, and second prize by Mrs. Wm. Horsfall, Jr. Besides the club members, Mrs. Jones had as guests Mrs. J. V. Smeaton, Mrs. R. M. Jennings, Mrs. Eugene O'Connell and Mrs. Herbert Lockhart. The club will not meet again until the Wednesday following Christmas when Mrs. Horsfall will probably entertain the club.

The Minnie-Wis Club was entertained Friday afternoon, November 25, by Mrs. E. Kelly. The afternoon was pleasantly spent in a social way following which refreshments were served. Mrs. D. A. Jones assisting the hostess. Besides the members of the club, the Misses George, Mrs. Dresser, Miss Francis Frase and Mrs. Earl Berry were guests of the club. The date and place of the next meeting will be announced later.

Mrs. John LaChapelle of South Marshfield, who recently underwent an operation for appendicitis at Mercy hospital is getting along fine and will be able to return home in a few days.

Mrs. L. J. Simpson of North Bend left today for Portland where she will visit friends for awhile and will later go to Hoquiam, Wash., to spend Christmas with her sister and mother. Mr. Simpson will join her there later.

Mrs. Geo. W. Langford of Stockton, Cal., who has been spending several weeks as the guest of her sister, Mrs. C. M. Byler, at North Bend, and with other relatives and friends on the Bay, will leave for home next week.

Mrs. E. Mingus was hostess to few friends at sewing and cards last Tuesday evening. Among her guests were Mrs. C. K. Perry, Mrs. I. S. Kaufman, Miss Elizabeth Kaufman, Mrs. M. C. Maloney, Mrs. R. K. Booth, Mrs. J. T. McCormac, Miss Mamie Mahoney, Mrs. Elizabeth Adams, Miss Jessie Chase, Mrs. G. A. Bennett, Miss Mable Clare Millis and Miss Nellie Tower.

Miss Marion Horsfall, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Wm. Horsfall, celebrated her eighth birthday recently by entertaining twenty-five little folk at her home. Various juvenile games followed by sumptuous refreshments made the day one that the little ones will not forget in a long time.

The Chaminade Club met this week with Mrs. Wm. H. Horsfall, Jr., at her home. The program included papers by Mrs. J. V. Smeaton on "Bach" and Mrs. Beatrice Walter on "Handel" besides the regular rehearsal. The club is now working on the program for the concert to be given by it December 14 at the Masonic Opera House. Mrs. May Dearborn-Schwab, the lyric-soprano, who appeared here before under the auspices of the club will be the soloist of this one also. She will arrive here December 13 and has sent Mrs. Horsfall, the director of the club, her program which includes German, English and Italian numbers as well as English songs.

Mrs. C. M. Byler and Mrs. L. J. Simpson were hostesses at one of the most elaborate as well as most delightful bridge parties of the season last Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Simpson in North Bend. The beautiful Simpson home was made more attractive than ever by the special decorations, a red and green color scheme being carried out. Greens and potted plants and cut flowers added to the beauty of the rooms. During the afternoon, punch was served and at the close a sumptuous dinner was enjoyed. The favors were miniature turkeys filled
