THE CONQUEROR.

It's easy to laugh when the skies are blue And the sun is shining bright; Yes, easy to laugh when your friends are true And there's happiness in sight; But when Hope has fled and the skies are gray, And the friends of the past have turned away, Ah, then indeed it's a hero's feat To conjure a smile in the face of defeat.

It's easy to laugh when the storm is o'er And your ship is safe in port; Yes, easy to laugh when you're on the shore Secure from the tempest's sport; But when wild waves wash o'er the storm-swept deck And your gallant ship is a battered wreck, Ah, that is the time when it's well worth while To look in the face of defeat with a smile.

It's easy to laugh when the battle's fought And you know that the victory's won; Yes, easy to laugh when the prize you sought Is yours when the race is run; But here's to the man who can laugh when the blast Of adversity blows, he will conquer at last. For the hardest man in the world to beat Is the man who can laugh in the face of defeat. —Emil Carl Aurin.

Don't swat the fly; exclude him. Imitation is the merest smattering.

It isn't necessary to give the devil his due; he'll collect it. A man needs a case of "have to" before he really makes good.

Most of the unemployed belong to a society for the prevention of work.

Keep your troubles to yourself; they'll die from lack of nourishment.

No woman would live happily if she couldn't say, "I told you so," once in a while.

The reason some men die early is because they make life a series of emergencies.

One thing you can safely count on is that nobody will be complaining of a shortage of files in July.

One of the best ways to get your wife's confidence is to take her advice whenever it doesn't interfere with business.

The man who begins planning his vacation in May is likely to run out of enthusiasm before the middle of August.

Another cheering thought suggests itself when we remember that few ailments result from indulgence in strawberry shortcake.

"Don't lie to your wife," urges one of these writers who makes a specialty of advice. Try this the next time she asks your opinion of her new hat.

The old Good-Timer—he's with us every day; He sees the light a-breakin' in the saddest sky of gray; He's always in the country where the happy people stay, And listens to the clear call of the morning.

The old Good-Timer—he's welcome everywhere; The summer prospect's pleasing, the winter-world is fair; And in the far, last country—we're sure to meet him there, Rising to the clear call of the Morning.

The fishing industry, according to figures from the census bureau, is on the decline. Evidently the stories told by fishermen don't make much of an impression on government statisticians.

"Natives of Dutch Guinea," says the New York Telegram, "attach no importance to women. When a man tires of his wife he takes her to the river and drowns her." The New York method of swapping her for some other man's wife may be a bit more bothersome, but certainly it's more refined.

The lark rose up to meet the sun, And he warbled forth his lay; The farmer's son took down his gun, And at him blazed away.

The honey bee came buzzing along And drained a thousand flowers or more; A robin red breast saw the bee, And his troubles soon were o'er.

The busy ant rose early, too, His labors to begin; A hungry sparrow flew that way, And took his ant-ship in.

Oh, birds and bees and ants be wise— In proverbs take no stock, But, like us, refuse to rise Till half-past eight o'clock. DORSEY KREITZER.

"CENTRAL" SPEAKS.

Call me not with scornful numbers, Like "Farmers Seven-four-o-three," Snapped out in disdainful accents—"Hurry! What's the matter? Can't you see?"

Would you like to sit here with a Telephone strapped on your head All day long to answer summons? Wouldn't you wish that you were dead?

When I say the line is busy, Honestly, sometimes it is. Why do you get so indignant When you hear the buzzer's whiz? And wrong numbers—naturally Sometimes I am at a loss; But, in fact, give them mostly To subscribers who are cross.

Be polite. It will not hurt you, Even though I'm in a box. I am human—although hidden— And am sensitive to knocks.

Be polite. Do unto others As you'd have them do to you. It's a good rule to observe—and You'll get better service, too.

LOCAL GLEANINGS

THE WEATHER.

(By Associated Press.) OREGON, May 2.—Showers tonight and Wednesday.

LOCAL TEMPERATURE REPORT.

For twenty-four hours ending at 4:43 p. m., May 1, by Mrs. E. MINGUS, special government meteorological observer: Maximum, 57 Minimum, 42 At 4:43 p. m., 52 Precipitation, .26 Wind Southwest; rain.

BORN.

BUSH—To Mr. and Mrs. Ray Bush of Bunker Hill, a son, today, May 2. Mother and child are doing nicely.

Gets Auto.—Ward M. Blake yesterday received a fine new Hudson auto from Portland.

Give Farewell.—The Royal Neighbors will give a farewell reception this evening at the Finnish hall for Mrs. W. S. Brown who is leaving on the 13th for Pendleton, Oregon.

Fine Road.—Chas. D. Lash has returned from a trip to the Loon Lake country and says that the people of the Loon Lake road district and supervisor Fred Deckert are entitled to much praise for the fine piece of road they have built from Allegany to Loon Lake.

Kinney Hearing Delayed.—Another continuance was granted in the Major Kinney bankruptcy hearing by Referee McKnight this morning until 1 o'clock Wednesday. The trusteeship negotiations have not yet been closed up and the postponement of the hearing was to permit definite developments in that.

Hospital Closed.—The Home Hospital in Marshfield has been temporarily closed owing to the illness of Mrs. Grace Gould-Woodruff, the matron, who is ill of typhoid fever at the home of her sister, Mrs. Richmond, in Coquille. She is reported getting along as well as could be expected, considering the severity of her siege of the fever.

Break Into School.—Last Saturday night, some mischievous boys broke into the Marshfield high school building and left the place in confusion. No particular damage was done. However, Superintendent Tiedgen and the school board are very anxious to apprehend the culprits and make an example of them and a reward may be offered. The offense is a serious one.

Is Injured.—John Ferguson, son of Duncan Ferguson, had a narrow escape from serious injury Sunday. He was riding a horse to Empire. On the grade this side of Empire, W. U. Douglas and Rudolph Lackstrom had attempted to pass each other in their autos and the result was a blockade. Ferguson tried to get his horse to walk the edge of the grade but the animal jumped and fell. Ferguson was somewhat bruised but was not seriously hurt. He finally caught his horse and returned home.

Pupils Visit Bakery.—The senior class in cookery and their teacher, Miss Kaufman, made two visits to the Coos Bay Bakery last week to witness the process of bread-making on a large scale. The whole process was observed from the mixing of the ingredients to the baking of the loaves. On the first visit, the mixing of the ingredients and the kneading of the dough by electrical machinery was shown. Later, the class returned to observe the process of baking. The members of the party were greatly pleased with the kindness and courtesy shown them by every one connected with the work of the bakery.

Expect Autos.—J. H. Edwards and A. N. Denny, who are to establish an auto and boat service between Drain and Coos Bay via Allegany and Scottsburg, expect three autos on the Breakwater today. They think the roads will permit the service to begin just as soon as the autos will arrive. Their schedule calls for trips that will permit a party leaving Marshfield in the morning to catch the afternoon train the same day for Portland.

Personal Notes

W. F. HARMON and wife of Coquille are Marshfield visitors.

MAJOR TOWER of Empire is a Marshfield visitor today.

GEO. W. ARTIS of North Bend was in Marshfield today on business.

P. E. LARSON of Allegany was a Marshfield business visitor today.

GEORGE BAINES and family have returned from an outing at Ten Mile.

DR. J. W. INGRAM returned today from a trip to Portland and Spokane.

WM. BONEBRAKE and wife of Catching Inlet are Marshfield visitors today.

MRS. H. H. McPHERSON returned yesterday from an extended stay in San Francisco.

HILLIS SHORT came in from Ten Mile today. He reports that fishing is pretty good there now.

MRS. E. S. BARGELT and her brother, Ralph Matson, returned today on the Breakwater from Portland.

PETER CLAUSEN, who is now near Mount Shasta in California for his health, writes that he is recuperating slowly.

GEO. ROTNOR, manager of the Woolen Mill Store, left yesterday overland for Portland on a combined business and pleasure visit. He will meet a representative of Hart, Schaffner & Mark to inspect and purchase the fall line of clothes of this firm.

LOUIS SUPLEE, cashier of the Flanagan & Bennett Bank at Myrtle Point, who recently underwent an operation at Mercy hospital for appendicitis, is slowly recuperating. It will probably be some days before he will be able to leave the hospital.

When a medicine must be given to young children it should be pleasant to take. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is made from loaf sugar, and the roots used in its preparation give it a flavor similar to maple syrup, making it pleasant to take. It has no superior for colds, croup and whooping cough. For sale by all dealers.
