A TRAVELER IN HONOLULU

HONOLULU, Hawaii, Feb. 18.—I heard about "liquid sunshine" long before we got to Honolulu and had an idea it was something like the Oregon mist we have at home. I know all about it now. Of course, when any unusually bad weather occurs anywhere (except on Coos Bay) you are always informed that it is the worst they've seen for 50 years—we were told so, too. We had several spots of sunshine during our stay in Honolulu, but the liquid sunshine is a chestnut. It rained hard every day and sometimes for three days' running. One day the street cars from our hotel to the center of town had to go through 10 inches of water for a quarter of a mile. I got so saturated that the liquid had to leak out somewhere, so I composed the following lines and posted them up on the hotel bulletin board:

At Honolulu City, in Oahu's sunny isle,
 They talk of "liquid sunshine"—it surely makes me smile!
 The poets say it's liquid, from the feathery clouds and sun.
 But I know the poet's fancy is strictly on the bum.
 It's something liquid torrents—unadulterated rain,
 And the liquid comes so often, it creates a liquid pain.
 Their speech is liquid vowels; their songs are liquid, too;
 The "poi" they all get fat on is just like liquid glue.
 Now, 39 days I've been here, enjoying this liquid fun,
 So I'm building an ark
 In which to embark,
 And get out of this liquid sun.

There are, however, some very solid things to be said in favor of Honolulu and the entire Sandwich Island group.

On account of its location on the line between the tropics and the temperate zone the climate is uncommonly uniform and does not vary more than 10 degrees during the different seasons. In fact, any desired temperature may be obtained by either staying below in the level valley or ascending the hills, which attain an altitude of 1500 feet within six miles of the city.

To show you what a mixture of races there are at present on these islands, I have gone to some trouble to get some data. The population of the entire eight islands is 170,000, and this total is divided in the following manner: Hawaiians, 32,000; part Hawaiians, 8485; Japanese, 25,000; Chinese, 22,000; Portuguese, 15,000; American, 4,000; British, 3,000; the remainder being German, French and Norwegians. The question naturally arises, what will happen in the next decade, and what will the harvest be?

CHAMINADE CONCERT SCORES BIG SUCCESS

Splendid Program Finely Rendered and Enthusiastically Received Last Night.

The Chaminade club scored another marked musical success in their annual concert at the Masonic Opera house last evening. The attendance while fair was not as large as the excellent program merited.

The stage was beautifully set with a profusion of green foliage and made a handsome picture with the white gowned chorus and its background of emerald.

Every number on the program was encored and some of the singers were recalled three times.

The Saturday Times will contain a more extended review of the concert.

Real Tragedy.

"Mrs. Browne was very rude to an overdressed old woman she met on a car the other day."

"I know the story. The old woman turned out to be Matilda's very rich aunt, and now she's going to give all her money to a hospital for decrepit dogs."

"Nothing of the sort. In fact, it's worse. The old woman was the Browne's new cook, and now they haven't any."—Stray Stories.

They Didn't Help.

"Did the audience weep while I was singing?" asked the temperamental soprano.

"No," replied the music director; "you were making that noise all by yourself."—Washington Star.

Got 'Em Already.

An advertisement says every home should have a talking machine. Nothing doing with us. We have one, and all of our married male friends inform us they are supplied too. —Houston Post.

Which is Different.

Lawyer (slightly deaf) — You say your husband lately left you a widow? Matronly Caller—No, sir. I said he left me for a widow!—Chicago Tribune.

Stone of the Marshfield Divisions of the Oregon Naval Reserve has resigned his position as night clerk at The Chandler and will leave on the Redondo for San Francisco where he expects to go to sea for awhile. The appointments of the game wardens hold "until unrevoked" and consequently they retain their powers until formally apprised of the change.

Favorably Received.—The Bush & Lane piano used at the Chaminade concert last evening was made the object of much favorable comment by Coos Bay music lovers because of its exquisite tone.
