OREGON—Rain tonight and Sunday.

Is Better.—Roy Norton of Sumner, who has been seriously ill of pneumonia, is reported improving.

Dr. Dix Better.—Dr. Geo. Dix is reported to be much improved today, making as rapid progress as could be anticipated.

Son is ill.—Mrs. A. H. Eddy left this week for the East in response to a message announcing her son was very ill there.

Nann Smith in.—The Nann Smith arrived today from San Francisco and will probably get out Monday. C. A. Smith, who has been spending some time here, expects to leave on her.

Name It Grand.—Robert Marsden Jr., who is arranging to open a moving picture show in the quarters vacated by the Chamber of Commerce, has decided to call the new playhouse "The Grand." He will leave soon for Portland to arrange for it.

Repair Ferry.—Capt. Alex Hall expects to take the ferry Transit off the Marshfield Eastside run Tuesday for a few days to give her the annual overhauling, repairing and painting. She will be put back on as quickly as possible, probably in a few days.

Hear Wireless Calls.—The Marshfield Station of the United Wireless heard the distress calls of the Steamship Northwestern which was wrecked in Puget Sound Thursday night. The atmosphere was just right and this station heard the calls and the response from the steamship "Teen" which went to the rescue.

Prepare For Holidays.—Postmaster Curtis is preparing for the holiday rush in the postoffice. Miss Edith McLachlan has taken a position as an assistant in the office during the holidays. As all offices throughout the country will be rushed at Christmas time, the public desiring to get their gifts through on time should mail them early.

Visits at Bandon.—Rev. Robt. E. Browning leaves on Monday morning Bandon where he has been visiting Archdeacon and Mrs. Horsfall. Mr. Browning leaves on Monday morning for Gardiner where he will hold services in the Episcopal church.

Personal Notes

JOHN R. SMITH of North Bend, is a Marshfield business visitor today

W. P. SCHEFFELE and wife of Eastside, are guests of J. G. Bano at Bandon.

JOHN FENGLIO of Bandon, passed through here today en route to Everett, Wash., where he will make his home.

CAPT. ERNST returned this week from a trip to California and a visit at the Lew Pray home at Springfield, Oregon.

North Bend News

Mrs. W. H. Piper is visiting here from North Coos River.

Henry Truman, who has been ill at North Bend Heights, is much better.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Russell of North Coos River, visited relatives here yesterday.

Mrs. Bert Peterson and son, Sidney, who have been visiting here for a few weeks, have returned to their home in Gardiner.

Rev. E. R. Backman is expected here tomorrow. It is possible he may remain as pastor of the North Bend Presbyterian church.

The Methodist Episcopal Ladies Aid Society will hold a bazar and supper, December 10th, in the Vignara Building on Sherman avenue.

Dr. Geo. Hollister and Mrs. Hollister and Dr. Ingram, of Marshfield, who left in a private conveyance for Roseburg, were detained in Brewster Valley for a day or two on account of high water.

The auction sale held by the Ladies' Aid Society of North Bend Lutheran Church, last Saturday evening, was quite successful. The committee in charge had done diligent preparation work, and all the members of the society and also others had given hearty support. The several articles donated by Mrs. Olivia Edman of Marshfield attracted considerable attention and brought a good income. Mr. Strommen, as auctioneer, did fine work as usual. The net income was close to $80.00.

SAYS LOCAL ROADS WORST

Inspector Says Road From Roseburg to Marshfield is a Hummer.

PORTLAND, Ore., Dec. 3.—Cities and towns served by "star route" mail deliveries in Oregon may be cut off because of poor roads. The winter season has advanced to the point where many roads are now almost impassable and mail carriers are sending in their annual batch of complaints. Unless better roads are provided for mail carriers, it was intimated in the postoffice inspector's office, the government may adopt a system applied to cities—that no deliveries of mail shall be made to districts that do not provide sidewalks, street lights, street names and numbers.

G. W. Prior, who has the contract for carrying the mails between Oakland and Stephens, wrote a letter to the United States Marshal, which found its way to the postoffice inspectors, in which he charged that the road had been made impassable by the Sutherlin Land & Water Company digging a ditch and throwing all the dirt on top of the road.

The letter brought up the old complaint about the two roads from Roseburg to Myrtle Point and Marshfield. These roads are so bad that the contract for carrying the mails was raised from $14,000 to $29,000 at the last award. The delivery of mail over these roads requires the service of 75 horses and 23 to 24 men, when the roads are good.

"These two roads, for the distance and the size of the cities they connect, are the worst in the civilized world," said one of the inspectors. "I do not base this assertion on my personal knowledge of the roads, but I have been over them with people from all parts of the world, and without exception they say they are the worst they ever saw. Coos county has done a great deal of work to better them, but Douglas county does very little. Coos county has spent about $25,000 on the roads and Douglas county about $10,000. I have walked over the roads, I have ridden over them in a rig and by stage and I never saw the like, winter or summer. In the winter time they are next to impassable.

"It is certainly up to the people to provide roads that may be traveled if they want mail. It is not the duty of the government to make the roads but to deliver mail where provided. There are five Presidential postoffices served by those two roads, each office paying a salary of $1,000, and there is no excuse for such conditions. Two to 4,000 pounds of mail a day are hauled over the roads and the people who are dependent upon such an amount of mail should certainly try to do something with the roads."

ALONG THE WATERFRONT.

The Alliance had not arrived in at 4 o'clock this afternoon, having been delayed by a rough bar on the Columbia yesterday. She will probably cross in late this evening.

The M. F. Plant is undergoing repairs at the United Engineering Works in San Francisco and will probably not sail for Coos Bay again for a few days.

Capt. Olson of the Nann Smith, who arrived in today after a good trip, denies that there was any race between the Nann Smith and the Redondo the last trip down. Furthermore, he says the Nann Smith beat the Redondo in by fully fifteen minutes. He made the run down in thirty-seven hours, two hours slower than he has previously made it in.
