VERDICT FOR DEFENDANT

Whitmore Denies He Ever Said He Paid Sandberg Money.

After being out about an hour, the jury in the $10,000 damage suit of P. A. Sandberg vs. M. E. Whitmore brought in a verdict for the defendant.

The case occupied all day yesterday and the arguments of the attorneys occupied a night session last evening. The judge made his charge to the jury this morning and they retired about 10:30 and brought in their verdict about an hour later.

M. E. Whitmore's defense was that he never made the statement attributed to him. That he never said he paid Sandberg $350 for accepting certain street contracts and never charged him with grafting. F. S. Dow, Pat Hennessy, and W. P. Murphy testified under oath that they never heard Whitmore make any such statement. Pat Tully testified that he heard Whitmore say something similar but did not know exactly whether he said he paid Sandberg the money or loaned it to him. Frank Frame testified he heard Whitmore say he loaned Sandberg $350 but that was all he heard. H. J. McKeown testified that he did not hear anything in reference to the matter. M. C. Maloney testified to having heard M. E. Whitmore say that he paid Sandberg the money. R. O. Graves testified that he heard Whitmore make the alleged statement. Mr. Whitmore testified that he never said he paid Sandberg money but that he loaned him $350. Sandberg swore that he never borrowed any money from Whitmore and never received any money from him except $3.50 which Whitmore paid him for a map.

MEXICAN ARMISTICE IS BROKEN

Rebel Leader Calls Off Peace Pact Owing to Delays in Peace Negotiations.

ARMISTICE IS BROKEN

(By Associated Press.) EL PASO, Tex., May 6.—At 1:30, Madero announced that while he would not consent to a renewal of the armistice, he would not attack Juarez today. The armistice was officially broken by Madero at one o'clock.

(By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times.)

EL PASO, Tex., May 6.—Judge Carbajal, the Federal envoy, this morning declared he had not received a full answer as yet to the proposition submitted by Francisco I. Madero through his peace commissioners on Thursday he ascribed the delay to interruptions in telegraphic facilities, informing Madero to that effect and suggesting the armistice which expired at noon today be extended.

Madero first said he would agree to the extension. The Madero camp is confident an announcement of the intention of Diaz would be made before the day is over and is joyfully anticipating it.

Judge Carbajal denied the report that he received today messages which in any way referred to the possibility of President Diaz resigning. He received a long message, however, which referred to points which he had

MOVE NEAR JUAREZ.

Rebel Troops Swing in Near Mexican Town.

(By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times.) EL PASO, Tex., May 6.—The armistice expired at noon and the Insurrecto outposts moved closer to Juarez as if making ready for an attack. The answer from General Navarro was said to be on its way to the Madero headquarters by a messenger.

General Blanco, Colonel Garibaldi and Colonel Villa have stationed themselves at the head of their commands ready to receive word from General Pascual Orozco at headquarters. A detachment of Federals has left Juarez scouting for any Insurrecto advances.

MESSAGE IS RECEIVED.

Lengthy Instructions Are Sent to Mexican Peace Envoy.

(By Associated Press to the Coos Bay Times.)

EL PASO, Tex., May 6.—At one o'clock a long cipher message from Minister Limantour addressed to Senator Braniff reached here. It is inferred it contains private assurances as to the attitude of the government. Braniff was at the Madero headquarters three miles from here when the dispatch came. It probably will not reach him for at least an hour but the fact it is on its way, may deter the rebel leaders from taking action.

MANY WILL GO ON EXCURSION

Band Excursion to Bandon Tomorrow Will Carry Big Crowd.

With fine weather promised and a good time assured, it is expected that a record breaking crowd will participate in the Coos Bay Naval Reserve Band's excursion from Marshfield to Bandon tomorrow. The train will leave here at 8 o'clock in the morning and returning the boat will leave Bandon about 4 o'clock so that the excursionists will get home at a good hour.

The excursion is given by the band to clean up some old debts contracted in the efforts of the organization to place it on a self-sustaining basis. Consequently, the excursion will be patronized by those wishing to help the band as well as those desiring a fine excursion trip at a very nominal cost.

The Bandon Commercial club today notified Manager Wilson of the band that they had everything in readiness to show the visitors a good time. The club will serve coffee and sandwiches and arrange details of entertainment while there.

It will be dead low water at 2 o'clock tomorrow at Bandon so that the visitors will have an unusual opportunity to enjoy the beach and agate gathering.

The band boys will be along and Manager Wilson says that they will see that perfect order is maintained on the trip.

A round trip rate of $1.50 has been made for grownups while children between eight and fourteen years can go for $1.00 and children under eight years can go free when accompanied by their parents.

UNITED STATES IS WATCHING MEXICAN SITUATION CLOSELY

EVANS GIVEN HIS FREEDOM

Noted California Character Coming to Coos Bay to Live Now.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 6.—The San Francisco Examiner prints the following Sacramento dispatch:

"Clad in brown corduroys, wearing a soft blue shirt and a broad gray sombrero, Chris Evans, the famous bandit of 1893, walked out May 1 through the granite gate of Folsom prison into the free crisp air of the early May morning.

There was a woman at the gate. She nearly rushed him off his feet as she threw her arms around him and embraced him eagerly. The woman was his daughter, Mrs. Winifred Burrell, who had interceded with Governor after Governor before she finally secured his parole.

A moment later Chris Evans was enjoying the first automobile ride of his life. Mrs. Burrell had thus "kidnaped" him to protect him from the curious eyes of a throng of spectators who were watching at the Sacramento depot and who expected him to alight from the morning train. Chris Evans' first experience at motoring was more than a ride.

Chris Evans' first day in the world at large was full of adventures. They were the commonplace of life, though in marked contrast to his bandit exploits of seventeen years ago. But they were none the less interesting to the man who had spent 6,233 days under the machine guns that are always trained upon the prison yard at Folsom. Although he is more than sixty-four years old, Chris Evans acted as if he were a school boy off on the first day of his vacation.

Going to Join Wife.

Chris was not thinking of the past. He was talking of the trip he will soon make to join his wife, and his daughter, Mrs. Norris Jensen of Marshfield, Oregon.

Every one was eager to give him news, but Chris seemed to know what had been going on. A magazine article, printed two years ago, was mentioned. Chris said he had read it.

"Why, I'm up-to-date," he said, "I've been reading."

Then his daughter spoke of Joaquin Miller, and of a visit she had paid to him when he was sick.

"I'm going to see Joaquin Miller before I go to Portland," said Chris. "You know him, then?"

"Sure, I know him. Why, Joaquin Miller interviewed me for 'The Examiner' when I was fighting the possum down in the Visalia country," said Evans.

Tells of Early Days.

"Doesn't the noise of the street cars and the automobiles bother you," was asked him.

"I never minded noises," he replied. Then he glanced out of the window, into the fast disappearing twilight. When he turned to face the little group he told of the early days on his farm near Visalia and recalled a homely incident of a visit paid by his wife to a neighbor's leaving him with the baby.

"She would tell me to take care of the baby," he said. "But I would read until the baby cried for me to take her up and walk with her. And sometimes the baby would cry for a while before I would realize it. So I don't mind noise."

Evans owes his parole to Governor Johnson's intercession with the board of Prison Directors, and the former bandit feels very grateful to the Governor.

Reports of Rioting in City of Mexico Adds to Apprehension.

OUTBREAK QUELLED BY POLICE QUICKLY

Rumors of Possible Retirement of Diaz—Mexicans Fear Intervention.

(By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 6.—Officials of the administration are watching closely the developments in the situation at Mexico City where Americans are reported to be alarmed for their safety. The only dispatch received by the State Department today on the subject confirmed the press dispatches that some rioting occurred in the capital yesterday but was quelled by the police without much difficulty or losses. An order has been issued, the dispatch added that all shutters on business houses be kept closed.

LONG CABINET MEETING.

No Admission That Diaz Will Resign As Demanded.

(By Associated Press to Coos Bay Times.)

MEXICO CITY, Mexico, May 6.—This city is quiet this morning. The announcement of the government's attitude toward the Rebel demand for the retirement of Diaz is not forthcoming as yet. Although the cabinet meeting which lasted until late into the night may be followed by another today, none of those concerned would say that the president is ready to resign.

The declaration by Diaz of any intention to relinquish office would be the cause of surprise here but the attitude of his ministers make it appear probable that such announcement if determined on would be transmitted to Francisco Madero Jr. before being made public at the capital.

Sensational reports of Diaz's health are in circulation today being based on the postponement of the reception of the Chilean minister which was set for today. That these reports are unfounded was practically admitted and officially the real reason of the postponement was the pressure of business in connection with the peace negotiations. There is some apprehension regarding the attitude of Washington. Recent dispatches from the American capital as interpreted mean that intervention may be considered imperative if the peace negotiations fail.
