THIRTY ARE INJURED BY NEW YORK BOMB THROWER

Disastrous Explosion Occurs In Italian Quarter On East Side.

THREAT CARRIED OUT BY EXTORTION GANG

Crime Follows Letters Demanding Money From Well-to-Do Italian.

(By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times.)

NEW YORK, N. Y., Mar. 2.—A dynamite bomb was exploded in the heart of the Italian colony on the east side early today and resulted in the injury of thirty persons and the breaking of windows within a radius of three blocks.

The greater portion of the front of a five-story tenement, at 307 East Forty-fifth street was blown off. A barber and a grocer doing business on the first floor are reputed to be well to do and received a demand for money the past month accompanied by threats of death. The letters were so terrifying that lately one of the mast in the doorway of his store with a loaded shot gun across his knees. He did not detect the dynamites today and the first thing he knew of it was when the explosion tore out the front of the store and threw him to the ground.

AFTER COFFEE TRUST.

House Asks Attorney General For Information.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Mar. 2.—The House today agreed to the privileged resolution in the judiciary committee asking the attorney general if not incompatible with public interest to report to the House what investigation has been made to ascertain whether any foreign government or subordinate state had entered into a coffee monopoly conspiracy.

SAYS RESERVE IS IN DANGER

Gifford Pinchot Claims Recent Legislation Menaces National Forests.

(By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Mar. 2.—Complete destruction of the national forests according to Gifford Pinchot, former chief forester and president of the National Conservation association, will follow the passage of the agricultural appropriation bill as amended by Heyburn of Idaho yesterday. The statement was made today at the convention of the National Wholesale Lumber Dealers association. The amendment to which Pinchot objected provides for all land on which there is growing not more than four thousand feet of merchantable timber in contiguous areas of not less than 160 acres shall be excluded from the national forests.

Heyburn had this amendment adopted as a compromise after a still more stringent one aimed at the forest service had been rejected. For years the senator has been an implacable enemy of the forest service which he maintains is extravagant and abusive in its power, Pinchot says.

OBJECT TO WORK.

North Bend Property Owners Claim Street Is "Warped."

The North Bend city council at a meeting this week postponed the acceptance of Montana avenue near Pony Inlet which has been graded by Contractor C. J. Van Zille. The abutting property owners claim that the street has "warped" during the improvement, being moved four feet to one side of where it should be. Van Zille claims he followed the city engineer's stakes. The council inspected it this week in a body and will act on it later.

The only other matter of importance that came up was the ordering of the replacement of fifteen arc lights in different parts of town by sixteen candle power lamps. This was to reduce expense.

SPECIAL VOTE IN NORTH BEND

Patrons of Schools There to Determine Whether Supt. Raab Remains.

At a conference of some members of the North Bend school board there last evening, it was determined that a special school election should be called there for Saturday, March 11, to determine whether Supt. A. G. Raab shall be retained as superintendent of the North Bend schools. The members of the board, it is understood, have agreed that they shall let the patrons of the schools decide the question. No official action has been taken on it, though.

According to gossip in North Bend, F. W. Stevens and S. S. Jennings of the school board have been opposed to retaining Supt. Raab while Director L. F. Falkenstein has favored retaining him.

Mr. Raab, it is understood, has been desirous of remaining in North Bend if the patrons of the schools believe him worthy of it and consequently when rumors came to him that two of the board were desirous of displacing him, friends of his put it up to the members of the board to let the patrons of the schools decide it. This they agreed to last night.

Mr. Raab has been largely instrumental in the rapid development of the North Bend schools and the talk of opposition to him will come as a surprise to many.

LADY IN WAITING IS MURDERED

Princess Ditrigone, Young and Beautiful, Slain By Italian Cavalry Officer In Rome Today.

(By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times.)

ROME, Italy, Mar. 2.—The Princess Ditrigone, a young and beautiful lady in waiting to Queen Helena was murdered today in a small hotel in this city by Lieutenant Paterno, an officer of the Italian cavalry in Rome. The causes of the murder and the details of the story that led up to it thus far are unknown or are suppressed.

The authorities, however, state the lieutenant strangled the princess and then shot her.

The ladies in waiting on Queen Helena include the Countess Quilla Trigona who unquestionably is the murdered woman. This is the only lady in waiting named Trigona. The gentlemen in waiting to the queen includes Count Romulato Trigona Del Principi Di Sante EH.

KINNEY CLAIMS OVER MILLION

Creditors File Vast Amount of Claims In His Bankruptcy Cases.

In the Coos Bay Rapid Transit Co., a corporation bankrupt, the following persons were appointed appraisers for its property, J. R. Lightner, H. C. Diers and W. P. Murphy.

Chas. I. Reigard, attorney for creditors, has a statement claiming a combined liability against the two corporations, the Coos Bay Rapid Transit Co., and the Belt Line Railroad Co., and L. D. Kinney, personally, in an amount exceeding $1,683,690.00. Other claims are being filed with Mr. Reigard in Marshfield and F. C. Hollister in North Bend.

CROW INDIAN LAND CLOSED

House Turns Down Bill For Opening Montana Reservation to Settlers.

(By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Mar. 2.—The House by a vote of 146 to 134 failed today to pass a bill to open 1,500,000 acres of surplus lands in the Crow Indian reservation in Montana. The bill had passed the Senate.

The House agreed today to the conference report on the Indian appropriation bill which has been in dispute between the two Houses for some time. The Senate withdrew its amendment indirectly recognizing attorneys' claims amounting to $90,000 against the Coalville Indians and the House accepted the Senate's amendment authorizing the payment of certain claims of traders against individual Indians.

RAILROAD MEN CONFER.

President Lovett and Southern Pacific Men Meet.

SANTA BARBARA, Cal., Mar. 2.—In a special train, Judge Lovett, president of the Harriman system, accompanied by the biggest railroad men in the West, also E. O. McCormick, James Stillman, E. E. Calvin, Julius Kruttschnitt and William Herrin, arrived here to confer with E. P. Ripley, president of the Atchafalpa, Topeka and Santa Fe system, at Ripley's home. The belief is general that questions momentous to the coast will be discussed and that the policies of the two systems for the next year will be settled. It is also believed that the Southern Pacific's policy concerning the $25,000,000 bond issue for the Northwest will be settled, that plans for the traffic to the 1915 Panama Exposition will be outlined and an attitude toward the recent decision of the Interstate Commerce Commission prohibiting increased freight rates will be decided on.

Taft Will Call Extra Session Unless Canadian Reciprocity Is Approved.

(By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Mar. 2.—Word of an informal but decidedly of an indefinite character that nothing but approval by the Senate of the Canadian reciprocity agreement could avert an extra session congress reached the capitol today. It was said on authority more than credible that falling in such action by the Senate, the call for an extra session to begin earlier than April 4 would be sent to congress by President Taft before adjournment of the present session.

MOVE DREDGE ABOUT APRIL 1

Oregon Will Begin Improvement of Channel Opposite Pony Inlet.

The dredge Oregon will move to the shoals at the mouths of North Inlet and Pony Inlet about April 1 and begin cutting down those barriers to channel navigation. It is hoped to have the worst part of them removed by June 1, when the dredge goes to the Coquille to do some work there.

At present, the Oregon is completing the work on the first cut through the channel opposite North Bend. The gang of men building bulkhead to retain the dredgings there are having difficulty to get the work through in time for the dredge.

Nearly all of the bulkheaded section has now been filled and unless the Simpsons or other owners of property on the tide flat between the business section of North Bend and the wharf north of the Breakwater office, the Oregon will have to pump the dredgings out on the mudflat on the eastside of the channel. Mayor Simpson who is expected back this week will probably arrange for this.

The high tide and wind has done considerable damage to the big bulkhead which the Simpsons have put in near the mouth of Pony Inlet to retain the dredgings there. Many of the planks have been torn off and much repair work will have to be done.

The Oregon on its return from Bandon will begin work on the channel near the C. A. Smith mill and it is likely that the owners of the lowlands near the Libby bunkers will bulkhead that district to retain the dredgings then.

Definite arrangements have not yet been made about filling North Front street.

GREAT DEPTH MOTHER LOVE

Delicate Woman Toys With Life to Gain Heart's Desire.

WALLACE, Ida., Mar. 2.—The beauty of mother love, even as it affects the lower order of animals, has been the subject of poem and song, yet it remains for delicate Mrs. W. G. Gates of Wallace, Idaho, to demonstrate to what lengths a woman can go in search of the sweetest, noblest and most sacred office of her sex—that of motherhood.

While the cry of race suicide is ringing throughout the civilized world Mrs. Gates has gone down into the valley of the shadow of death in search of the most beautiful pledge of her love. Realizing that she had been denied by nature the privilege of bearing offspring, she summoned her physician and told him she was willing to lay her life in the balance against the chance of being able to hold to her bosom the babe for which her heart was yearning. She had read of that wonderful operation through which Caesar was ushered into the light of day, and being told that this was per only chance of maternity and that this was the one chance, with 99 against her, she called for the surgeon's knife.

Mother Recovering.

Now, resting on a snowy bed in Hope hospital, at Wallace, with the little cherub for which she offered to barter her life nestling against her shoulder, its chubby hands mauling and kneading her cheeks, Mrs. Gates wears a serene smile of contentment. Her very courage is pulling her through the shadows, and according to her physicians she will soon be able to sit and rock her babe and sing the lullabys of her dreams.

As if by harmonious coincidence, the babe was born on St. Valentine's day. It is a girl and has been named Maxine Valentine Gates. "Maxine" for the beautiful Maxine Elliott, and "Valentine" as a commemoration of the tragic birth.

Beautiful Instinct of Motherhood.

Never has the instinct of motherhood, the wild, passionate yearning for a child been more strongly or beautifully portrayed than in the history of this little girl. Never, perhaps, since the world began has the tender, loving heart of a woman longed more for a baby, a live, breathing, laughing, crying baby, than longed the heart of Mrs. Gates. And yet her desire was little greater than her husband's. Both were fond of children in an extraordinary degree. Loving the children of their friends, they realized how much greater would be their love of their own offspring, flesh of their flesh and blood of their blood. They were married about six years ago, and their fifth wedding anniversary had come and passed before they dared hope that their dream of a visit from the kindly stork would ever be realized.

Mr. and Mrs. Gates had been married a little more than two years when the first child was born. It never lived to see the light of the world. A year and a half later the mother was again called upon to undergo woman's severest ordeal, with practically the same result. The little boy lived but a few hours, and after its spirit had taken its flight the mother's life hung for days in the balance. She was partly paralyzed, and the doctors told her that her life's dream was hopeless; they said she could never be a mother and that another ordeal would result in the most serious consequences, affecting her health if, indeed, it did not end in her death.

Wonderful Courage.

The little woman refused to believe (Continued on page 4.)

President Taft Said to Have Informed Conference Late Today of It.

IT WILL BE CALLED BEFORE APRIL FOURTH

Filibuster Prevents Vote On Permanent Tariff Board Measure Today.

(By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Mar. 2.—A conference was held at the White House late today regarding an extra session and one of the republican leaders after the meeting said, "The die is cast, Mr. Taft has decided there must be an extra session and that he will call it earlier than April 4."

FILIBUSTER IN SENATE.

Action of Tariff Board Is Delayed By Democrats.

(By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Mar. 2.—By a vote of 55 to 23 the Senate voted to take up the tariff board bill a half hour after convening at eleven o'clock today. Only one Republican, Bulkley of Connecticut voted against the motion made by Hale. Senators Chamberlain, Clarke of Arkansas, Newland and Owen, democrats, voted with the republicans.

At 1:55, Bankhead, democrat, moved that the debate on the tariff board bill be suspended and that the postoffice appropriation bill be taken up. The motion lost by almost a party vote of 24 to 56. Heyburn voted with the democrats and Newlands, Owen, Chamberlain and Davis with the republicans.

While a definite filibuster was in progress on the permanent tariff board bill by the democrats in the Senate this afternoon, they made it clear they would continue the fight against the measure for an indefinite period.

The republicans apparently are determined to let all appropriation bills wait until the action is had on the tariff board bill.
