BORN

FINELL—To Mr. and Mrs. H. Finell, January 15th, a son. Mother and child are doing nicely.

Plans Building.—L. Amadon is planning to erect a store building in Bay Park.

Funeral Services.—Rev. Browning conducted funeral services over the remains of Wm. N. Taylor who was drowned near Smith mill recently. The deceased who was 33 years of age has a mother and father and sister living in England and a brother in Africa.

Back On Gleaner.—Capt. N. J. Cornwall, who returned a few days ago from an extended visit with his family at Berkeley and has resumed command of the tug Gleaner of Gardiner which has been in charge of Capt. Jas Magee during Capt. Cornwall's absence.

Is Improving.—L. E. Bacoek, the gas maker at the Oregon Power company's plant who was injured yesterday, is recuperating rapidly at Mercy hospital. He was burned and blackened about the face and eyes principally but no permanent defects are anticipated to result.

Goes to Eureka.—E. J. Antell, editor of the Finnish American of New York, who has been spending a week here, will go to Eureka on the next Alliance to address the Finnish society here. He is greatly pleased with Coos Bay and the welcome accorded him by his people in this section. Last Saturday night, he addressed the local Finnish society on conditions in Finland now, the plans of his paper and on conditions of the Finnish people in America. He was introduced by C. J. Hillstrom and following the program, a banquet was enjoyed and also musical numbers by the new Finnish band.

For Delegate.—Ned C. Kelly of Coquille is in Marshfield today conferring with Dr. A. L. Houseworth regarding the interests of the Modern Woodmen of America in this county. The principal matter up now is the selection of a delegate to the state camp from Coos county and to the meeting of the Head Camp at Buffalo next summer from the State Camp. A number of local Woodmen are anxious that the Coos county camps should be represented at the Head Camp this year and so far Dr. Houseworth has been the principal one brought forth for the place.

NORTH BEND NEWS.

There will be a meeting of the Mothers' and Teachers' club at the Central School building, Friday at 3 p. m. Rev. McLeod will deliver the address. Subject "The Queen and her Jewels." There will be vocal and instrumental solos. All members are urged to be present, as there is important business to be transacted.—Mrs. C. A. McKellips, president.

Personal Notes

CAL WRIGHT, deputy game warden, has returned from a trip to Gardiner and that section.

GEO. BEALE, who was down from Coos River today reports a slight rise in the river this morning.

MISS MAHONEY is spending a few days at the home of Mrs. Carl Smedburg on Catching Inlet.

JOHN D. GOSS is expected home tomorrow from Portland and Salem where he has been on business the past ten days.

GRACIE FARRIN, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. N. Farrin, who has been quite ill, is reported improving.

W. E. HOAGLAND's friends will be pleased to learn that he has recovered from his recent illness and is again able to be about.

CHARLES FENSLER writes from the San Francisco hospital that he is improving rapidly and soon hopes to be able to return to his home on Coos Bay.

PAT. FLANAGAN is assisting in the Coos Bay Water company's office, relieving Miss Mamie Mahoney who will take an extended vacation for the benefit of her health.

OLE EVENSON was in the city today on business. He says he will repair and remodel his Ferndale house that was recently damaged by fire as soon as he can secure an adjustment of the insurance.

L. T. DEMENT of the Flanagan & Bennett bank in Myrtle Point arrived in the city yesterday and will be Tom Bennett's guest for a week. A Coos River hunting trip will be one of the features of his visit.

GEO. H. TERRY of the McConologue Logging company who came in today, reports that there are no indications of a freshet on Coos River despite the heavy rain and snow. Coos River has raised only a little.

E. C. PADLOCK, the Baker & Hamilton Coos Bay representative, has returned from a holiday visit in San Francisco where he attended a reunion of the firm's representative. He returned overland and reports a very pleasant and quick trip—not.

SHERIFF W. W. GAGE, who is here from Coquille on business, reports that he located the third member of the alleged bogus check gang at Bandon but there was no evidence against him, he not having participated in the profits of their operations. Crawford, or whatever his name may be is over six six feet and weighs about 240 pounds and is only 26 years old.

PROSPECTS FOR OIL.

The Miocene Oil and Gas Co.'s well on Bear creek is now down about 900 feet and they have struck a large quantity of oily substance which runs from the drill bit as crude oil would do; however, the substance is odorless, and is beyond question an excellent grade of paraffine, which is a good indication that oil in quantities will follow. The drillers are still working in sandstone, intermingled with some shale, and the drilling is moving on at as rapid a rate as possible.—Bandon Recorder.

BIG CHICKEN DINNER 50 CTS. O'CONNELL BUILDING. SATURDAY EVENING, JANUARY 21, 5:30 to 8 o'clock for the benefit of the Episcopal church.

LUCKY IMITATION.

An Experience With the Russian Autocrat Marshal Gourko.

Marshal Gourko, the famous Russian general, was a terrible autocrat. On one occasion an impersonator of celebrated men was performing at a theater in Odessa. One evening he received a mysterious message, which read, "Study General Gourko." In Russia it is better not to inquire into matters that one does not understand, and so the artist spent an hour in privately impersonating the autocratic Russian. Just as the evening performance was about to commence an order of arrest signed by Gourko was presented to the impersonator, and without explanation he was led through the streets to the marshal's palace and into an apartment where the terrible man was seated. "They tell me that you impersonate celebrated men," he roared. "Impersonate me!" Giving a hasty look at Gourko, the performer turned to the mirror to "make up." It was an anxious time, for if the marshal should take exception to the representation he had unlimited power to inflict punishment. The impersonator dragged himself together and turned to the marshal a copy of his own face and overbearing manner. Gourko burst into a roar of laughter, and the dangerous moment was over.

EELS IN JAPAN.

The Restaurant Cook Catches Alive the Fish the Patron Selects.

Entering a Japanese restaurant, a guest who wishes broiled eels and rice is led to a tank of squirming fresh water eels and bidden to point out the object of his preference, says a writer in the Delinquent. The cook, who stands by, selects the wriggling victim of his choice, strikes its head smartly upon a wooden block and, squatting by it, grasps the creature's neck, inserts a knife in the left side of the vertebrae and dexterously runs it down to the tail, then, rapidly applying his instrument to the other side of the backbone, repeats the process, leaving the eel split open.

Then, chopping the flattened eel into three inch lengths, the pieces are plunged into boiling water to make the skin tender, long bamboo splints used as skewers are thrust through them, and they are then placed on rods over glowing charcoal and broiled brown, being plunged from time to time into a vessel that contains old soy of the color and consistency of molasses. These preparations concluded, the steaming eels again are drained and placed in red lacquer boxes with rice and set before the customer.

He Got His.

A cynical old bachelor who firmly believes that all women have something to say on all subjects recently asked a female friend: "Well, madam, what do you hold on this question of female suffrage?" To which the lady responded calmly: "Sir, I hold my tongue."

Soaked.

"What time is it?"
 "I don't know."
 "Isn't your watch going?"
 "Worse—it's gone."—Cleveland Leader.
