"DAY LETTER" RATE.

Western Union Makes Another Reduction in Rates.

Manager Schetter of the Marshfield office of the Western Union has received the following self-explanatory notice relative to a "day letter" rate that is to be started by the company March 1:

"On March 1st the Western Union will inaugurate a day letter service between all Western Union offices in the United States. This will be extended to the Western Union offices in Canada as early as arrangements can be made. Efforts will also be made to have connecting lines adopt a similar service on 'other lines.' Until this is accomplished full 'other line' tolls must be collected. Day letters will be accepted at any hour for delivery upon receipt at destination but will be secondary to regular day messages in the order of transmission and delivery. Code language will not be accepted, at these rates. Day letters may be filed by telephone or will be collected on call in the usual way. Special day letter blanks printed in blue will be distributed shortly.

Until received regular day blanks stamped "day letter" may be used. Day message envelopes may also be used for delivery. The printed conditions on the new blanks will reserve the right to make telephone delivery of "day letters." The full paid ten-word message will take precedence in transmission and delivery over the "day letter" but the latter will receive a reasonable, prompt service. The rates for the "day letter" will be one and one-half times the night letter rate for fifty words and one-fifth of the initial charge for each additional ten words or fraction thereof. Example: "Day letter" rate, Seattle to Chicago, fifty words, 75 cents. 1 1/2 equals $1.13. Each additional ten words one-fifth of $1.13 or 23 cents.

AT THE THEATRE.

Tuesday night will mark the opening of the Royal Theatre by Harry Hollingsworth and Company in a 3-act military comedy drama "The Deserter."

The story deals with a young northern soldier who is branded a deserter, and how a woman hides him, in the guise of a servant, and saves him from being shot until the President's pardon arrives.

Mr. Hollingsworth will be seen as the young northern soldier and Miss Lindsay Driscoll will be seen as the woman who saves him and the other members will be seen to good advantage.

The company will be seen here Tuesday and then play the surrounding towns returning here on Saturday and Sunday.

Ill Luck.

Her face was her fortune. It made you feel sad. For, gazing, you felt that her fortune was bad.

Too Sudden.

"Smithers said the speaker at the men's meeting today told them to go home and greet their wives with a kind, cheerful word." "Smithers wouldn't dare do that." "Why?" "His wife has a weak heart."

NOTICE.

THE WEATHER.

(By Associated Press.) OREGON, Feb. 27.—Fair to night and Tuesday with occasional rain or snow in southwest.

Postpone Social.—The social which the Knights of Columbus had planned to give at their hall tonight, has been indefinitely postponed.

Goes to Portland.—Francis H. Clarke, president of the Coos Bay and Boise Railway, left on the Alliance yesterday for Portland on business connected with it.

Holds Court.—Judge John S. Coke today is holding an adjourned session of the circuit court at Coquille to hear some matters that were postponed at the regular term of court.

Send Views.—The Marshfield Chamber of Commerce has a number of Coos Bay views taken to be used by the Hill and Harriman Railway systems in advertising this section through moving picture exhibitions.

Council Tonight.—The Marshfield city council will meet this evening to take up various city matters. The North Front street improvement and grade will probably be one of the matters to come up.

Seeks Relative.—Marshal Carter is looking for another missing relative. Mrs. E. Ling of 4301 East Frederick avenue, Spokane, wants him to find E. Ling, who is supposed to be in this section. He has not found any trace of him yet.

Work On Road.—A small force of men under Mr. Barnes, former marshal in North Bend, is improving that part of the proposed North Bend Marshfield waterfront roadway along the Simpson Lumber company's property.

Talk Cannery.—A meeting of a sub-committee of the executive committee of the Marshfield Chamber of Commerce and P. M. Hall-Lewis, president of the Coos Bay Fruit Growers association is to be held this afternoon to discuss the fruit cannery project.

Season Closes.—The open season for all shore and wading birds closes March 1, tomorrow. Mud hens and ducks cannot be shot after tomorrow without breaking the law. Game Warden Cal. Wright asks that the sportsmen of this section give their usual cooperation in seeing that the game law is enforced.

Change in Band.—Owing to his private business interests taking up so much of his time and the fact that he expects to be absent from the Bay considerable of the time for the next several months, J. Albert Matson has resigned as manager of the Coos Bay Naval Reserve Band. Fred Wilson has been elected to succeed him and he and Director Fenton are planning for a number of concerts and excursions to be given by the organization in the early spring and summer.

Trouble Over Salary.—Harry Hollingsworth and other members of the Bernell stock company who left that organization to play independent Saturday night, attached the receipts of the show. Constable Cox got about $27. Their claims of salary, etc., amount to $106. Manager Bernell alleges the claims are not valid and will contest them in Justice Pennoek's court.

Buys Auto.—J. L. Koontz has purchased a White Steamer auto in San Francisco that arrived on the Redondo today.

Decorate House.—Friends of Harry Folsom and Miss Jottie Watson, who are to be married within a few days, have decorated their future home in great shape. They are to occupy the house on North Second street, just north of the O'Connell flat building and today all kinds of signs and decorations mark the future home of the "Newly-weds."

Reduces Appropriation.—Mayor Straw today received word that Gov. West had permitted the bill providing for the organization of the Oregon Naval Reserves to stand on agreement that only $10,000 of the $25,000 for its support for the two years would be used. This will handicap the organization but it is believed that it can be kept together for that amount.

Finds Fire.—Nightwatch Bishop of the Merchant's patrol last night discovered a blaze in the refuse back of the C. A. Johnson furniture store. It was just getting under headway but by prompt work Mr. Bishop and another man succeeded in extinguishing it before serious damage was done. Had it not been for the timely discovery by the nightwatch, the blaze would have probably been a bad one.

Personal Notes

IF I WERE CARNEGIE

If only I were Carnegie, With coin to give away, I'd hang up money prizes for The things we need today. I'd give a million to the man Who would invent a scheme Whereby the railway would be built And not be just a dream.

I'd give a heap of money for A fountain pen, I think, That one could fill and not appear As though he'd bathed in ink. I'd hire somebody to invent A keyhole with a light For use when I come home from lodge At 10 o'clock at night.

I'm sure I'd give a million to The man who would devise A flannel undershirt that would When washed, not shrink in size. And when he had invented that I'd make him doubly rich If he'd denaturize the stuff And cure it of its itch.

If only I were Carnegie, With coin to give away, I'd offer money to the man Or woman any day Who'd banish all the knockers And make them forever stay While the rest would "get together And boost for old Coos Bay.
