THE RECALL OF GILL.

MAYOR H. C. GILL, of Seattle, has been recalled from office by an overwhelming vote in that city; and the credit of the thing is awarded to the women voters of Washington in that balliwick, a phase of the situation that goes far to reconcile very many anti-suffragists to the enfranchisement of the gentler sex; though it is known for a certainty that the recall would have been perfected handsomely without them in this instance, the credit alluded to being principally for the extraordinary influence exercised by the good women of the city in determining the thorough-going action of the men. All of which is fair and just and satisfactory.

Once more the virtue of the recall has been clearly and savingly expressed in a place, at a time, and under circumstances, that make it peculiarly impressive. While Mr. Gill was elected by an almost triumphant majority to the mayoralty of Seattle, he was unwise enough to look upon that success as a sort of sign and signal that he was free to do as he chose in the administrative policies of the city and he made it known early in the game that Seattle was one of the wide-open cities of the Pacific coast country, making appointments and starting courses that confirmed the statement and taking a "free-lance" stand as to his responsibility that at once drew upon his head the suspicion and disgust of the decent people of the metropolis.

He laughed in their faces when the recall was suggested and has continued to treat the threat with derision and contempt during the months of his office-holding. Now he knows what it all meant, and is not only a discredited public official but a citizen of far less importance than when he was in private life before.

The example is worth the deepest consideration of every man of character and substance as a citizen, everywhere and is to be applicable; the time must come when the mere suggestion of the recall was operate to cleanse and amend the policies and records of many an office and force the officers who hold debatable views of public service to abandon them or prepare for ouster.

The lesson of Seattle will not be forgotten on this coast for many a long day, and we shall be glad if its effect shall be noticeable at all points where there is room for it; it will not hurt anyone who is rendering honest and honorable service, and while it hovers threateningly over the heads of the hosts of incumbents throughout the Pacific states, it need not be feared except in the rarest and rawest instances. It is one of those processes which is unlikely to be used except with discrimination and then only in cases of the most aggravating and indisputable public outrage.

WITH THE TOAST AND TEA

GOOD EVENING.

SELF DENIAL.
Use your money as you see fit, but always remember that the highest service we can render to our Maker is to help others who are less fortunate. It may take some self denial to do this, but what good can be accomplished without self denial? —John D. Rockefeller.

Glittering Opportunity.
Notice how the chances come a-buzzing by. Making bold advances With flirtatious eyes— Mining stock in plenty Warranted to earn Maybe ten or twenty —On an early turn;

Apple orchards glowing. Even as their crop. At the chance for showing How to get on top— Straight as the doing —Of an easy sum — If the one pursuing — To their arms will come—

Chance to take a flier On a sea of wheat For a floating buyer — On the anxious coast That must keep on rising Till you're way on top With a gain surprising— If it doesn't drop.

Whether is the topic Of their pleasant chat, Almost philanthropic. Often more than that. And you pause to wonder, Seeing all are sure. Why, oh, why in thunder Any one is poor!

NOTHING but hypocrisy answers when the person is about who insists upon doing us a favor that we don't want done.

As a matter of choice the average man would take a toothache before he would go to an evening party.

The small boy isn't apt to be late to dinner when mother has made his kind of pie.

The young mind prefers brevity to brilliancy in preachers.

A woman never fully enjoys a thimble party unless she has a startling piece of news to tell.

A man who has lost money on the election will hear it referred to should he be so undiplomatic as to growl about household expenses.

Have faith in yourself, but don't forget that faith has been defined as belief in a thing you know isn't so.

There is this difference between charity and reform—charity begins at home and reform begins on the other fellow.

The hobo should be perfectly happy. He doesn't pay taxes and he seems to be unattached.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength in building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.
