Let Us Talk It Over

Usually people insist on knowing all about what they eat and drink but they can't find out much about the medicine they take. When the manufacturers won't tell what is in it—and they generally won't—no one else knows.

Yet you have a right to know exactly what you are taking, and you can when you use the ARCH FAMILY REMEDIES. For we are willing and anxious for the people who use THE ARCH FAMILY REMEDIES to know all about them, to know that each Remedy is composed of the best medicinal substances known in medicine. The guarantee under which each ARCH REMEDY is sold is an earnest of the faith the manufacturers have in their remedies. The Remedies that are always the best. Insist on knowing what is in the medicine you take.

DR. McCORMAC IS INTERVIEWED

Well-Known Coos Bay Man Who Is Recuperating at Honolulu Boosts.

Copies of the Pacific Commercial Advertiser of Honolulu received here yesterday contain the following which will be of interest here:

"Pin your faith on Coos Bay, Oregon, and spend your vacations in Hawaii," is the new motto of Dr. J. T. McCormac of Marshfield, Oregon, who is paying his first visit to the Paradise of the Pacific.

Doctor McCormac is a guest at the Macdonald. He came here for his health, and although he has been here but for about six weeks, he already declares he has been much benefited. He expects to remain for two or three months longer.

"I feel very much at home in Honolulu," declared the doctor this morning, in describing his experiences, "for I have already found three old Coos Bay citizens whom I have known for years very well. They are Hugh and Jim Coke and J. Lando. I guess you have captured them for good, but they were once good Coos Bay citizens."

Doctor McCormac is president of the Marshfield Chamber of Commerce, having just been elected to his fourth term of office. Of necessity, therefore, he is the best kind of a booster for Oregon, and especially for his section of Oregon, which is on Coos Bay, in Coos county, some two hundred miles south of Astoria. But the doctor is also enamored of Hawaii, and especially of Honolulu.

"I came here for my health, and I am already greatly improved," said he. "I was suffering from rheumatism, and although I don't know that I ever heard that the Islands were recommended for that malady, I certainly have experienced great benefit from the change. Your climate is about as nearly perfect as I can well imagine."

"I am also interested in a number of the institutions here, especially your public schools, the Royal Hawaiian Band and the Bishop Museum. I have spent a good deal of time lately taking photographs of schools and the pupils attending them. These I am sending back home, where I know they will be of much interest to our educators. I have also made the acquaintance of Captain Berger, who has been kind enough to furnish me with the scores of quite a number of Hawaiian songs, including that most beautiful selection 'Aloha Oe.' This I am sending to the superintendent of our schools, asking him to have our school children learn it as part of their work. I also hope that a number of other songs may be introduced into our schools in the same way. Of the band music, I am sending quite a selection to our bandmaster—for Coos Bay has a band."

Doctor McCormac has also collected quite a bit of Hawaiian literature, including a number of books by Doctor Brigham and other Hawaiian writers, promotion committee literature, etc., which he is sending to the Marshfield public library.

Doctor McCormac talked interestingly concerning his particular section of Oregon. "We have a splendid harbor," said he, "of a good many times the area of Honolulu Harbor. It is perfectly landlocked and some day will be of great commercial importance. Oregon is destined to become one of the great manufacturing states of the West."

if not of the entire country, while its immense agricultural possibilities are just beginning to be developed. It is only a matter of time until we will be connected by railroad with the rest of the state, and then, with our superior seaport advantages, we are certain to become one of the important manufacturing centers of the Pacific coast.

"Just at present Marshfield, my home town, is but one of several towns on Coos Bay, which very shortly will be combined under one charter. The three which will be first brought together are Marshfield, North Bend and Empire. Their combined population is about ten thousand. There are important coal deposits on the bay, one mine of which has been supplying fuel for more than fifty years. The coal is used mostly for domestic purposes.

"Our chamber of commerce of which I have the honor to be president, has the distinction of having as its secretary a woman—Miss Violet Henderson. I think this is the only commercial body in the West with a woman holding a similar position, if not in the entire country, and, moreover, it would be hard to find a more active secretary of a chamber of commerce anywhere.

"I have been sending a great deal of your promotion committee literature back to my friends, and I expect to see a number of them here on the excursion from Portland, which is coming down by the steamship Queen on February 1."

Doctor McCormac will be here until after the Washington's Birthday Floral Parade, and declares that this will not be his last visit to Hawaii.

THE WEATHER.

(By Associated Press.)

OREGON, Jan. 21.—Fair tonight and Sunday except light rain or snow in northwest; southerly winds.

LOCAL TEMPERATURE REPORT.

For twenty-four hours ending at 4:43 p. m., Jan. 20, by Mrs. Mings, special government meteorological observer:

Maximum . . . . . 47

Minimum . . . . . 31

At 4:43 p. m. . . . . 39

Precipitation . . . . . 26

Wind—Northwest; clear.

Exhibit Apples.—P. M. Hall-Lewis has arranged a very attractive display of Coos Bay apples at the Marshfield Chamber of Commerce that is attracting much attention and favorable comments.

Store Opens.—The Woolen Mill Store which has been closed on account of the death of Mrs. J. L. Bowman, the proprietor, at Portland, opened again this morning and will resume business as usual.

To Raise Salary.—A petition requesting the Oregon legislature to increase the salary of the Coos county judge from $1,000 to $1,600 per year is being circulated here and is being liberally signed. The county judge has to pay all his expenses and with the growth of the county business, the salary of $1,000 per annum is generally regarded as very inadequate.

Personal Notes

DR. M. V. FORREST was in from Beaver Hill today on business.

THOS. M. NELSON of Bandon, was a business visitor in the city yesterday.

T. H. MEHL and Owen Knowlton of Coquille are registered at the Chandler.

MRS. AUGUST CARLSON at the C. A. Smith general office quite recovered from a siege of sickness.

MISS REGINA MATSON left on the Breakwater for Portland where she will take a position as a stenographer.

JOHN F. MATTSON and Fred Stone of Catching Inlet were in Marshfield yesterday bringing down a scow load of nice baled hay.

ARCHIE JOHNSON left today for Portland on business and to pick up some of the latest gossip in baseball circles for the present year.

MRS. S. A. YOAKAM is in receipt of the pleasing news that her aunt Mrs. S. W. Crane of Harrison, Ida., is improving from a serious attack of illness.

A. J. MENDEL is in receipt of a letter from Chas. Fensler in which he states he expects to return in a couple of weeks and resume his old place in the Hub.

HENRY DAY, steward at the Chandler, left today for Boise, Idaho, where he takes a similar position in the leading hotel. He was accompanied by Mrs. Day.

I. S. KAUFMAN, who is home from an extended business visit in San Francisco, reports an optimistic feeling in business circles there and a general improvement in financial conditions which is expected to continue to grow better with the opening up of spring business.

JOHN ALDEN SEABURY, former editor and publisher of the Bandon Eagle, with his wife and children passed through Marshfield today en route to Spokane, Wash., where he has accepted a position on the editorial staff of the Spokane Chronicle. He and his family were passengers on the Breakwater.

Rainfall Heavy.—According to the official records kept by Mrs. E. Mings, the total rainfall from September 1, 1910, until this morning was 38.14 inches, about 3.02 inches more than the average for that period for the last nine years.

Train Gets Through.—The Coquille river is rapidly returning to its normal stage, the train being able to get through from Coquille to Myrtle Point yesterday afternoon. Water was over the track in a few places but not sufficiently to bother the train.

Mother Is Dead.—W. F. Harmon has just received a telegram apprising him of the death of his mother which occurred at Watsburg, Wash. The funeral was held Friday. Owing to the wires being down on account of the storm, the message did not reach Mr. Harmon at Coquille until too late for him to leave to attend the funeral. Mrs. Harmon was known to a number in this section and intense regret is felt over her demise.

GOOD PROFIT IN CHICKENS

Mrs. J. H. Price of Allegany Makes $134 From 100 Birds In a Year.

That there is good profit in the chicken industry in this section is shown by the experience of Mrs. J. H. Price of Allegany who netted $134.98 from a flock of 100 chickens last year, besides supplying her family. She looks after the chickens merely as a sideline. In a letter to The Times, she says:

"Thinking it might be of interest to some, I will give a few facts on my raising of poultry last year.

"I started with about a hundred hens. I kept no account of eggs or chickens used on table nor of empty feed sacks sold. Here is the monthly account of expenses and income:

Expense.	Revenue.
January . . . . . $20.55	$10.00
February . . . . . 27.25	5.20
March . . . . . 11.15	25.16
April . . . . . 11.20	24.67
May . . . . . 14.85	24.74
June . . . . . 25.75	22.08
July . . . . . 14.00	17.15
August . . . . . 24.00	47.49
September . . . . . 18.50	40.32
October . . . . . 16.00	21.80
November . . . . . 10.00	21.15
December . . . . . 19.50	87.97
Feed for year . . . . . $212.75
Receipts . . . . . 347.73
Profit . . . . . $134.98

"I had an incubator and raised about three hundred and fifty chickens. I sold the eggs and chickens at the local market price. While this is not big money from handling chickens, I consider the experience worth more than last year's gain in money I still have a hundred chickens of the S. C. R. I. Reds and consider I have a good strain.

North Bend News

Kruse and Banks have been apprised that Chas. Dean, owner of the gasoline schooner Oskosh which was built here a year ago, will be here shortly to close a contract for the construction of a sister ship.

P. N. Reberg has taken a position to represent Dunham, Carrigan & Hayden company in Coos county.

Geo. F. Reynolds leaves today for Oregon City to make his home. His family will join him there later.

J. O. Anderson and wife and children arrived here from Rapid City, S. D., to make their home. Mr. Anderson is a brother of Mrs. J. G. Horn.

A. H. Derbyshire has just received word of the death of his father, Wm. H. Derbyshire of Middleborough, Yorkshire, England.

The North Bend Commercial club has decided to endeavor to have the Coos county court establish a free public ferry and open up a through road from Glasgow to Templeton and the North Inlet country.
